Board of Wellington Street Took the Matter Up at Recent Meeting.

A special meeting of the board of Wellington Street Methodist Church was held to consider the question of liquidating the church debt, which at the present time amounts to about $3,-

It was unanimously decided to try and wipe out the debt this year. Quite a large portion of the amount required has already been promised, and the members decided to make a canvass to raise the rest, all feeling certain that the money can be raised by the time of the next board meeting, a week from Tuesday.
