

THE STANDARD.

ST. ANDREWS, WEDNESDAY, JULY 26, 1848.

ENGLISH MAIL—From the general tone of our English papers received by the Hibernia, it is evident that an important improvement has taken place in commercial affairs. Confidence in a great measure is restored—and a greater extent of business was doing than for some time past. The main causes which have contributed to this desirable state of things, are said to be—first “that the half yearly returns of the National Revenue shows somewhat better than had been apprehended, and the second, that order had been restored in France with the prospect of the establishment of a much stronger Government.”

Money continued to be abundant. The price of Flour and Provisions raised low.

There was an advance in the price of timber of 4d per foot.

In Ireland there appears to be a reaction amongst the Repeal party, matters are settling down into quiet. The proposition to unite the Repeal and Confederate parties is not making much progress.

The growing crops are promising an abundant yield.

POTATOE DISEASE.—In some few places we are informed the potatoe crop has been slightly attacked with the blight—but we are happy to learn not to any extent.

We beg leave to direct attention to an able article in our columns to day from our esteemed correspondent “F. S. A.” upon “Internal Improvements.”

STEAMERS.—The travelling public have now the satisfaction of having two Steamers plying between St John and Boston viz., the Senator and Admiral which leave these places alternately three times a week touching at Eastport. The Steamer Mail of Erin also continues to run once a week to Portland, where she connects with the Railway to Boston. The Commodore runs twice a week to Digby, Annapolis and Windsor. The “Herald” to Halifax touching at Yarmouth, Liverpool &c. Steamers also run every morning and evening between St. John and Fredericton. Mr. Whitney intends putting a Steamer on the route to Sackville.

The Steamer Nequasset runs regularly between Eastport St. Andrews & Calais and returns every day.

The person apprehended at Calais last week and brought here on suspicion of being Bows, the murderer of Mr. Goff at St. John, was examined on Friday last before Jacob Allan Esq. Police Magistrate, who was present with one of the city constables from St. John to identify Bows—but the prisoner was not the man and was therefore acquitted.
