

FLOWERS AND FRUIT.

ONTARIO HORTICULTURAL DISPLAY BEATS ALL RECORDS.

Sight of a Continent—Increased Entries Demand Greater Accommodation—Massey Hall is Too Small and Better Facilities Are Called For.

Toronto, Nov. 13.—With entries far in excess of last year's, and the quality of the exhibits showing a corresponding advance, the fourth annual Ontario Horticultural Exhibition, opened in the Massey Hall, may safely be described as the finest collection of fruit, flowers and vegetables ever brought together in Toronto, which, since the shop is the only one of its kind in the Dominion, is equivalent to saying that it is the finest held in Canada. Already, indeed, the exhibition has outgrown the facilities at present available for its accommodation.

The increase in the entries has not been confined to any particular section. All have shared in the advance more or less, several to the extent of 25 per cent., while the quality has also improved in a degree that is remarkable, considering the backward nature of the season. In no department is this advance more pronounced than in the apple classes. Considering the high prices that are being obtained and the fact that shippers are working at high pressure, the quality of apples was scarcely to be looked for, but visitors to the exhibition will be agreeably disappointed. While the standard is perhaps a little lower as regards size, it was the opinion of the experts present at the opening that in color and variety the display has never been surpassed in Toronto. Mr. A. McNeill, chief of the fruit division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, who has had experience of judging in such well-known fruit-growing countries as New Zealand and British Columbia, declared that some of the exhibits were equal to any he had ever seen. In the vegetable section every part of the Province is represented, the entries now being about 450, and in all the classes the quality is excellent, especially celery, cauliflower and onions.

A Transformation Scene.
In the arrangement of the exhibits, particularly in the large hall, exquisite taste has been shown, and the general effect is that of a transformation scene. Banked up in front with a profusion of autumnal pennants and other foliage, and behind with distinct varieties of chrysanthemums of shades set in an artistic framework of palms and ferns, with a dash here and there of calla lilies in bloom, the picture forms a magnificent background, rich in color and admirably balanced. In the display of orchids, probably the best ever shown at the exhibition, and the same remark applies to the chrysanthemums. Among the leading exhibitors and prize-takers in these sections are the Dale estate, Brampton, whose yellow chrysanthemums, particularly the "Mrs. Thirkell" and "Eaton" varieties, are a special feature; Mr. J. McHugh, Montreal, who has been awarded the Italian cup; Mr. H. H. Ronger, Toronto, and Sir Henry Pellatt.

Pot Plants a Feature.
In the centre of the hall are staged the pot plants, and a beautiful combination they make, with tall palms supported on a base of begonias, primulas, cyclamens and chrysanthemums. Here the chief awards have gone to Colonel Sweny, the "Scottish" Seed Company, and Mr. H. H. Ronger, who ranged round on all sides are tables loaded with fruits of various kinds, there are exhibits from no fewer than eleven experimental stations, Burlington showing 100 different varieties, Lake Huron displaying many fine samples of winter apples, with baskets full of 128 kinds, and Stouffville making a feature of the hardy apples. No less remarkable are the regular plate exhibits representing all parts of the Province, and affording an exceptional opportunity of judging twenty varieties of the famous apple.

Fine Display of Apples.
There is the display made by the various counties, a notable feature, which is the fine showing of autumn, where numerous incontestable proof that the climate of Ontario is well adapted to growing districts in the Province.

In the large section the table devoted to the chrysanthemums is worthy of special mention. The development of the canned fruit industry is strikingly illustrated by a most appealing display of jams, jellies and preserves, and an interesting stall is now occupied by Miss E. Sullivan, of Guelph, who shows how apples can be preserved in twenty different forms.

One of the most artistic features of the show is furnished by the decorated dinner tables. The first award in this section has been gained by Mr. J. H. Dunlop, 90 Yonge street, with a decoration of roses arranged with exquisite taste on a table set in a kind of alcove illuminated by candles, adding not a little to the general effect are the floral exhibits dependent from the gallery, the centrepiece consisting of a combination of chrysanthemums and smilax in the form of a scroll.

Opening Ceremony.
The exhibition was formally opened last night by Mr. W. R. Brock in the presence of a large attendance. Mr. J. J. Score, the President of the exhibition, in introducing Mr. Brock pointed out that the show not only enlivened those interested in horticultural pursuits to appreciate what Canada could produce, but also afforded valuable object lessons. The exhibition was the only one of its kind on the continent, and its success was proved by the fact that they had long ago outgrown the capacity of the Massey Hall. He expressed the hope that the city would soon provide a suitable building for the exhibition.

Mr. Brock said the citizens of Toronto ought to feel grateful to those who had exerted themselves to produce a show that could not be seen anywhere else on the continent of America. He endorsed what Mr. Score had said as to the necessity of more suitable accommodation, and suggested that provision should be made in the exhibition grounds. He regarded that exhibition as one of the best advertisements that could be had of Canada.

Hon. Nelson Monteith congratulated the promoters of the exhibition on the excellent quality of the exhibits and, referring to the matter of accommodation, hoped that the Government would be able to extend further help in that direction.

An excellent musical programme has been arranged for each of the five days during which the exhibition is open.

EXPERIMENTAL FRUIT FARM.

An Advisory Committee to Assist in Its Management.

Hon. Nelson Monteith will confer with the fruit men at the Massey Hall show this week concerning the Jordan experimental farm. It is intended to appoint an advisory board in connection with the farm, on which extensive improvements have been made with a view to carrying out the proposed work. Ten miles and a half of drains have been laid, and a half of drains have been laid for one thing.

The demonstration farm in Clergue and Walker townships is also receiving attention, and tenders are being called for clearing 100 acres of the square mile devoted to the farm. It is situated about 450 miles north of Toronto, at a point where the government railway cuts through it in a line almost east and west.

Hon. Mr. Monteith will meet the new factory inspectors to-morrow and their duties will be under consideration. The men may also be selected who are to act as examiners for the stationary engineers.

The body was found among the bushes in Lonsdale gardens this afternoon. She had been killed by cuts with two razors, which lay on the ground alongside her remains. Her body was cut to pieces. A bottle of ink was picked up nearby. The child lived with her parents at Moodyville, and on Saturday she was sent to North Vancouver with her mother. The orders were not filled, and the child was at once searched for. The Provincial police and the whole town searched on Saturday. Sunday, Monday and to-day.

The police have gone to North Vancouver from this city, but so far no arrests have been made.

SEAT FOR EVERYBODY.

New Jersey Street Railway Must Comply With Law.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 11.—In the case of an ordinance passed by the Street Commissioners of Jersey City requiring the New Jersey Street Railway Company during rush hours to operate enough cars from the Pennsylvania and the Erie Railroad terminals, and provide each passenger with a seat, under penalty of $50, the Supreme Court upheld the ordinance.

The court held the ordinance only could be attacked in case of unreasonableness, and that no unreasonable demand had been shown in the case of the Erie terminal. As to the Pennsylvania terminal, the court expressed the opinion that more cars could be run than now are operated.

DUCK SHOOTER WOUNDED.

Russell Aughey Used Rifle to Pull Duck Ashore, When it Went Off.

Niagara Falls, Nov. 12.—Russell Aughey was shot by a rifle in his own hands this morning. Aughey is seventeen years old and was employed at one of the power developing plants. After his night's work he went down into the gorge with a twenty-two calibre rifle to shoot ducks. He killed a duck, but could not reach it, and waited for it to drift ashore. When it came near he took the rifle by the muzzle and reached out with the butt to draw the duck in.

Just then the rifle discharged and the bullet pierced Aughey's abdomen. The young man did not realize the seriousness of the wound, and walked up the long hill before he collapsed. At the Memorial Hospital the surgeons hold out very little hope of his recovery, and Coroner Scott has taken his ante-mortem statement. Aughey is the son of William Aughey, of 1636 Main street.

DEFINES FRANCE'S POSITION.

No Other Power to be Predominant in Morocco.

Faris, Nov. 12.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day a number of interpellations were submitted regarding Morocco. M. Pichon, Minister of Foreign Affairs, defined France's position, saying: "We do not intend to install ourselves in Morocco, but we cannot admit another power to play a predominant role there. We do not wish to establish a protectorate over the country, but we cannot allow the influence of another power to be introduced there."

FOUR GENTLEMEN

Who are Willing to Fill Beattie Nesbitt's Shoes.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 12.—(Special)—The resignation of Dr. W. Beattie Nesbitt, registrar for West Toronto, is in the hands of Hon. Mr. Foy, the Attorney-General. The Minister announced this morning that he had received a letter from Dr. Nesbitt simply announcing his retirement. There is reason to believe that the resignation will be accepted shortly by the cabinet.

On the incident Mr. Foy had no comment to make whatever. He smilingly remarked, however, although the day was young, "I already know of four gentlemen who are willing to accept the position."

Doubtless he will know of several more before long. Hon. Mr. Whitney, the Prime Minister, had no statement to make beyond that he had heard that the resignation had been received.

THE PEAK LOAD.

What This Part of the Hydro Scheme Conditions Means.

Commenting on the Hydro-Electric Commission's proposed bargain with the Niagara Power Company for electricity at $10.40, the basis of measurement to be the greatest amount delivered during twenty consecutive minutes in each month, that is, on the monthly peak load, the Montreal Gazette says:

"The bargain appears to be a good one for the company. It will be paid the greatest possible amount for the service supplied, i.e., supposing the ordinary demand upon it was around, say, 8,000 horse-power per day, and that for twenty minutes during one day in the month the demand was to run up to 10,000 horse-power, the company will be paid $8,000 instead of $9,935, thus making the cost of this 2,000 horse-power for twenty minutes on one day only $1,935."

Taking a month of thirty days, there would be 720 power hours in the month, and this divided into $9,935, the cost of 8,000 horse-power for one month, would make the cost per hour $9.63, while the extra 2,000 horse-power required for twenty minutes on one day of the month would raise the cost per hour from $9.63 to $12.03, or about 25 per cent. The increased cost appears high, but it must be remembered that it costs the power company exactly as much to supply the 2,000 extra horse-power for twenty minutes in the month as it does to supply each and every horse-power for 720 hours. It has to have the capacity, and the cost of electric production must rest largely upon the capacity to produce, or put in another way, the obligation to supply. If the Ontario municipalities go into the business on any other lines than that they are entitled to payment for each and every horse-power they contract to supply, whether it is used or not, they will almost certainly meet with financial loss. If they do what they should do they will not be able to fulfill the dreams raised in the minds of small consumers by the estimate of probable cost handed out by the Commission."

COINS OF PURE SILVER

Were Made by Counterfeiter in Ramapo Mountains.

New York, Nov. 12.—The arraignment of Herman Hense before United States Commissioner Shields to-day by United States secret service officers on the charge of counterfeiting brought to light what they regard as one of the most important finds in the counterfeiting business in recent years. Hense was held for the Federal Grand Jury. According to statements made to the Commissioner, Hense has been producing half dollars of practically pure silver, so skillfully made that only experts could detect them. The plant where the coins were produced was said to be in a secluded spot in the Ramapo Mountains, in Rockland county. The present piece of silver, it is said, enabled him to purchase bar silver or old silver for re-melting, and turn out coins of standard weight and fineness at a profit of about fifty per cent. About 200 of the coins had been circulated in New York before the officers secured the one which led to Hense's arrest.

AN OPEN VERDICT.

Thomas Burns Likely to be Released From Custody.

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—The coroner's inquest into the mysterious death of Mrs. Thomas Burns, of Osgoode township, was concluded this afternoon and an open verdict was returned. A telegram from Provincial Analyst, of Toronto, received to-day stated that he could not swear definitely that a sufficient quantity of strychnine had been found in the stomach of the deceased to cause her death. The husband, Thomas Burns, now under arrest on suspicion of having caused her death, will probably be released to-morrow.

BEER IS NO MERE Stimulant

Beer is not the choice of the drunkard, because it cannot stimulate enough—not enough alcohol in malt beverages to class them as intoxicants. But there is just enough alcohol in beer (less than in sweet cider) to induce the digestive system to do its work more thoroughly and quicker. Most grown people—and women especially—find good beer good to drink with meals, because it not only has most food-value in itself, but renders all other foods easier to digest.

Your own doctor will probably tell you beer is good for you with your dinner and at bedtime.

Mr. Seton is especially interested in having Government take action to preserve the bands of wood buffaloes still existing in the far north, and the Government has already taken steps towards herding them into a reserve and properly protecting them by the Mounted Police.

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

SOME PENITENTIARY SHOWINGS

(Montreal Gazette.)

The report for 1906-7 of the Minister of Justice on the penitentiaries of Canada takes ground in opposition to two somewhat widely accepted theories.

There are those who think that with the large increase of immigration there has come into the country an undue number of the criminally inclined.

There are others who have said that the parole system of allowing liberty to repentant convicts of good behavior permits the letting loose on society of men whose instincts lead them to commit other criminal acts. The inspectors of penitentiaries in their special report in effect say there is no justification for the first and endorse the statements of the parole officer, who contends that the parole system works for good.

The average daily convict population of the six penitentiaries of Canada for five years past has been as follows:

1902-3.	1,224
1903-4.	1,286
1904-5.	1,359
1905-6.	1,407
1906-7.	1,433

The gradual increase here shown, the inspectors say, "corresponds with the increasing population of the country and is not such as to indicate any alarming advance in criminality."

If among the newcomers there is a greater proportion of the viciously inclined than there should be, the existing facilities for employment at remunerative rates have the effect of offsetting it, the inspectors put it, that the ability to earn an honest living is an effective preventive of crime except where there is a wilful inclination thereto. In spite of this contention by men who ought to know, there yet seems to be some ground in the report for the belief that the foreign element of the population is less law-abiding than the native born.

Of the 1,433 inmates of the penitentiaries on March 31 last 873 were natives of Canada, while 560 had been born elsewhere. The proportion of native to foreign born in the entire population is greater than in the population of the prisons for the punishment of the grave crimes.

However, this is a peculiarity of recent years, it does not of necessity stand in contradiction of the claim of the inspectors.

The parole system extends to jails and reformatories as well as to the penitentiaries. It has been in operation for eight years, and is essentially the special charge of Mr. Archibald, of the Salvation Army, whom Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, when minister of justice, held in esteem and who seems to be a man well qualified for his position.

Prison doors open to receive men of all classes, as well as of all ages. Of the inmates of the penitentiaries on March 31 there were over 10 per cent. (156) under 20 years of age. Over 55 per cent. (787) were under 30 years of age. Not all of these were vicious. Some were unfortunate in their surroundings. Some were tempted beyond their strength. Many would be repentant even before their commitment. Of the younger inmates the inspectors say that not one in a thousand can be benefited by penitentiary experience.

The parole officer says that the danger which men most about all the prisoners is not their resentful and ferocious dispositions so much as their infantile helplessness. He puts it that they seem to be crime poisoned and to require tonics and training. What the discharged man needs most about all is providing him with the opportunity to rise and do better on the causeway of redemption. It is the duty of the parole officer to secure for those whom it is deemed wise to set free before their sentences have expired the opportunity described. The figures given deal with the nine months of 1906-7 and the eight years 1899-1906 to 1906-7.

In the former period there were granted 285 paroles, of which only five were cancelled, four for non-compliance with the conditions of release and one because of a subsequent conviction. During the longer term 1,645 paroles were granted, of which 87 were cancelled for non-compliance with conditions and 33 by subsequent convictions. The others that only 2 per cent. of those prematurely set free fall back into crime. Assuming the figures to be correct, in so far as they show a large proportion of convictions among paroled prisoners than among those who complete their sentences, they justify the policy of mercy; and as it is reasonably held that under ordinary conditions the certainty of punishment is more likely to be effective in preventing crime than the severity, there may be no just ground for finding fault with a system that has also for years met approval in other lands.
