Living Shadows.
 Special services to be given in the National Army Citadel, St. John's, on Thursday night by Adj. Habington. "Living Shadows" to be very interesting and timely. The subjects to be treated will be: 1st, "How Crime is Made and Unmade," commencing with the boy thief, and following until he is helped out of the street and begins a new life; 2nd, "From Life in a S. A. Shelter," very interesting; 3rd, "Daisy," a girl, a true and pathetic story of a girl who has been singing and singing will be a pleasing part of the program.

MARINE NOTES.

A recent fire in Longue Pointe Ward left eleven families homeless. The fire started in a grocery, and as soon as it was discovered an alarm was sent in. It is rumored that the firemen did not respond instantly; anyway, before they arrived on the scene other buildings had caught and no less than six adjoining houses were destroyed. Damages amount to $18,000 with only $3,000 insurance.

There is a good deal of opposition to the plan of city for paving the streets. The people are willing to have good streets but are not willing to pay.

The "Gazette" reports Sir Edward Morris discussing in New York the formation of a short line route between Liverpool, Newfoundland, and Cape Charles, Labrador. It will necessitate building a new railway line to the Labrador. It is also reported that Sir Edward has stated that if Canada and U. S. A. have Reciprocity he hopes to see it between U. S. A. and Newfoundland. Secretary Knox although quite willing, will not have anything to do with this question until it is decided what happens in the case of Canada. He would, he states, like to see the prohibition on pulpwood exported from Newfoundland to the U. S. removed. Is this a shadow, and do coming events cast their shadows before?

On the night of May 10th the question of Confederation between Canada and Newfoundland was discussed in the House of Commons at Ottawa. Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated that no effort had been made in this direction since the offer of 1894 was rejected. Mr. Fielding added that it would be a mistake for Canada to take any step in the matter just now. The public men of Newfoundland know the sentiment of the Canadian Government in this matter and he thought any effort now would be misinterpreted by the people of the island.

The graduating students of McGill University held their valedictory banquet at the Royal Victoria College on Wednesday night. Representatives of each Faculty spoke eulogizing McGill and expressing regret at leaving. There are eleven graduating Master of Science; ninety-five Bachelor of Science; sixty-four Bachelor of Arts; sixteen Bachelor of Law. The Faculty of Medicine has not closed yet.

An early closing bill in connection with public houses and liquor saloons came into force on Saturday night last. This was the first dry night Montreal has ever known. The effect was greatly noted.

A case of small-pox developed in Westmount recently. It was transferred to a hospital and is being treated there. This has caused quite a scare in that section of the city.

The Governor-General opened the twelfth Annual Horse Show here on May 9th. The number of spectators was greatly in excess of that of previous years, and it is expected that this will prove the most successful show yet.

On Thursday last a drunken maniac became possessed of a revolver and proceeded to shoot at the crowd passing through the street. Before he was disarmed he had shot and wounded a policeman and a citizen.

The Home's Report.
 The s.s. Home arrived at Bay of Islands at noon yesterday. Capt. Kean sent the following report to the Reid Nfld. Co. last evening:
 "Arrived at Flower's Cove at 11 a.m. Sunday. The ice extends from Cow Head to Port Saunders on the Newfoundland side. Bartlett's Harbor packed with ice. Had strong S. W. wind last Friday with thick fog, which drove the ice in on the land from Cow Head north to Point Riche. Could not get into Port Saunders or Daniel's Harbor. Saw thousands of old seals on Sunday. Capt. Gillingham among them."

A Disorderly Prisoner.
 A young man, who was arrested only a few days ago and gave the police a hard time of it, and who was fined $10, got into trouble with the minions of the law again at 7.30 p.m. yesterday. The man being under the influence of liquor attacked Const. Aylward and he and the officer had a fierce struggle for a while until other policemen and Mr. A. W. Martin of the Post Office came to his assistance. After great difficulty the enraged prisoner was handcuffed and still fighting furiously was brought to the station in a carriage.

STOPPED RUNAWAY HORSE.
 O'Regan's horse, which bolted up Duckworth Street last Saturday in full gallop, was stopped opposite Dr. Mitchell's by Mr. Patrick Maher of the C. C. C. Promotion Co.

Uncle Walt
 THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

If you would see Carl Morris spar, strike Tulsa, where his quarters are. You pay a quarter at the door, and look the gladiator o'er, and say he surely is a peach; you marvel at his mighty reach, his width of chest, his length of shank, and put a quarter in his bank. His trainer tells you (as you twist a quarter slyly in his fist) that Carl will surely soak the dinge, and bend him double like a hinge. His backers (as you deftly reach to those great men a quarter each) assure you Carl will surely knock an orifice in Johnson's block. But hush! The peerless giant strips! He throws his bath robe from his hips, and spreads his mighty arms apart; his sparring partner, lithe and smart, springs forth as lightly as the breeze, and smiles and says: "A quarter, please!" And then the fighters biff and pound, and at the close of every round the contribution box is passed; you pay your quarter, and at last you leave Carl's quarters with a sigh, and hunt a quiet place to die. Yet this sweet thought your bosom salves: The fighter's quarters are not halves.

A Mean Advantage.
 Some people who have gardens in the city and are too mean to pay themselves to get them cleaned out, have piled their garden refuse, old heaps of it, on sidewalks, hoping that the City Council men or some of the citizens who sent horses would take it away. Those people would have done right if they had sent a horse and cart at their own expense. The intention of the Council was to help the poor people to clean up their back yards. The Council should summon those people to court for causing a nuisance.

Eye Specialist.
 Dear Mr. Editor.—Will you please notify your readers once more that Dr. Joseph A. Andrews, a noted eye specialist of New York and California, will be at the hospital at St. Anthony during the month of July, and at Battle Harbor during August, and that he will be glad to see all who wish to consult him? He will be sure to be there.
 Yours very truly,
 (Sgd.) WILFRED T. GREENFELL.
