men of the Province is, that no part of the Custom House daties have been more kindly performed, than that towards coasters, espe-cially when the ignorance of many of the Masters, the great difficulties in regard to tides, and the many short voyages are con-sidered—and we rejoice that the interests of the Province are thus likely to be promoted while both the Customs and the Coasters will be relieved from much and very unneces-sary loss of time, and from great vexation and trouble. The coasting Licences granted by their forvernment to the small vessels of the United States, have done more to encourage their mercantile marine, than any other circum-stance connected with their 'trade—for, as a matter of course, whatever promotes the cheapness of coasting freight, immediately acts on foreign commerce by enabling the export cargoes to be invoiced at cheaper rates, and we doubt not, that the good effects of this measure will be immediately felt here and also that the numbers of our coasters will be found to increase in no ordinary measure.
