The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"We should mark on moral qualities, not merely mental attainment, or proficiency," says Elbert Hubbard in speaking of schools, "because in the race of life only moral qualities count."

There is one moral quality that I sincerely wish could be taught thoroughly in our schools. I wish there might be a course in it every year from kindergarten to the last year of college, and that quality is "consideration for the rights and privileges of other people."

Show me the man or woman who does not forget at least two or three times a day that he lives in a world with other men and women, and I will show you a rarity.

And before you vote yourself into that class, let me translate my abstract into the concrete, and tell you a few of the people who need a course in the rights and privileges of others.

I suppose I scarcely need mention one class that is exceptionally prevalent this season, and that is the woman with the hat so large as to seriously inconvenience people about her.

Again and again this spring I have seen people in some crowded space forced to stand with necks agonizingly crooked to one side so that there might be room for the woman with the straw cartwheel on her head.

One state in the Union has passed a law that no woman shall wear a hat more than five feet in circumference. If we saw such a law in some book on old-time customs how we would laugh at it, and yet such a law is necessary to-day.

When You Think

Of the pain which many women experience with every month it makes the gentleness and kindness always associated with womanhood seem to be almost a miracle. While in general no woman rebels against what she regards as a natural necessity there is no woman who would not gladly be free from this recurring period of pain.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well, and gives them freedom from pain. It establishes regularity, subdues inflammation, heals ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private and absolutely confidential. Write without fear to World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

If you want a book that tells all about women's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 31 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers. In handsome cloth-binding, 50 stamps.

Fads and Fashions.

This summer we are to use the little Chantilly lace marquisse parasols, the doll-like affairs with which our pretty actresses used to screen their faces.

There are some beautiful parasols with eyelid embroidery to match suits of linen and others are trimmed with embroidery "set-in," matching the lingerie gown prepared.

Very attractive covers for the baby carriage are made of white linen or crash, with figures of children and animals stenciled or cut from cloth and applied into place.

Cloth of silver ribbon embroidered in silk and metallic threads and edged with green crystals, reflecting the tones of peacock's eyes, forms a fillet for a green costume.

Galloons, with bounces and all-overs to match work up into exquisite gowns over either black, white or colored satin or taffeta slips or over a double slip of chiffon and mousseline or messaline.

The dainty combination, petticoats, corset covers, nightgowns, dressing jackets and long negligees owe considerable of their attractiveness to the profuse use of ribbons from 1/4 to 5 inches in width.

Waistlines have descended to normal positions with here and there some slight disposition to retain a trifle above with the skirt falling straight in Empire style; but this fashion is rapidly passing.

Charming hats are covered plainly with real lace and trimmed with snowy sigrettes en panache, or falling feathers. The edges of such a hat are finished with black velvet, and there is a band of it around the crown.

Some of the materials worn in mourning are silk and wool or all wool crepe cloth, imperial serge, volles tamise, soleil, cheviot, diagonal serge, silk-warp materials are lighter and shake the dust beautifully.

"Chantecler" and other frillings at in great demand to use as side labor on waists and gowns of silk or fluted goods. They are also in high favor with mothers, who love to have the little ones daintily dressed.

Flowers in many shades of color are frequently used to encircle the crown, or sometimes to form it. O again a pompon of flowers shading from the deepest to the lightest tones forms the only trimming of some of the hats.

The long full jabot and rabat give a beautiful touch to the outdoor costume. Since the coats have deep lapels the rabats may be unusually long. They should be made with light materials, such as net, nainsook or very sheer linen and lace.

New gimpes, or slip-yokes, show much improvement in shape. They are shaped at the shoulders so as entirely to prevent any restriction of movement and the same time extend sufficiently far over the shoulders to hold them securely.

Young girls' heads are dressed delightfully simple with a real Gretchen braid twined around in correct coronet style and two to four shell pins thrust in it, while at the back is a large bow of plain or fancy ribbon tying the ends of the braid together.

Of course the "Chantecler" frill is most talked of just now and all sorts of frillings are sold under the name and will be sold under the plain generic title when "Chantecler" fashions have crowded themselves to death, as will soon be the case.

No Alcohol!

Ask your doctor if a family medicine, like Ayer's Sarsaparilla, is not easily better without alcohol than with it.

Is alcohol a tonic? No! Does it make the blood pure? No! Does it strengthen the nerves? No! Is Ayer's Sarsaparilla a tonic? Yes! Does it make the blood pure? Yes! Does it strengthen the nerves? Yes! Is it entirely free from alcohol? Yes!

FARMER TELLS INTERESTING STORY

Whether Sick or Well, in Good Weather or in Stormy, He is Obligated to Work Always.

Market people complain about prices they have to pay for farm produce. They forget that rain or shine, warm or cold, the farmer must keep at it or else the narrow profit, his bare living, will be lost to him.

A well-known Haldimand farmer, Mr. J. P. Pelletier, writes: "For nearly three years I was in poor health. A drenching storm caught me in the fields and wet me to the skin. I got home only to find I was threatened with inflammation of the bowels. I never got over it and felt weak and heavy and my system never worked quite right. But a farmer has to work—and I found myself going down hill with stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Failure seemed to follow everything. I remained wretched and sick until advised to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. It is not easy to describe the sort of feeling a sick man gets when he strikes a medicine that he can see is doing him a lot of good. I was overjoyed—Hamilton's Pills put a new life into me and everything worked right. Since cured with Dr. Hamilton's Pills I haven't had a single symptom of stomach, liver or kidney trouble. I am free from headaches, languor and weakness, as strong, robust as a man could be. No better medicine for general family use than Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are mild, healthful and certain to cure.

bons studded with crystals, pearls, peacock's eyes, wire latticework in gold or silver, precious stones of turquoise, paroque pearls, etc., variety, gauze, ribbons of gold or silver, and dozens of others are among the designs shown for the bandeaus or fillets worn in the dress collures of today.

Seamen Still Scarce.

The scarcity of seamen for our foreign carriers still continues and the matter is now assuming a serious aspect. Saturday night four deck hands were required for the Rosalind and it was found next to impossible to secure them. The Clutha, Golden Hind, Devonia, Lady Napier, Attila and other vessels loaded or loading for market require men to make up the complement of their crews, but it is feared that they will not be forthcoming. At least one vessel has now been kept from sailing owing to the lack of seamen. Speaking to some representative sons of Neptune Saturday the Telegram was informed by them that most of the men who engage in our foreign going vessels have gone to the fishery where good money is to be made with far less labor and hardship. Others have joined the Laborers' Union and are working along shore, while not a few have gone to Bell Island, to Sydney or to work on the new branch railway. These men further allege that the seamen of the city have a grievance against both masters and owners of our vessels. They aver that in the winter time they are refused employment at their natural avocation, while fishermen who only make a foreign voyage once or twice in a lifetime are given their places. They also allege that with the present high cost of living their wages—$21 per month—is too small. They think that nothing less than $25 should be given and they are strongly meditating on forming a Sailors' Union.

Rheumatic Agony Relieved Quickly.

You will welcome the good news that Nerviline rapidly effects relief of the most excruciating pains. Nerviline penetrates deeply into the tissue and possesses pain-subduing power at least five times greater than anything heretofore discovered. Its curative influence upon rheumatic pains is really wonderful. In many lands the marvelous pain-relieving power of Nerviline has been demonstrated. It is offered to the people of this community under a positive guarantee of its reliability. As a curative agent of severest pain, every rheumatic should test this great remedy. Rheumatism is the greatest test Nerviline has to meet. It cures pains, big and little, but, to rheumatism, especially it is a great blessing, just as it is to those who suffer from neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, stiffness. Large bottle 50c, trial size 25c, at druggists.

Te Duem for the New King.

A Te Duem giving thanks for the accession to the throne of King George was chanted after High Mass, yesterday, in the various churches of the Archdiocese of Montreal by direction of the Archbishop.

At the conclusion of the hymn of thanksgiving the special prayer for the welfare of the King and the Royal family was recited.
