

Collegiate Students Win $1,275 Scholarship Total

Principal Miller Pleased at the Showing Made in Big Field.

WON EIGHT PRIZES

Announcement of the University of Western Ontario scholarships won by students of the London collegiate yesterday drew from Principal E. A. Miller, M.A., this morning expressions of pleasure that local collegiate scholars had done so well.

"I am quite delighted with the results," declared Mr. Miller, "and it is indeed encouraging to see the students of the collegiate doing so well and holding up London's end in the capturing of the scholarships at University of Western Ontario."

In all, eight scholarships were won by students of the central and south units, (no students competing from the east unit, to a total value of $1,275, besides ranking for a number of other scholarships which they were unable to hold on account of the ruling that no students can hold more than one scholarship.

The scholarships were won in competition with students from the whole province, but more particularly from the 14 Western Ontario counties. To hold any scholarship the winner must, of course, attend the university here.

Scholarships won by local collegiate students this year at University of Western Ontario are as follows:

Louise Wyatt, central collegiate—General proficiency scholarship, honor matriculation work, $100 cash, and four years' free tuition, value $300.

Arthur C. Hill, south collegiate—General proficiency scholarship, honor matriculation work, $100 cash, and four years' free tuition, value $300.

LAWYERS OUTNUMBER CLIENTS IN THIS COURT

Judge Macbeth presided at the first division court session this morning, when a fairly large list of disputes awaited settlement. No large amounts were involved. A feature of the morning's court was the unusually large representation of the legal profession, local firms all having one or two members on hand. A total count of lawyers on the floor showed that they outnumbered their clients nearly three to one.

LONDON KEEPS OUT OF TORONTO FIGHT

Refuses To Aid Queen City in Protesting Telephone Rates.

Little interest is being manifested by London in the effort by Toronto to obtain a reduction of telephone rates. The board of control of the Queen city instructed Corporation Counsel R. G. Geary to proceed with an application to the railway board to authorize a reduction of telephone rates to the basis obtaining prior to the 1919 increase.

The council of London and other Ontario municipalities toward Toronto's move has its origin, according to City Clerk Baker, to the fact that several years ago when the municipalities of Ontario were preparing to make a concerted effort to obtain lower phone rates, Toronto showed no disposition to join with them, and this aloofness proved a serious weakness to the cause. Under these circumstances Mr. Baker feels that London can well afford to bide its time until it is seen what progress Toronto makes toward getting the desired lower rates.

UNION TO CONSIDER VETERANS' APPEAL

Willing To Put 20-Piece Organization at Fair If Rule Is Altered.

Consideration will be given by the London Musicians' union at a special meeting tonight to the request of the London Veterans' Band, incorporated, to play at the Western Fair this year with 20 members, instead of 25 players, as called for by local regulations.

The Veterans' band had agreed to play before the grand stand at the fair but has since been informed within the past day or two that the fair board is desirous of having only 20 players instead of 25 as counted on by the band. Since the local union has standing a ruling that a union band of 25 members must be employed at the fair the Veterans' band promptly forwarded a request to the union to secure special permission to play with the smaller number and it is this request which will come before the executive tonight.

W. A. Bluetner, president of the union, will table tonight the letter from Tom Moore, Ottawa, president of the Dominion trades and labor congress, to the effect that no ruling will be forthcoming from government officials at Ottawa regarding the playing privileges of the Royal Canadian regiment band here in competition with union bands until such time as a somewhat similar controversy is settled at Winnipeg.

It is expected the Princess Patricia regimental band in that city. This is in accordance with the interview given the Advertiser by Mr. Bluetner earlier in the week.

The fair board is determined, it is said, to have only 20 men in the local bands before the grand stand, and unless this can be secured it is said to be the intention of the board to employ out of town organizations to provide the music at the fair.

BETTER UNDERSTANDING BY DOMINIONS URGED

President of Canadian Press Replies to Welcome by New Zealand Premier.

Associated Press Despatch. Wellington, N. Z., Aug. 28.—There was a remarkable scene at a banquet given by Premier Coates last night in honor of the visiting press delegates who are on their way to Australia to attend the imperial press conference in connection with a speech made by J. H. Woods, of the Calgary Herald, president of the Canadian Press.

Mr. Woods spoke for Canada in response to the welcoming words of Premier Coates following Lord Ruxton's speech at the imperial press conference. Mr. Woods eloquently appealed for tolerance and active sympathy among the dominions.

He said that the gathering rose and cheered Canada, and the New Zealanders scrambled to shake hands with Mr. Woods. They expressed admiration and good wishes for Canada.

Lord Burnham said he knew no country tried to raise men in the British breed than New Zealand. He paid a tribute to the staunch, independent women of New Zealand, who were living in the widest diffusion of happiness and comfort, without class hatreds or class divisions.

Lady Violet Astor, wife of Hon. J. J. Astor, chairman of the Times Publishing Company, who spoke on behalf of the ladies, asked the mothers of New Zealand to help immigration looking after the welfare of the young immigrants in the home.

Mr. Woods spoke on the subject of the mother country and good will towards the component parts of the British Empire was struck by the Premier Coates in welcoming the visitors said New Zealand yielded to no other dominion in the world in the matter of loyalty and patriotism and loyalty had been New Zealand's bulwark and safety in her days of national infancy. He spoke of New Zealand's growth which he thought had been phenomenal and that the population had doubled in the past decade.

Dwelling upon the unsolicited preference which New Zealand had given Great Britain Premier Coates asserted that 95 per cent of the government's orders for machinery last year had been placed in Great Britain.

SOUSA'S MARCHES REPLACING JAZZ

Paris Finds Old Favorites of Great Bandmaster Just Right For Modern Steps.

Associated Press Despatch. Paris, Aug. 28.—John Philip Sousa's stirring marches of Spanish-American war days are enjoying an unusual revival in the dancing resorts of the Montmartre and the newly-opened dispensaries of melody and champagne in the Latin quarter and Montparnasse.

Strangely, it is not the visiting Americans who demand encores of such old favorites as The Stars and Stripes Forever and National Emblem, but the native French and the sprinkling of other Europeans attracted to Paris by the exposition season.

The revival has amply proven—at least to dancing Paris—that the old works of the famous bandmaster are just as good for the modern one-step as for the two-step of McKinley and Roosevelt vintage. Furthermore, they provide welcome change from the overdone jazz, languorous tangos and the Java.
