

ILLUSTRATIONS

The home of the Red Gods	(Frontispiece)
	OPPOSITE PAGE
On the trail (from a painting by N. C. Wyeth)		16
The Author doing a little washing on his own account		32
"Mountain on mountain towering high, and a valley in between"		48
One of the mishaps to be expected		64
"Bed in the bush with stars to see"		80
"We may live without friends, we may live without books, but civilized man cannot live without cooks"		104
When you quit the trail for a day's rest		120
In the heat of the day's struggle		144
Nearing a crest and in sight of game		160
A downward journey		176
In midday the shade of the pines is inviting		208
Getting ready for another day of it		224