BE CAREFUL WHAT YOU SAY.

In speaking of a person's faults, Pray, don't forget your own; Remember those in houses glass, Should never throw a stone.
If we have nothing else to do, But talk of those who sin,
'Tis better we commence at home,
And from that point begin.

We have no right to judge a man, Until he's fairly tried;
Should we not like his company,
We know the world is wide.
Some may have faults—and who has not.

The old as well as young;
We may, perhaps, for aught we know,
Have fifty to their one.

I'll tell you of a better plan,
And find it works full well;
To try my own defects to cure, Ere I of other's tell;
And though I sometimes hope to be No worse than some I know, My own shortcomings bid me
The faults of others go.

Then let us all, when we commence To slander friend or foe, Think of the harm one word may do To those we little know; Remember curses sometimes, like Our chicken, "roost at home;" Don't speak of other's faults until We have none of our own.

SEVEN YEARS of suffering relieved in as many days. Corns cause in the aggregate as much suffering as any single disease. It is the magic solvent power of Putnam's Corn Extractor that makes it speedily successful in removing corns. Take no substitute, however highly recommended. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is the best. Sure, safe, and painless.

FAITHFUL FRIENDS.

Many a story is told of the noble St. Bernard having saved travellers while trying to trace their way through blinding snow, or of the gentle Newfoundland plunging into the water to rescue a little child from drowning.
They have watched beside the cradles of babies, and protected households from burglars. The Newfoundland is famed for his affectionate and gentle nature, as manifested to those he loves, but if called upon to protect them he seems changed to the fiercest creature.
One Newfoundland dog, which was the great pet in a household where there were many little people, was given the name of "Danger," because of his watchfulness, not only at night, but in the daytime as well. The home was in a retired country place, and as it was on the water's edge, strangers were often apt to trespass. "Danger" would, perhaps, be lying quietly on the piazza asleep, but the sound of a step on the gravel walk aroused him at once, and if he found it to be that of one whom he did not know, but a supposed intruder, he would spring up with a ferocious growl, and was ready for action, but a word or two from those he knew and loved would calm him at once. Whenever the children went bathing, "Danger" was also on hand, waiting on the beach for them, and he would bring them the sticks which they threw as far away in the river as they could. It seemed as if he dearly loved the water, and would never tire of swimming as long as it pleased his little friends to send him.

Another friend of these little people was a great English mastiff, and although devoted to the children he did not so willingly allow them to pet and caress him. These huge mastiffs are of very ancient English origin, and there is also another species from Thibet.
The dogs are large, powerful creatures, of ferocious natures; they, however, are very fond of their masters, but are not demonstrative.

The Newfoundland dogs are the reverse of the mastiff in disposition, for they are gentle, patient and affectionate in their natures. They are thorough water dogs, and their power for swimming is very great. Besides the large, shaggy dog, with broad, noble head, and gentle, intelligent face, and black and white in colour, is a smaller species, black, with smaller head.

INDISPENSABLE.—"I have used Dr.
Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for summer complaints and have given it to my friends. It gives instant relief when all other remedies fail. I would not be without it in my house." Mrs.
T. Boil, Weidman, Ont.

THE EMPEROR'S FAVOURITE HYMN.

The late Emperor Frederick, of Germany, in the long and heroic struggle with his fatal malady, became so attached to a little hymn, especially appropriate in his case, that it is called his favourite. The words are by Ernest von Millich, a twelve-year-old boy, composed as he lay on his dying bed. The following is a translation:

When the Lord me sorrow sends,
Let me bear it patiently, Lifting up the heart in prayer;
Comfort He will not deny, Therefore let there come what will,
In the Lord my heart is still.

Though the heart is often weak, In despair and all forlorn, When in days of utmost pain,
Not a day of joy will dawn, Tell it; Let there come what will,
In the Lord all pain is still.

So I pray, O Lord my God, That my faith and hope may stand, Then no care I know nor need, Guided ever by Thy hand!
Therefore let there come what will,
In the Lord my heart is still.

A SAD LOSS.—Loss of appetite and the attendant low spirits, dullness and debility, are of very frequent occurrence.
Regulate the bowels and improve circulation and digestion by using Burdock Blood Bitters whenever these symptoms are present.

THREE GOOD LESSONS.

"One of my first lessons," said Mr.
Sturges, the eminent merchant, "was in 1818, when I was eleven years old.
My grandfather had a grand flock of sheep, which were carefully tended during the war of those times. I was the shepherd boy, and my business was to watch the sheep in the fields.
A boy who was more fond of his book than the sheep was sent with me, but left the work to me, while he lay under the trees and read. I did not like that, and finally went to my grandfather and complained of it. I shall never forget the kind smile of the old gentleman as he said.

"Never mind, Jonathan, my boy; if you watch the sheep you will have the sheep."

"What does grandfather mean by that?" I said to myself. I don't expect to have a sheep. I could not exactly make out in my mind what it was, but I had great confidence in him, for he was a judge, and had been in Congress in Washington's time; so I concluded it was all right, and went back contentedly to the sheep. After I got into the field I could not keep his words out of my head. Then I thought of Sunday's lesson; 'Thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things.' I began to see through it: 'Never you mind who neglects his duty; be you faithful, and you will have your reward.'

I received a second lesson soon after I came to New York as a clerk to the late Lyman Reed. A merchant from Ohio who knew me came to buy goods, and said, 'Make yourself so useful that they cannot do without you.' I took his meaning quicker than I did that of my grandfather.

'Well, I worked on these two ideas until Mr. Reed offered me a partnership in the business. The first morning after the partnership was made known, Mr. James Greery, the old tea merchant, called in to con-
