New York, Aug. 2.

Prices ran up about 30 points on the active months owing to big covering by local and Wall street shorts alarmed by the scarcity of offerings and the persistent bad reports from various parts of the belt. Two Wall Street houses were credited with buying 20,000 bales each to cover and two leading room traders were also credited with buying 20,000 each, also to cover. A large uptown operator was buying and bidding up the market, and this started furious raily. He expressed the opinion that the advance has only just begun.

Yesterday's bullish Government report was supplemented today by a weekly weather report by the Government which was in many respects had as in the western belt, rains needed, growth has been retarded and crop injured by drought in Oklahoma, in Texas late planted cotton is beginning to deteriorate. The plant is shedding badly in parts of Alabama and South Carolina, shedding also being reported in some sections of Arkansas and Louisiana, rust has also appeared in these states. The plant is turning yellow and not fruiting well in South Carolina, where cultivation has been hampered by frequent showers. The growth is rank in Mississippi and western Florida. In the lowlands, where the worst floods occurred, and land is being planted to other crops. Things look bad in the eastern belt. Showery weather has increased the activity of boll weevil in Texas and delayed picking in the southern part of that state. The trend is more than ever toward the buying side on all reactions.
