Henry M. Whitney On the Advantages of Reciprocity

HE SAYS THAT IT WOULD BE EASIER AND CHEAPER FOR PEOPLE OF CANADA TO FIND A MARKET IN UNITED STATES, THAN IN DIS-TANT LANDS.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—Considerable political importance was attached to the luncheon given by the directors of the National Exhibition in the Administration Building today on account of the presence of Mr. H. M.
Whitney, who is the Democratic candidate for the Governorship of Massachusetts, and of the speech he delivered in favor of reciprocity between Canada and the United States. Mr.
Whitney has made this issue a plank in his platform. He condemned the Dingley tariff in respect that it did not recognize the irregularities of labor, and advocated a revision on scientific lines that would place it on a desirable basis. He controverted the view that the great prosperity was due to Dingley tariff, it had been attributable to development of their agricultural resources, and expressed regret at the treatment Sir Wilfrid Laurier received at Washington.

The advantage of reciprocity to the people of Canada, he claimed, would be that it would be easier and cheaper to find a market in the United States than in distant lands. The proposition he was advocating was that competent experts should determine in the first place the whole cost of labor on any protected article, and then the difference between that and the existing tariff should be taken off in ten years, at yearly reductions of ten per cent, so that at the end of ten years the tariff would stand on a basis of the full labor cost of the article. The chairman, President W. K. George, criticized Mr.
Whitney's views, declaring that Canadians were unwilling to remain any longer hewers of wood and drawers of water.

Trials of the treatment are being made out free, on request, by Dr.
Shoop, Racine, Wis. These tests are proving to the people without a penny's cost—the great value of this scientific prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy. Sold by Royal Pharmacy.

NOVA SCOTIA PROTECTING GAME.

The open season for game hunting in Nova Scotia does not commence until October 1st. It cannot be said that Nova Scotia extends as open a hand to visiting sportsmen as do other provinces, but there is no doubt that moose have been greatly on the increase and that golden opportunities exist in many sections which can be easily reached by those desirous trying their luck there. This, too, in the face of an amount of illegal slaughter in recent years that is positively astonishing. Nova Scotia has, however, more recently joined in the movement for the better protection of game, and the years to come are likely to bring about a much better condition of affairs in this respect. The open season extends to the last of December, and no one may kill more than two moose in one season. Caribou and deer are protected until 1910 and moose are entirely protected in the island of Cape Breton until 1915.
The non-resident license fee is $30.

HIGH TRUCE OF GOD.

Thus Campbell-Bannerman Describes Relations With U. S.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, speaking at Manchester, said they should be thankful that Mr. Balfour has at last been brought into line on the question of colonial preference, but he might have refrained from collapsing in penitent form until the guests of the nation had returned home, and the movement to create dissensions between the Government and the colonies had been defeated.
Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, quoting Sir Wilfrid Laurier, said that Europe is living in an armed camp.
He described the 3,000 miles of frontier between the United States and Canada, and continued: "What could be finer than this high truce of God—(cheers)—under which the two free sister nations have resolved to live within the security of that delectable barrier, to banish these symbols of strife, prejudice and suspicion, from their highway frontier? (Cheers.) Is the relationship so established less noble than those which subsist between the nations of the old world, nations which still hug the ancient blasphemy that armed force is the only title to respect, the only guarantee of security? I think not. The new world has shown us a more excellent way. Heaven help these great confederations of free people. May they continue to prosper, and to go on in all that makes for real strength of State, to maintain in all its radiance their bright example." (Cheers.)

HOW BURBANK GRASPED OPPOR- TUNITY.

Luther Burbank's early life in California was attended by many hard experiences. He was very poor, and was obliged to take any work that came to hand. He cleaned out chicken-coops, helped in market-gardens, got an odd job here and another there, passed through a very severe illness, went "on the tramp" for work until finally he was able to start a little nursery on his own account. Then he was on his own ground with a fair start. To outsiders he seemed an honest, hard-working young fellow, who might make his living, but not much more. Then, all at once he did something that made those who knew about it look at him. An order came for 20,000 young prune-trees.
Could he fill it in nine months? He hadn't a prune tree on the place, and how was he going to supply 20,000 in nine months? He got together all the men and boys he could find, to plant almond for him. They grew rapidly.
When they were ready, he had 20,000 prune-buds ready for them, and in a short time the prunes were budded into the growing almonds, and before the time was up the trees were delivered to the delighted customer. And I have seen these 20,000 prune-trees.
They are growing today, and it is California. From "A Little Seed to the home of Luther Burbank," by George Wharton James, in the August Century.

TO PREVENT STRIKES.

The Labor Dispute Act, or as it is called, the Conciliation Act, is now in force.
The penalties are severe, 14th for employer and employee, as the following clauses show:
59. Any employer declaring or causing a lockout, contrary to the provisions of this Act, shall be liable to a fine of not less than one thousand dollars, for each day or part of a day that such a lockout exists.
60. An employee who goes on strike contrary to the provisions of this Act shall be liable to a fine of not less than ten dollars and not more than fifteen dollars for each day or part of a day that such employee is on strike.
63. If an employee goes on strike by reason merely of the fact that his employer has employed, or is about to employ some person not a member of a trade union, he shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty dollars.
In every such case it shall be the duty of the employer, to satisfy the court that he went on strike by reason of some facts other than those mentioned in this section.
The Capitalist nor the P. W. A., the terror of most all employers of labor, cannot hereafter order a lock-out nor a strike without 30 days' notice, and then the matter has to go before a board of inquiry.
This Labor Act is one of the most practical and sensible ever put on our Federal Statute Book.

"BLACK ART" REDIVIVUS.

From time to time various identical stage illusions crop up with a regularity that seems to be dependent only upon the bad memory of the show-goer. We have recently had a revival of the mysterious and uncanny "black art" in this country in the "Wizard of Oz," and in London, under the direction of Mr. J. N. Maskelyne, the well-known magician, "black art" has always lent itself to spiritualistic purposes as in the present case. When the curtain rises the stage is empty. Mr. Maskekyne enters with a friend, who is introduced to provide the usual scene associated with spirit mediums. The actor in the course of a few minutes appears to go into a trance, and almost immediately a filmy cloud of vapor is seen to be issuing from his left side. In a few seconds a human hand appears followed by a head and body, until at last the complete figure of a woman clad in light draperies apparently in a trance is visible. The woman walks across the stage, to the footlights, opens her eyes in apparent wonder, exclaims, "Where am I?" The illusion has produced a profound sensation in London, and many were the theories which have been put forward.
The true solution is however found in the so-called "black art." In this illusion the entire stage from the first groove to the rear is hung with black velvet, the floor covered with black felt, and the top also thus forming a room lined with black.
The woman is garbed entirely in black and is provided with a black mask. The garments are made in sections adapted to be pulled away piecemeal until she is completely exposed in light raiment. Black cords manipulated by attendants behind the black back cloth pull away the black covering in detail or all at once. The number and style of tricks performed in the mysterious black chamber are almost unlimited. This is one of the most expensive stage illusions, costing several hundred dollars to properly stage it with the best drapery and accessories, and unless such are used the proper illusory effect is lost. In magic as well as in other business cheap apparatus is dear at any price.

THE NEW UNIVERSAL LANGUAGE.

Recently the "Esperantists" had a congress at Cambridge, England. This is the third congress of these promoters of a universal language, and they have faith in their scheme is plain from the fact that they are rapidly increasing their membership.
Nine hundred delegates were expected at Cambridge, while not half that number attended the Boulogne congress in 1904. They had a programme of play as well as of work laid out.
"Sho's stoops to conquer" was produced in Esperanto by eleven performers hailing from as many different countries, and "God save the King" was also sung in Esperanto.

A Simla despatch says that the Indian government announces that the Plague Commission, which has just finished the first stage of its inquiry, decided that the bubonic plague is spread by rats, that the vehicle of the contagion is the rat flea and that the plague germ in the floors and walls is of short duration.
The government recommends the destruction of rats, the improvement of the construction of houses, and the reduction of the food supplies of rats by the protection of grain stores.
