Alligator Stories.

The game birds kept by all the principal hoteliers at Tampa Bay make exciting reading for the gentle stranger, in whom the various entries conjure up vivid reminiscences of Indian jungle or African river, where one goes A-swimming in the muddy Nile.

And while there is great excitement in playing a 150-pound tarpon, in netting a big catch of mullet, or in bringing down an Imperial eagle, the sportsman who goes after alligators feels he is really emulating the hunter who roams the jungle laden with tiger skins and elephant tusks, and this thrill can be experienced by anyone who finds his way to Tampa Bay, where alligators are seven, nine, and eleven feet are continually barged.

The belief was long current that the only vulnerable spot in an alligator was the eye, and that a rifle ball would glance from the side of this tropical animal, but a modern rifle ball will penetrate his hide anywhere, though it is not always immediately fatal. Apropos of Florida alligators, here is an amusing record from one of the game books at Tampa Bay. Someone wrote: "Killed the largest alligator seen this year. Found in his stomach a book, a piece of pine, a fisherman's float, and some small fish."

Right under this another sportsman wrote: "Killed a much bigger alligator. Shot the stomach contained a gold watch, ten thousand dollars in Government bonds, and a cord of wood." Not to be outdone, a third hunter wrote: "Shot the biggest alligator ever killed in Florida. In the stomach were found the remains of a steam launch, a lot of old railroad iron, a motor car, and a quantity of melted ice, proving that it existed during the glacial period."

Safe to Say.

For the benefit of those who are at a loss to know just what to say on seeing a new baby for the first time, and who naturally feel that they must say something, we give the following list of expressions, any and all of which are commonly used, there being no patent or copyright in them. Whether you shall offer to kiss the infant depends somewhat on its age and appearance, and the extent to which you are willing to sacrifice yourself in the matter, but the baby's mamma, the baby itself doesn't care a button for your feelings or your kisses, but you are expected to say: "What a pretty little thing!" "Right-eyed baby!" "What lovely, silky hair!" "Looks very like you." "What a little rosy-buddy of a mouth!" "Do let me see his little toes!" "How very well he has been brought up!" "How very little thing understands every word we say." "Oh, what a splendid big boy he is!"

Lee Low's Misapprehension.

Lee Low, a representative of the Chinese consulate in New York, in the course of a conversation recently, spoke of some of the ideas prevalent in his country, as follows:

"In China, it is generally supposed that a man's brain are located in his stomach, and the fatter he is the more his wisdom is deemed assured. Of course, there are many people in China who know that a man's brain are in his head, but they cheerfully assist in maintaining the jolly fiction of corpulent greatness."

"I began to learn English in China when I was 15 years old, under the instruction of Dr. Malcolm of Shanghai. I had begun to study it in secret by myself a year before, but it was too much for my brain."

"The word wind, being used in two senses, gave me as much trouble as anything else. For a long time I was puzzled by the word in English, and America clocks and watches were filled with air to keep them going. I was curious to see this operation of winding the clock, and my disappointment when Dr. Malcolm explained the mystery was very acute."

The Switzerland of America.

The above caption is particularly appropriate to the region that "Highlands of Ontario" known as "The Lake of Bays" district. It is replete with natural beauty and loveliness, and compares some in the most beautiful water stretches and picturesque landscapes for which the locality is becoming so famous with the ever increasing army of tourists. The scenic grandeur of hill and mountain, the placid beauty of the lakes, the lovely rivers, are not surpassed in any country. One thousand feet above sea level. No Hay Fever, absence of flies, splendid speckled trout fishing, and good, bathing and boating assured. Hand-some illustrated descriptive matter giving full particulars can be had for the asking by applying to M. G. Dickson, District Passenger Agent, Toronto.

His Advice.

The story is told of the present Archbishop of Canterbury that, upon a candidate for ordination essaying to read a chapter of the Bible before him to test his elocutionary powers, he was stopped with the abrupt comment, "Ye're insensible!" "But, my lord," said the discomfited youth, "I've read the lesson in a big church, and been told that every word could be heard." "Who told ye a lady? Are ye engaged to her?" The candidate owned the soft impeachment. "Then, don't believe a word she says—until ye're married to her," was the ungallant reply.

The Artist's Little Joke.

"This," said the Eminent Artist, "is my famous study of the Cow in the Clover." "But who is the cow?" we asked, not seeing any of it in the picture. "Oh, the cows have eaten it, you know."

Mrs. Jenkins—I see Mrs. Hoctong is going to have "King Lear" at her next private theatricals. Mrs. Newrich (furious with envy)—Is she? The affected thing, "o you know, I don't believe she's a real king at all."—"Till-Bits."

PRINCESS VIROQUA, M. D.

Endorses Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound After Following Its Record For Years.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Health is the greatest boon bestowed on humanity and therefore anything that can restore lost health is a blessing. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a blessing to State and Nation. It cures her mothers and daughters and makes them well and strong."

PRINCESS VIROQUA.

Practicing Physician and Lecturer.

"For fifteen years I have noted the effect of your Vegetable Compound in curing special diseases of women."

"I know of nothing superior for ovarian trouble, barrenness, and it has prevented hundreds of dangerous operations where physicians claimed it was the only chance to get well. Ulceration and inflammation of the womb has been cured in two or three weeks through its use, and as I find it purely an herbal remedy, I unhesitatingly give it my highest endorsement."

—Fraternally yours, DR. P. VIROQUA, Lansing, Mich.—"50000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine."

If you are ill do not hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. for special advice; it is entirely free.

The little things that we neglect to do seldom remain little. They are like so many acorns. By-and-by we shall walk under their shadow.

"DRINK GRANO, CEREAL COFFEE."

The happiness of your life depends upon the character of your thoughts.

Children Cry for CASTORIA.

A sunny disposition is the very soul of success.

Force of Character is often more pronounced in what is not done than in what is done.

The healthy old man wears his gray hairs like a crown. What if he is three-score and ten if there is still fire in his eye, firmness in his step, command in his voice and wisdom in his counsel? He commands love and respect. Yet how few wear the mantle of age with dignity. Dim eyed, querulous of speech, halting in step, childish in mind, they "drag" themselves on the stage, dragging out the rag end of life in a simple existence. The secret of a healthy old age is a healthy middle age. The man who takes care of his stomach, who keeps his body properly nourished, will find that the body does not fail him in old age. The great value of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery lies in the preservation of the working power of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. From this centre is distributed the nourishment of the whole body, the salt for the blood, the lime for the bones, phosphates for the brain and nerves. A sound stomach means a sound man. A man who keeps his stomach sound by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" will wear the crown of grey hairs as he belts a monarch, with dignity and ease.

The frank confession of a fault emphasizes to ourselves the necessity of overcoming it, and exerts a strong force in that direction.

Interesting Items.

The Gloucester, Mass., fishermen regard Kipling as a hoodoo, as every one of the twenty fishing-boats belonging to their fleet named by him in "Captains Courageous" has gone down at sea, the last two of the 12-fisted boats foundering in the recent big storm off the Massachusetts coast.

Only a little while ago a woman was arrested and taken to the police station for smoking on Broadway, New York. In the dining-room of a New York first-class hotel an engraved card is now placed on each of the tables each evening bearing this inscription: "Gentlemen and ladies wishing to smoke may do so in the gilt room." So the world moves.

For the first time in the history of Paris art exhibitions, photographs have been received as exhibits at the annual Salon. The photographs were submitted by Edward Steichen, a young New Yorker, and are regarded as a great triumph. It is said that the decision to admit photographs almost caused a split in the jury. The pictures were, therefore, entered under the title of engravings.

The experiment is being tried by the New Zealand Telegraph Department of issuing telegrams in typewritten form. The operators have, of course, not only to acquire speed at typewriting, but also to accustom themselves to the clicking of the keys of the typewriter as well as of the telegraph instrument. So far the experiment has worked well—to the receiver of the message it is certainly a great improvement upon manuscript telegrams.

According to the "Pall Mall Gazette," Giescheberg, a German village, has recently been an fête. The occasion was the honoring of a hen which had laid its thousandth egg. Many of the houses were decorated with flags, while in the evening the proprietor of the hen entertained his friends at a supper at which the principal dish was a gigantic omelet. The function was a splendid success, and the health of the hen was drunk with great enthusiasm.

There seems no limit to the variety of uses to which a man-of-war can be put when past her work. Here is the latest. A syndicate of sporting men is being formed to consider a scheme for purchasing the old American ship "Vermont," should the bill for her preservation fail to pass. The idea is to fit her up as a floating boxing-ring, which can be moved out to sea, so that the merry milks of the fancy may be brought off without police interference—"United Service Gazette."

The "search-light telephone" is announced from Washington. The beam from a powerful light has been employed in lieu of a wire, and talking done to the distance of half a mile. The telegraphic account adds that the inventor has not yet taken out his patents. There are several reasons for this. It was in the same city of Washington, twenty years ago, that the ex-senator, Mr. Graham Bell made his famous experiments with what he called his photophone. It is curious that this amazing work is so little known. Dr. Bell talked over a ray of sunlight to a distance of near two miles. A pair of parabolic reflectors served for sender and receiver, and a pair of selenium cells answered to the magnets of an ordinary telephone.

The Kansas City "Journal" alleges Biblical authority for the declaration that the good die young. "Seth," it says, "lived 93 years. Enos lived 90 years, Cainan lived 90 years, Mahalaiah lived 85 years, Jared lived 96 years, Methuselah lived 96 years, and Lemach lived 77 years. Of Enoch, the only good one in the lot, the chapter says: 'And Enoch walked with God, and he was not, for God took him, and all the days of Enoch were 365 years.' Being good, Enoch lived a measly little period of only 365 years, while the others, being given to sin, lived to grow up to manhood. It always seemed strange to us that preachers pay so little attention to the facts of the Bible."

A contract was let last week for carrying Uncle Sam's mail in Alaska by dog-sleds. The successful bidder was Oscar Fish, and his route lies between Eagle and Valdez, a distance of 414 miles. He makes two trips a month, and receives nearly $1,500 a trip, or $30,000 a year. Only 300 pounds are carried per trip, and this is usually made up of letters, few newspapers. Post-Office Department officials say that the sum paid to Fish is very reasonable when it is considered that he makes the trip by dog-sledge, and that he has the most dangerous route of any mail-carrier in the world. He has several times been given up for dead by residents of Valdez and Eagle, but so far he has always managed to reach the end of his journey, although sometimes overdue, and occasionally very much battered up. He has fallen down precipices, got mixed up in avalanches, and has been starved and frost-bitten.
