PLAYING POLITICS.

Our esteemed evening contemporary of Duckworth Street very obviously lives in an atmosphere of politics. Whether it thrives on political food or not, its activities are none the less in that direction, and it therefore may safely be assumed that its political nourishment is to some purpose beneficial to itself. The Chinese soldiers of ancient, and well down to modern times, were instructed by their officers, when going into battle, to make hideous faces and no less hideous noises in front of the enemy, in order that fright might come upon them, thus rendering themselves the more easily beaten. Whether such tactics prevailed or not, or whether they produced the desired effect, the enemy alone could tell. It is evident from the noises being made by the "organ" these days that the staff writers and fabricators of "loyal" messages have come to the conclusion that the Chinese method is worth trying out. Day in and day out, more and more noisy reports from the various strongholds of the North are being published, breathing of a strong and stern determination to stand by the Chief, no matter who may fall in the struggle. In some places the fire is burning so fiercely that there is grave danger of the settlements being razed to the ground. In fact at a little place called Summerford, Notre Dame Bay, Union fire is blazing, so brightly and strongly that the place is all but burned down. Union fire and Union politics are one and the same thing, and the match has been applied and flames from the human bonfires shoot upwards, lighting all around, and showing that the signal to be prepared must not be disregarded by the friends. That a political campaign is in process of being mapped out at an early date—if it has not been already—all the signs show. Otherwise why would the "Summ Quique" exponent be so ready to play politics, on any and every occasion, and with or without pretext. It has played at politics with the Humber project, the Railway, the Coastal Service, the United Fishermen's Movement, and last, but not the least, with the Bell Island mines. Its recent boosting of Sir Richard Squires conclusively proves that the Prime Minister and Mr. Coaker are political twins, and that one cannot exist politically without the other. Separate them and they both die. The Premier must indeed feel flattered in the knowledge that he possesses such a faithful and inseparable friend, though it is not so long ago that circulars, damning the same Sir Richard Squires, were ordered to be read in every Union Council throughout the Colony, under penalty of immediate revocation of the Charter of any Council failing to obey instructions. Now, however, because it suits the book of the big Chief, Sir Richard is the "white-headed boy," and is given more praise by the mouthpiece than even the President receives, for the latter now realises that without the assistance of the Government Wing he cannot fly with his own.

Hence the change of front. But it is all playing politics.

BELL ISLAND.

The rebuke administered to the Advocate by Mr. H. B. Gillis, yesterday, should have the effect of causing that paper to be more careful in its reports of interviews of people interested in industries operated by outside companies. That the Advocate deliberately misrepresented the Superintendent of the Bell Island Mines, with a view to giving all the credit for the recommencement of operations to the Prime Minister's activities and intervention, has been shown by statements published in the News and Telegram yesterday. It is not good enough that every industry, present and prospective, in the Colony should be made into a football to be kicked hither and thither by the political free "booters" of the Advocate. If Sir Richard Squires, as Prime Minister of Newfoundland, interceded on behalf of the out of work miners, and succeeded in getting the work started again, it was only what his position required of him. Had he fallen down on the job he would have been guilty of a dereliction of duty. That the mines are now in operation is something for which to be thankful, but why not let it go at that, or either give honor to whom honor is due. The Prime Minister interested himself in the matter, but that his intervention was the sole means of the reopening of the mines is not quite accurate. But the political game has to be played.

General Holiday.

To-morrow, (Ash, Wednesday) being a general holiday, the Telegram will not be published.

Appreciation Shown.

CORNET FOR MOUNT CASHEL BAND.
A very pleasing and thoughtful event occurred on board the S.S. Rosalind yesterday afternoon, when the ship's officers presented Rev. Bro. Ennis, Superior of Mount Cashel Orphanage, with a beautiful cornet for the Mount Cashel Band. Some time ago the officers were entertained at Mount Cashel by the Band and they were very pleased with the program provided. Yesterday Brother Ennis was called to the Mess Room where the Captain and all the officers had assembled, and he was presented with the splendid instrument for the band as a mark of their appreciation. Bro. Ennis thanked the officers for the kind gift and assured them that at all times the Mount Cashel Brothers and boys would remember the officers of the Rosalind. He extended a most hearty welcome to them to visit Mt. Cashel, and hoped to soon have them there again. The action of the Rosalind's officers is one which redounds to their credit and they are to be congratulated for their thoughtfulness.

C. L. B. Dance.

FITTING CLOSE TO SEASON'S ROUND.
The dance which is being held tonight in Grenfell Hall under the auspices of the C.L.B. Cadets, promises to be a fitting conclusion to the round of social gaieties which began with the New Year. The hall is being tastefully decorated under the supervision of Mr. A. E. Holmes, and the floor will be in excellent condition for dancing. This will be the last dance for several weeks and should attract a large gathering.

Fire in Cupboard.

BLAZE CAUSED CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE.
The East End and Central Fire Companies were called yesterday evening to the residence of J. J. Lacey, Gower Street, where a blaze was in progress. The fire was discovered in a cupboard where some workmen were engaged thawing out frozen water pipes. A part of the ceiling in the dining room as well as part of the wall had to be removed before the firemen could get at the seat of the flames. Considerable damage was done both by fire and water and it is understood that the house and contents are insured.

St. Mary's Church.

HEATING SYSTEM BEING REPAIRED.
The heating system of St. Mary's Church was so completely put out of commission by the recent heavy frost, that on Sunday the regular services were held in the Parish Hall. Repairs, which are more extensive than at first anticipated, are now being effected and it is expected to have the Church again heated for the coming Sunday.

Horsemen Meet.

RACES POSTPONED.

The Horsemen's Association met yesterday afternoon in the Board of Trade Building with Hon. Dr. Campbell, President, in the Chair and Mr. J. D. O'Driscoll Secretary. It was decided to postpone the races scheduled for to-morrow (Wednesday) on account of the unsatisfactory condition of the ice. The Executive will meet on Monday of next week and report on prospects for the following half holiday. At the meeting yesterday it was arranged that the Native Bred race be open to all animals whether trotters or pacers. All owners of animals racing must be members of the Horsemen's Association and entries must be made to Secretary O'Driscoll the day before the race. Mr. Wall was elected a member. All the members were extremely sorry to hear of the serious accident to Mr. Jonas Barter the veteran horseman and Inspector for the Society for Protection of Animals which occurred yesterday. A resolution of sympathy was unanimously passed to Inspector Barter and all the horsemen hope his accident is not as serious as appeared and that he will soon be out again.

McMurdo's Store News.

TUESDAY, Feb. 13.
In cold weather like this a good cup of Oxo or hot Bovril is particularly grateful. Its delicious flavor is very pleasing to the palate, and it spreads a feeling of warmth throughout the whole body that enables one to defy the cold. But as it is light it does not in any way interfere with the enjoyment of the next meal, for which indeed, a cup of hot Oxo or Bovril is a real appetizer. Step into our warm store and have a cup. Price 10 cents.

Wedding Bells.

BRADBURY-HOLLETT.
At the Methodist Church, Bay Roberts, on Saturday last, 10th inst., Rev. E. Baggis united in the bonds of matrimony, Pearl Bowden Bradbury, daughter of Mrs. and the late Joshua Bradbury, and Robert Innes Hollett, son of Mr. E. M. Hollett, of Great Britain. The bride was handsomely attired in white satin, trimmed with sequin and seed pearls, with bridal veil, coronal of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern. The bridesmaids, Miss Ruby Bradbury, sister of the bride, and Miss Sue Hollett, sister of the groom, were gowne in fawn crepe de chene, with hats to match, and carried bouquets of pink carnations and maiden hair fern. The bride was given away by her uncle Mr. William Bradbury, the groom being supported by Mr. Robert Parsons. After the ceremony the bridal party and guests drove to the home of the bride's mother, where a reception was held followed by the serving of tea. The groom's gift to the bride was a substantial clock. The bridesmaids, gold watches, to the best man gold cuff links. The presents to the bride were numerous and costly, testifying to the esteem which her townspeople showed in such a tangible manner. Numbers of telegrams containing good wishes were received from friends all over the island. Mr. and Mrs. Hollett took train for St. John's on Saturday night, and will remain in the city some days before leaving for their future home in Great Britain. The Telegram joins with other friends in extending best wishes and felicitations to the happy couple.

O'LEARY-MEEHAN.

The wedding of Mr. W. P. Meehan, manager of the Royal Stationery Company, and Miss Gertrude O'Leary late Secretary to Colonel Randall of the Militia Department, was solemnized yesterday morning at the Oratory of the Sacred Heart, Mercy Convent. The ceremony was performed by Rt. Rev. Monsignor McDermott, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the happy couple. The bride was prettily attired in a navy tailored serge costume, with ermine furs, and wore a hat of peon blue velvet. She was attended by Miss Nellie Meehan, sister of the groom, while Mr. Frank M. O'Leary, brother of the bride, performed the duties of best man. After the ceremony the wedding breakfast was partaken of after which, amidst the best wishes of their friends, the newly married couple drove to the station where they joined the morning train for Holyrood, where a short honeymoon will be spent. Both Mr. and Mrs. Meehan were the recipients of a goodly array of costly and serviceable presents, both of them being very popular amongst our younger set.

Aerial Mail Delayed.

NOT YET REACHED BOTWOOD.
The mail, which was despatched by train on Sunday for the Aerial Base at Botwood, has not yet reached its destination, the train apparently being delayed at Clarendville. The Aerial Survey Co. have three planes ready to fly with the mail as soon as they receive it.

Sachem Due.

NO CANADIAN MAIL ON SHIP.
S.S. Sachem is due to arrive in port about 3.30 o'clock this afternoon. The ship passed Cape Race at 9.30 a.m. It is learned that the Sachem is not bringing any foreign mail. Apparently there is lack of initiative on the part of the Postal authorities in arranging to have mails forwarded promptly from Canada. It is now eleven days since we have had an inward mail.
