Shipments abroad have been comparatively light to date, less than half of what they were last year for the same time, and prices have ruled at a figure which leaves a margin of profit to the grower. The control of outlook now is that it will not be possible to crowd the market, and that prices for good fruit will be well sustained. The fruit in this State is extremely large, and is proving even better than it looked notwith standing the large amount of wormy fruit. It now looks as though the structure of the course of Charles of Charles of Charles of the course of the course of the course of the Roman Catholic Church. The bridge has been seven years in constructing; the tower was raised in a few months. The Forth Bridge is over a mile in length, and aithough not so long as the Tay Bridge, which slightly exceeds two miles, dwarfs the latter as regards height and general dimensions. The Forth Bridge has been made sufficiently high to allow the largest vessels, and the supports are as high as St. Paulis. One who heighd with the seeds the structure says the ironclad Dévastation, which was passing under the bridge at the time, looked a perfect midget in comparison.
