ter it again, and what kind of a blister?

2. I have a pony that got cut with barb wire on the hock joint. It healed up well, but left a hard scab about 1 1/2 of an inch long and 1/2 of an inch wide. This scab breaks off quite often, but does not run. The leg is swollen up a little larger than the other from the hock down. Can you tell me what to do with it, and if it will hurt her for work?

READER.

Ans.—1. You may blister the shrunken muscles again, using cantharides, 4 drams; lard, 2 ounces; rub in well for twenty minutes then tie her so that she cannot rub or bite it. In forty-eight hours wash wash off the blister and smear with vaseline every three days. Put her to work, or give exercise immediately after the blister is off.

2. You cannot do anything for the old barb-wire cut, except the application of vaseline occasionally to keep it soft. You may work her. The exercise will do good.

COLT HAS INJURED STIFLE

Have a spring colt which got kicked on the stifle joint about a month or six weeks ago. Have used Absorbine, but the bunch does not go away, and colt continues to be lame. The bunch is about the size of my fist and is soft.

O. Sask.

Ans.—Apply a good blister to the swelling. If the first blistering has not the desired effect, apply a second one three weeks after the first. First, clip off the hair, then well rub in the blistering ointment for twenty minutes. Tie up his head so that he cannot lie down for forty-eight hours. Then wash off the blister with warm water and soap, and smear with vaseline every three days. For blistering, get powdered cantharides, 2 drams; biniodide of mercury, 2 drams; lard, 3 ounces.

COLLECTING DAMAGE TO STOCK

1. Kindly state what action should be taken to recover value of stock killed on railway.

2. Is a railway company liable for full value of stock killed in herd law district, where right of way is fenced, but cattle-guards removed at beginning of winter.

Sask.

S. J. W.

Ans.—You can make a claim on the company yourself for the full amount of the loss, or employ a solicitor to make the claim for you, or, perhaps, it would be better still for you to lay your claim before the Railway Commission at the first opportunity, or have someone lay the case for you. The law on the subject of injury to stock is very loose, or the matter would not properly come before the commission.

2. Yes; the company is liable for the full value if it can be shown that the loss is blamable upon it. But it may be that it is not compulsory for the company to fence or protect its right of way at the point where the stock was killed. Our law does not compel railway companies to fence unless the adjoining land is settled and enclosed, so it is possible that they may not be legally liable.

PIGS AILING

I have a litter of September pigs. For a time they were doing well, but lately seem affected at the throat. They have difficulty in breathing and eating, and fall fast. I have bedded them with barley straw (bearded.) Would it be that some of the beads are getting lodged in their throats?

W. B.

Ans.—While barley straw is not the best bedding for pigs, because of the danger indicated, it is probable that close confinement, lack of exercise, and constipation, are causes of the ailment. Give laxative food, as bran, oat chop, and roots, and, if necessary, raw linseed oil as a purgative, say half a teacupful to
