BRITISH CHANCELLOR FACES HEAVY TASK OF PROVIDING BILLION AND A HALF POUNDS

In the Budget Brought Down Yesterday Mr. Chamberlain Gives Complete Statement of Finances—To Meet Requirements, on Present Basis of Taxation, He Can Count on 936,000,000 Pounds—Loans Will be Necessary.

London, April 30.—A statement on the government's budget was made to the House of Commons today by Amster Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer. It was his first statement since before the house in that capacity before he was previously having outlined the budget in 1914 and 1916.

The chancellor declared that the expansion of the floating debt could not be allowed to continue indefinitely. There had been no forced issue of currency notes, but the situation of currency was a world-wide proposition at the present time, he added.

The chancellor stated that from April 1, 1918, to November 10, the daily expenditure had been £7,445,000, and since the latter date £6,476,000. The reduction, he said, would have been greater but for the expenditure in connection with demobilization, the payment of £52,000,000 for gratuities, and £13,000,000 for unemployment allowances.

The deficit incurred the internal debt accounted for approximately £6,085,000,000, and the external debt for approximately £1,250,000,000.

REDS GROW BOLDER; FLOOD CITY WITH BOLSHEVIST PLEA

Circulars Distributed at Subways and Many Points Appealing to Workers.

(New York Herald.)
Advocates of Bolshevism and unrest are bolder in their attitude, according to a report received from New York City, where they are distributing circulars at subways and many points appealing to workers.

“Sixty-five per cent of the wealth in America is owned by five per cent of the people. Thirty-five per cent of the wealth of America is owned by ninety-five per cent of the people. Thirty thousand millionaires. Unemployment. Insecurity of existence. Starvation wages. Industrial tyranny. Child labor. Inability to marry. Prostitution. War. Profit to the rich. Death and misery to the workers. Are you for this?”

“America—for the working class of America.”

upon the workers to stop the wheels of industry on May 1, and also mentioned the socialist revolution in Europe. The circular was signed by the “Joint Agitation Committee, Socialist Party.”

The urgent necessity of deporting the disloyal and unpatriotic agitators who are working in this country in the interest of the Bolsheviks is described in a circular written by Gen. Ehridge, a trustee of the American Defence Society, entitled “Labor Has Nothing in Common with Bolshevism.”

“The red flag is in no sense a dominating influence here,” says Mr. Ehridge. “Occasionally in isolated places the scarlet insignia misuses its challenge, but a flag for which generations have battled, a flag which but recently won for itself the highest and most enviable honors is still the immortal flag of the majority. Gradually the truth has been borne in upon us that labor proudly opposes Bolshevism.

“The Bolshevist is really a man without a country. Analysis of him, when the records are all compiled, show that he is a stranger to America, a newcomer, a snake that has crawled through the outer ramparts from a world that either repudiated him or that he himself repudiated.

PROHIBITION VICTORY

HERE “AMAZING” TO BRITISH CLERGYMAN

The Rev. H. W. Greig, Going Home, “Does Not Favor This Method of Regulating Personal Liberty.”

New York, April 30.—The Rev. H. Woodstock Greig, archdeacon of Worcester, England, is not in favor of prohibition, and so expressed himself yesterday just before leaving for home on board the Adriatic for Liverpool. He has spent three months in the United States, studying conditions here.

“There is one thing uppermost in my mind as I leave these shores,” he said, “and that is the ease with which the constitution of the United States was amended to bring about national prohibition. I leave for the other side with the knowledge that England, at least, is going to watch with a great deal of interest the results of this tremendous experiment. I was amazed at the manner in which the amendment was carried through. I am not in favor of this method of regulating personal liberty.”

It is apparent that the war has drawn all Americans closer together, and I thought I saw when I left in 1916, that the people here were 200 more American than when I left in 1916.

Because of an attack of influenza, Mrs. William E. Cory was unable to leave on board the Adriatic, as she had intended.

In the interior of the vessel there were many posters of the Victory Loan to coax subscriptions from the passengers en route to England.

PROBLEM OF GETTING WHEAT CROP TO MARKET BEING CONSIDERED

Canadian Senate Discussing the Question and Taking Every Means to Assist the Farmer in the Marketing of the Coming Crop—Great Outlook for Trade in the European Markets.

Ottawa, April 30.—The problem of getting to market the wheat crop of Canada is now being brought to the attention of the Senate today by Senator Willoughby, after noting the American guarantee of the wheat crop at $2.26, he asked what the Canadian government was doing in connection with the marketing of the coming crop. He did not advocate fixing a price, although the United States had done so for the coming summer, and Great Britain had fixed the price of agricultural products for several years to come. It was not certain that the open market price this fall would not exceed the price fixed for the American crop by the United States government.

“There were indications that the United States would close American channels for the exportation of the Canadian crop, and not by way of retaliation, but in the interest of Canada. Canadian facilities for the shipment of grain should be reserved for the handling of the Canadian crop.”

It was desirable that the Canadian government should make every effort to provide the Canadian farmer with the facilities for getting his crop to the European market this year, and realizing the highest possible price for the crop.

Senator Roche, of Halifax, noted that Senator Willoughby seemed to assume that Canada and the United States would be the only competitors for the wheat market of Europe and that wheat prices could be maintained artificially. He ignored the fact that the consumer would not be willing to pay more for grain artificially stimulated in price, than for any other kind of grain. The United States would not be the only country competing for the British market.

St. James Loughheed, government leader, declared that the government recognized the importance of the problem to which Senator Willoughby had referred. It had been giving special attention to it for some time, assisted by the Trade Commission and special representatives in Europe.

Since the armistice had brought permanent peace near, there should be speedy resumption of normal conditions when the situation would be controlled by the laws of supply and demand. When the price had been fixed last year for the Canadian crop, it was not regarded as low, but rather high, and the farmer secured a good price, and encouraging production. He was glad to say the desired result had been achieved. He did not believe that the European market was a good price. Reports indicated a very large European demand for food, and the government was giving continued study to the situation.

Edison Re-Creations of Anna Case's Exquisite Voice

ANNA CASE stands very high among these great artists whose voices are RE-CREATED by Thomas A. Edison's new art—MUSIC'S RE-CREATION.

MISS CASE has sung in direct comparison with the RE-CREATIONS of her voice on the New Edison, and in no instance could any difference of tone quality or expression be detected between her actual voice and Mr. Edison's RE-CREATION of it.

MISS CASE'S voice has a peculiarly beautiful lyric quality—a quality impossible to reproduce by any method other than the Edison method. Edison RE-CREATIONS conveyed to the music lover not only the fundamental musical tones produced by the artist, but also that indefinable charm that distinguishes one artist from another—in a word, personality.

RE-CREATIONS of Miss Case's voice (a list of which appears below) may be heard only on
