Over-strength in every part

It pays to buy sturdy, rugged threshing machinery. For it has to stand treatment that ordinary machinery never gets.

The bumping about over rough roads, up hills and down, puts a terrible strain on these heavy machines. If there are weak parts, poor material, defective castings, or careless workmanship, they are bound to break and cause trouble and expense.

It was because White Threshing Machinery had sturdiness and extra strength in every part built into them that they hold such high reputation today.

Aside from their practical simplicity and ease of operation as efficient machines, they have the strength that stands up under strain. Parts that have to meet extra load and strain are made with great over-strength. It has been the one thing we specialized on for years, the building of threshing machinery, and every feature of proven merit is to be found in "The First Quality Line"

The better you understand machinery the more you will admire the White Tractors and Threshers. We want you to examine our machines carefully, compare them point by point with others, and then decide absolutely on the merits of the machine. You are bound to choose "The First Quality Line."
