

THE O. R. F. U. ORDERS THE LONDON-PETROLEA GAME PLAYED OVER

O.R.F.U. DECISION
CAUSES TROUBLE

London Team Will Hold Meeting Tonight to Discuss Strathroy Game.

MAY DROP OUT OF UNION

Will Finish Season, According to an Official, and Then Quit.

The O. R. F. U. executive handed down its decision in the London-Petrolea matter yesterday at Toronto, and has ordered last Saturday's game, which was protested by the oil towners, to be played over at Strathroy on Saturday afternoon. The meeting of all players on the London team, together with every person interested in the game, has been called for this evening at the Strathroy Hotel, and it is understood that a special train will be run to Strathroy on Saturday.

May Drop Out of Union. It was rumored this morning that the London team would refuse to play again, and that the team would drop out of the O. R. F. U. for all time. The team argued that they have been given the bad end of every decision, and that they have been treated Petrolea far better than they deserved.

A Toronto team was disqualified for playing rangers this season, but London declined to put Petrolea out, even when it meant that the locals would win the district championship by default.

Manager Perry Scott of the London team, who is in Toronto last night, but could not be located today.

EBBETTS IS WITH HEYDLER

Murphy and Hermann Lose Henchman in Fight With Head.

New York, Nov. 10.—President Ebbetts of the Brooklyn club, now says he is not opposed to the re-election of President John A. Heydler. As President Ebbetts of the New York club, also favors Heydler, the opposition has dwindled to Hermann, of Cincinnati, and Murphy, of Chicago. When the managers of the National League meet here next month to decide this widely-debated question, it will not be surprising if Murphy and Hermann declare they were never anxious to see Heydler re-elected to the late H. C. Pulliam. Heydler has the combined support of the press in all of the major league cities, although he has not lifted a finger in his own behalf.

TURF MEN ARE JUBILANT

Court Decides That Display of Odds and Oral Betting is Legal.

New York, Nov. 10.—Jockey Club members, turfmen and persons indirectly interested in racing were apparently well satisfied today with the decision of the court of appeals, which makes oral wagers and the displaying of odds legal. It was generally expected that the verdict would end the atmosphere next season, in that various county officials and the police admitted that betters have no greater privileges than those enjoyed by any other citizen. The point has been made doubly clear, however, that a man may write odds on his program and display them to his friends, who may then make bets with him on the races. In a word, there can be no legal restrictions on betting except the wagering of one point that probably will be raised later on.

RUPTURE

Danger of Death—
How to Avoid It

In my last article, when I was announcing the coming arrival at London of Mr. A. Claverie, the distinguished European specialist, I have said that rupture was a disease to be dreaded.

I have since received several letters, inquiring if it is higher than those who suffer from it.

I hasten to reply that rupture is one of the most FEARFUL INFIRMITIES known, although most of those who suffer from it are not aware of it. It pains it, and the inconvenience of the support, or if it is wrong, supported, which is not its case, is bound to increase, and it is not until it is too late to do anything to prevent it, that it is discovered.

From that time digestion is bad, the appetite decreases, the body becomes weak, until he is unable to work, and even to move. It is old age when you come, it means the shattering of pieces of all the strength of the patient.

And yet there is something more terrible than all this. It threatens the SMALL as well as the large ruptures.

All of a sudden the ring which allows a passage to the higher organs, the lungs, and this without any apparent cause, and if at this moment the rupture is STRANDED, and cannot be pressed back, this means DEATH WITHIN 24 HOURS.

One may judge how urgent it is to take the most earnest precautions when one suffers from rupture.

But it is not by wearing ordinary trusses that one may be protected against such terrible danger, because these trusses are in most instances unable to support perfectly the rupture and to maintain the bowels in their proper place.

This question of the treatment of rupture is a serious and grave problem, it is then only through scientific and selected appliances that good results can be secured.

And, for these reasons, I cannot too strongly recommend to my readers not to fail to go and see Mr. Claverie, the specialist known the world over, when he will visit your city.

His method and his apparatus have cured definitely, and in the highest medical authorities, and have been adopted by nearly ONE MILLION SUFFERERS the world over.

His last creation specially solves the question of the system of palliative cure definitely, and it is impossible to count now the many desperate cases that have been relieved and even cured.

You will thus go and see Mr. A. Claverie, as you will surely find with him safety and cure.

DOCTOR NAMY.
Mr. A. Claverie will be in London from Wednesday, the 17th, until Friday, the 19th. He will give interviews at the City Hotel from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., and from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m.

All advice given free. Absolute secrecy. Special attention to ladies.

TRACE TWO DEATHS
TO WORLD SERIES

Son Dies From Pneumonia and His Mother From Grief.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 10.—Two deaths which closely followed each other are blamed on the recent world's series baseball championship series.

Robert Wells McMurtie, druggist, living on the north side, said he would go to Detroit and cheer the Pirates.

The young man's mother told him the weather was too inclement, but he insisted on going.

McMurtie went to Detroit, saw the two teams play, contracted pneumonia and died.

HANLON DENIES RUMOR

President of Baltimore Club Has Not Disposed of Stock.

Baltimore, Nov. 10.—A report published here today that Edward Hanlon, president of the Baltimore Eastern League baseball club, had disposed of his holdings in the club to John Dunn, former manager of the club, was denied by Hanlon.

It is understood, however, that negotiations to that end have been on between the two men for some time. Hanlon owns the majority interest in the club.

KANSAS SEEKS START

Making Effort to Land Balloon Race for 1910.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 10.—Believing that it is more than probable for Kansas City to be the starting point in the international balloon race for 1910, the Kansas City Club, next fall, the "Pieris of Pallas" association here have called a meeting to lay plans to that end.

Harry Honeycutt, the St. Louis aeronaut, is here at present and has said that on account of the comparatively low altitude and the distance from a large body of water, this city is one of the best situated points in the world for the start of the race.
