GIRLS ARRESTED IN INGERSOLL.

Visited the Home of a London Friend, and, it is Alleged, Stole Rings and Wearing Apparel.

Two Ingersoll girls—Case and Smith by name, and about 18 years of age—were arrested in that town at a late hour Thursday night on the strength of a telephone message from this city, where they are wanted to answer a charge of theft.

The girls drove to London on Thursday afternoon to visit some friends, and before leaving for home early in the evening they called at the residence of Mr. Thorne, on King street, between William and Adelaide. There they spent but a short time. Ere they left, they went into the room occupied by Miss Thorne, with the expressed desire of making themselves more presentable, and while there, it is alleged, they stole two ladies' jackets, a number of shirt waists, two rings and other articles. The girls were not missed until Miss Thorne came home. The police were notified, and a message to the chief at Ingersoll resulted in the arrest of the girls and the recovery of the valuables.

NEW PRESIDENT FORMER LONDONER.

Entomological Society Made Good Choice in Prof. Lockhead.

The Entomological Society of Ontario, in selecting Prof. Lockhead, of the Ontario Agricultural College, to be their president for 1902-3, made a move that, while it reflects honor upon one of the younger generation of entomologists, was also a wise move from the standpoint of the success of the society. No more energetic and capable man could have been found. Prof. Lockhead was for two years science master of the London Collegiate Institute, and he is a brother of Mr. John Lockhead, of King street, city.

CRITICISED THE MINISTRY.

Messdames Thornley, of London, and Dettlor, of North Bay, Give Ministers Some Hard Knocks.

At the public meeting tendered the W. C. T. U. delegates and Lady Somerset at Toronto on Thursday night, under the name of "A Franchise Drill," conducted by Mrs. May Thornley, the ministry and the politicians of our country came in for some sharp criticism on account of their attitude towards the enfranchisement of women. Especially sharp was that by Mrs. Dettlor, of North Bay. She denounced the present monopoly of ministers in the control of the financial and general management of the churches. "The church is chiefly responsible for our subjection," she stated. Under existing circumstances we have no control in the management of our churches, and when the ministers would not trust us with any say in the management of the church, how could we expect to have any in the management of the financial and other affairs of the country. This gospel of all work for the women and all government for men is wrong, and must be stopped. The attitude of the church in this respect is our chief hindrance towards getting enfranchisement, and consequently the great hindrance in legislation being enacted at once that would be for the good of the country."

A motion was unanimously passed to the effect that women should receive political and ecclesiastical franchise.

ASSESSMENT OF STREET RAILWAY.

Arrangement Reached by the City and Company, LATTER TO PAY ON $100,000

On Poles, Rails, Wires and Bridges—Power House Assessment Undecided, Pending Decision in a Case in Appeal Court—Other Matters Before the Court of Revision.

The assessment of the London Street Railway Company for 1902 was agreed upon a sitting of the Court of Revision held yesterday afternoon. Resort to the law courts will therefore be unnecessary to settle a question which in years gone by has been the cause of much litigation.

The company will pay taxes on not less than a hundred thousand dollars. The total amount of their assessment was $188,100, but of this $67,000 on rolling stock, such as cars, etc., was exempt, leaving $121,100, for which the city held the company liable, on poles, rails, wires and bridges. The company wanted to have their assessment fixed at $98,000, the same as last year, and it was arranged that it should be placed at $100,000—a reduction of $21,100. This was satisfactory to both parties.

In addition to this the power house is assessed at $35,000, and the company contended that the plant is exempt. There is a case now pending in the Court of Appeal touching an assessment of this kind, and the city will be guided by the judgment in it. If it is held that the plant is assessable, the company will be called upon to pay taxes on the $35,000. If not, the assessment will be reduced to $115,000, making a total of $115,000, with the poles, wires, rails and bridges.

The $100,000 arrangement is for this year only.

The assessment of Wm. Left was reduced from $1,300 to $1,100.

Frank G. Westlake secured a reduction of $100 on personalty assessments.

The $300 income assessment of Peter Morrison, the C. P. R. engineer who died suddenly this week, was struck off.

The frontages on three local improvements were confirmed. Messrs. A. T. McMath, Sheriff Cameron and John Forrestal, City Solicitor Meredith, Ivey & Dromgole, solicitors for the street railway; Manager Carr, Assessment Commissioner Grant and Assessor Toll were present.

AFTER AN ABSENCE OF EIGHTEEN MONTHS.

Wm. Johnston Returns to London, and is Arrested on An Old Charge—The Pleadings of a Sister Pre-vailed.

After an absence from the city of eighteen months, Wm. Johnston returned to London a few days ago to visit his friends, and he was taken in charge by the police to stand trial for an alleged theft committed in April, 1901.

Johnston, before his leaving for parts unknown, was a boarder at the hotel kept by Francis E. Patton, and when he got behind with his board, and there was no immediate prospect of his paying up, he gave Patton a lien on his trunk and clothing as security for the indebtedness. He left without satisfying the lien, and when next heard of he was across the line, trunk and all. At the police court yesterday, Johnston was bailed for a day. A settlement may be made.

Charles W. Burton also appeared before the magistrate charged with the non-payment of statute labor tax. The case was dismissed, Burton producing a certificate that he was a member of the First Hussars, and was not, therefore, liable to the tax.

Two juveniles who stole a quantity of whiskey from a Lake Erie & Detroit River Railway car were allowed to go—one on suspended sentence, the other for three months, when he is to again appear before the court. The disposition of the case then will depend upon the conduct of the boy in the meantime. The magistrate was not inclined to be lenient, but he yielded to the pleadings of a sister, who promised to look after the boy.

HIS HOME IS BUILT WITH WALLS OF CEMENT.

Mr. Adam Lind Introduces New Style of House Construction Into London.

The first cement house to be built in this city has just been completed for Mr. Adam Lind, Bruce street. The building is of two stories, and is veneered with cement. Mr. Lind believes the new material in house construction will prove a great success. All kinds of good things are said in its favor.

The appearance of a house built of this material is that of gray stone, giving a most substantial effect. There is no unreality in the effect either, since, although on Mr. Lind's house the cement is not yet dry, it is scarcely possible to dislodge it with a sledge hammer.

The average thickness of the veneer is four inches, tapering slightly toward the roof. The veneer was formed of one part cement to four of gravel, while for the foundation, which is a thick, the proportion was one to six.

Cement houses are becoming common in certain parts of Ontario, and are growing in favor. One thing that is largely bringing this to pass is the fact of their cheapness. They are much less expensive than brick, and if properly constructed are believed to be more durable.

IN NEW AND MODIOUS PREMISES.

Stevley & Son, Who Were Burned Out in May, Are Now in Their Up-to-date Business Home.

The well-known firm of Wm. Stevley & Son are now located in their new premises at Nos. 302 and 304 Richmond street, and are in a position to supply the needs of their many patrons in a manner more satisfactory than at any previous time during their long business career.

The firm's stores were completely gutted by fire in May last, and with characteristic energy steps were immediately taken to have them rebuilt. The work is now completed, and it can be said that the establishment is now second to none. The entire ground floor, which is finished in oak, with metallic ceilings, is devoted entirely to offices, shipping room and show-rooms. The upper three stories are used as workshops and for repairing purposes, each floor being well lighted and modern in every other respect. An electric Otis elevator has also been installed.

The new premises have placed the firm in a position where they will on even shorter notice than heretofore be able to fill all orders. Besides stoves, gas radiators, etc., the firm also do an extensive business in furnaces, those handled by them being among the leaders in the market. Everything in the stores, in fact, is of the A1 quality, which the public demand.

SHE PATIENTLY BORE DISGRACE

A Sad Letter from a lady whose Husband was Dissipated.

How She Cured Him with a Secret Remedy.

"I had for years patiently borne the disgrace, suffering, misery and privations due to my husband's drinking habits. Hearing of your marvelous remedy for the cure of drunkenness, which I could give my husband secretly, I decided to try it. I procured a package and mixed it in his food and coffee, and, as the remedy was odorless and tasteless, he did not know what it was that so quickly relieved his craving for liquor. He soon began to pick up flesh, his appetite for solid food returned, he stuck to his work regularly, and we now have a happy home. After he was completely cured I told him what I had done, when he acknowledged that it had been his saving, as he had not the resolution to break off of his own accord. I heartily advise all women afflicted as I was to give your remedy a trial."

HER HUSBAND WAS A DRUNKARD

A Lady who cures her husband of his Drinking Habits writes of her struggle to save her home

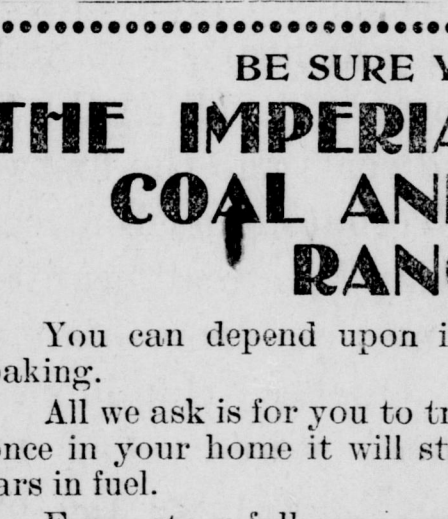

A PATHETIC LETTER

"I had for a long time been thinking of trying the Tasteless Samaria Prescription treatment on my husband for his drinking habits, but I was afraid he would discover that I was giving him medicine, and the thought unnerved me. I hesitated for nearly a week, but one day when he came home very much intoxicated and his usual salary nearly all spent, I threw off all fear and determined to make an effort to save our home from the ruin I saw coming at all hazards. I sent for your Tasteless Samaria Prescription, and put it in his coffee as directed next morning and watched and waited for the result. At noon I gave him more and also at supper. He never suspected a thing, and I then boldly kept right on giving it regularly, as I had discovered something that set every nerve in my body tingling with hope and happiness, and I could see a bright future spread out before me—a peaceful, happy home, a share in the good things of life, an attentive, loving husband, comforts and everything else dear to a woman's heart; for my husband had told me that whiskey was vile stuff and he was taking a dislike to it. It was only too true, for before I had given him the full course he had stopped drinking altogether, but I kept giving him the medicine till it was gone, and then sent for another lot, to have on hand if he should relapse, as he had done from promises before. He never has and I am writing you this letter to tell you how thankful I am. I honestly believe it will cure the worst cases."

HER FATHER WAS A DRUNKARD

A Plucky Young Lady takes on Herself to Cure her Father of the Liquor Habit.

A portion of her letter reads as follows:— "My father had often promised mother to stop drinking, and would do so for a time but then returned to it stronger than ever. One day after a terrible spree, he said to us: 'It's no use, I can't stop drinking.' Our hearts seemed to turn to stone, and we decided to try the Tasteless Samaria Prescription, which we had read about in the papers. We gave him the remedy, entirely without his knowledge, in his tea, coffee, or food regularly, according to directions, and he never knew he was taking it. One package removed all his desire for liquor, and he says it is now distasteful to him. His health and appetite are also wonderfully improved, and no one would know him for the same man. It is now fifteen months since we gave it to him and we feel sure that the change is for good. Please send me one of your little books, as I want to give it to a friend."

THE PRINCIPAL OF CITY GRADE SCHOOLS.

Guiding Hand at the Talbot Street School is a Clever Educationist.

One of the brightest minds upon the teaching staff of the public schools of this city is Mr. W. H. Liddicoat, principal of the Talbot street school. It is a fact well known to city educationists that the pupil who leaves the headmaster's room at Talbot street is equipped in no ordinary degree for the battles of life, whether or not fortune elects that he should further continue his studies. Mr. Liddicoat is original in his methods of instruction, and possesses in large measure the very desirable faculty of imparting knowledge.

INDUCTION SERVICE.

Rev. S. D. Jamieson New Pastor of Wardsville and Newbury.

The induction of Rev. S. D. Jamieson to the pastoral charge of Wardsville and Newbury, took place at 11 o'clock on Tuesday, Oct. 28th. The sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Shearer, of Melbourne. Rev. A. Henderson, of Appleton, addressed the minister, and Rev. Jas. Wilson, of Glencoe, addressed the people. Miss Tukess, a professional singer, of Bothwell, sang a beautiful solo. An anthem was prettily sung by a selected choir. After the induction, a grand dinner was served in the Town Hall. Following the dinner were fine addresses by Rev. Messrs. Shearer, Barnett, Wilson and Dr. MacDonald, of Kilmartin, after which Rev. James Wilson, moderator, of Glencoe, was presented with a well-filled purse. A happy day was brought to a close by all singing "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

FULLY CONVINCED.

I do not want to be too boastful, or make too strong statements about our clothing, but so great is my confidence in its superior merits, style, quality and value, that I can't help feeling every man should buy his clothes at this store, and that those who do, fare better than those who don't.

Suppose you test this statement on any suit or overcoat we have here now, and we have hundreds of them, a little better than before.
