Active Short Covering Takes Place in Motor and Steel Stocks.

By STUART P. WEST.

Special to The Advertiser.

New York, Wall Street, Oct. 3.—To-day began with active short covering in stocks like-the motors and steels, which have recently been most under pressure.

Very soon, however, interest shifted into the rails. There were two noteworthy developments in this quarter, which were responsible for the sudden outburst of buying. One was an arriting in stocks like above partafter having started at 90 Tuesday, morning. The other was an active buying movement, long awaited, in Reading shares.

The jump in Big Four was set down as an attempt to buy in the small remnant of the stock not held in the New York Central treasury. Reading was bought because of the near aphroach of the time when rights to subscribe to the new coal stock will be transferred from the curb to the stock exchanne. The idea was that more publicity would be given to the low colling price of the stock with the rights and an advidend at the meeting next week. Whash preferred "A" responded to the published estimate that at least 10 per cont will be shown on the stock at the end of the year.

As the day went on the demand to we short contracts became more understail per cont will be shown on the stock where land at which and a new high. The advance in Southern Railway common continued to be bought by persons who were attracted by the high yield as compared with other rails of similar carnings, and the stock will be transferred from the curb to the stock with the rights and an advidend at the meeting next week. Whash preferred "A" responded to the published estimate that at least 11 per cent will be shown on the stock were larged and the weak of the can and Studebaker were litraftly routed, so were short samed followed the statement by the president of the General Motors Cordinal Park and Pa at the end of the year.

As the day went on the demand to cover short contracts became more urgent. The bears in stocks like Baldwin, American Can and Studebaker were literally routed, so were short sellers in upont. The rise in the last named followed the statement by the president of the General Motors Corporation that more cars were produced in September than in any single month so far, and that the October schedule calls for a considerable further examples of the drive against the motor group in general.

Farm supply stocks—Harvester, Sears—group in general.

Farm supply stocks—Harvester, Sears-Roebuck and Montgomery Ward—stood out prominently for a while in the buying. Undoubtedly, this represented the hurried taking in of short contracts put out on the notion that the misfortunes of the wheat farmer would tell upon the demand for the products which these and similar companies have to sell.

WILL TEST LEGALITY

Associated Press Despatch. Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 3. Returns early today from yesterday's In Event of Break, Stresemann state-wide election showed that a constitutional amendment, authorizing the state legislature to convene itself to consider impeachment charges against state officials, had been carried by a tremendous majority, despite a proclamation issued by Governor J. C. Walton that no election should be held.

At midnight, with virtually half the state accounted for, the measure was maintaining fully the lead it assumed with the tabulations of first assumed with the tabulations of first returns. TO FIGHT AMENDMENT.

Special to The Advertiser.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 3.—A long drawn out court fight was in prospect today testing the legality of Tuesday's election in Oklahoma, at which an initiated amendment to the constitution providing that the legislature might convene itself without a call from the governor. was adopted overwhelmingly. Governor Walton, who opposed the election with all the power at his command, consulted his advisers concerning the court procedure. The fight will be made by the governor on the grounds that the initiated measure was not advertised at least five days before the election as required by the Oklahoma statutes.

Three other proposed constitutional amendments were defeated. These provided for a soldier bonus, including death as well as injusies, under the workmen's compensation act and

INJURED PERSONS NOW ON WAY TO RECOVERY

Mrs. Anna Chapman, of 347 Glebe street, who suffered serious injuries when she was thrown to the pavement while alighting from a street car near her home, is reported to be improving at Victoria Hospital. Owing to the fact that Mrs. Chapman was in her 83rd year, her recovery was regarded as doubtful last week. George Grainger, of Dutton, who suffered fractures of both legs when a tree fell on him near his home some time ago, is also reported as improved by the hospital authorities. Mr. Grainger's injuries are very painful and, although his condition was dangerous a few days ago, his recovery is now expected.

IMPROVING IN HOSPITAL Guy Fontana, 12-year-old boy, who sustained a fractured mandible and right leg when he fell from the third story window of his sister's home at 245 Dundas street, is reported to be much better by authorities at Victoria Hospital. The injured lad is steadily improving, and will recover, according to attending surgeons.

SESSION ADJOURNS

Special Cable to The Adv Berlin, Oct. 3.-The impending German cabinet crash today appeared to have been averted for at least some hours. After five hours deliber-ation the cabinet session adjourned at 3 a.m., the Socialist party agreeing to Chancellor Stresemann's economic program with some modifications.
Socialist consent came only after long and bitter debate, and was not final. Additional Socialist conferences were being held this morning, and a last statement of the position of the party was to be given the chancellor at noon.

"We believe the Socialists will acquiesce," a government spokesman said today. "Otherwise a most serious crisis is anticipated."

Lower Prices Prove Attractive to Few Buyers-Hogs Steady.

Special to The Advertiser.

Toronto, Oct. 2—While there was a little more trading today, the market is still badly demoralized. Over 2,000 cattle were held over from yesterday. There is no cleanup yet in sight, and there will be a big holdover from the week-end market. Cattle are still pouring in from the western provinces, many are now on the way, and the bulk of them going direct into the big packing plants.

The result is that the market is dependent this week almost entirely on outside buying the local packers' representatives looking idly on and, so far as business is concerned, doing almost absolutely nothing. The lower prices are attractive to a few speculators, and some good loads were moving today, but trade on the whole is still very slow and draggy. In the export section a couple of loads of extra choice native steers sold at 37.40. In the butcher section a few loads of fair good quality steers sold around $6.25, but more butchers around $5.25 to $5.50.
