Woman's Board.

The hearts of many of our sisters are just now turning, with very pleasant anticipations, towards Montreal, and the eighth annual meeting of the Board, to be held there on the 13th and 14th of June. We hope to see a goodly number of delegates in attendance, and urge all those who possibly can to be there. As previously intimated, Dr. Pauline Root, of Madura, India, will (D.V.) be with us, and is to give an address each evening. Mrs. Macallum, President of the Board, who was prevented from being with us at our last annual meeting, is expected to preside. We earnestly ask those of our friends who will not be with us, to have the meetings constantly in remembrance in their prayers. Will they remember especially all those who are arranging for the meetings, and all who are to take part in any way, so that this gathering may result in much blessing to every Society connected with the Board?

Intending delegates are advised to purchase return tickets to Montreal, and will kindly notify Mrs. Chas. Gurd, 65 McGill College Avenue, as early as possible of their intention to be present.

We hope to give in the July number, a sketch of Miss Anna Barker, the most recent addition to the list of our Canadian Congregational young ladies at work in the foreign field.

Forest Young Women's Auxiliary sends an account of a bright little entertainment given by its members recently. Their Secretary says: "We have been studying China lately, and have found it very interesting. On the 26th April we held a Chinese entertainment in the church, which proved very successful. The church was decorated very prettily with Chinese lanterns, etc. A missionary map hung across the front of the church over which was draped a Chinese flag. A table covered with Chinese curiosities stood near for inspection. The programme consisted of a map exercise by Miss Rawlings, which was very instructive, a paper by Miss McCormick on 'The First Missionaries, Morrison and Milne'; a paper on 'China,' by Miss Hindley; readings and recitations by Misses Livingstone, Wilson, McGregor and Taylor, assisted by the Junior Band, interspersed with musical selections. Short speeches were given by Rev. W. Hindley, Rev. D. S. Hamilton, and Mr. A. F. Pollock, which were listened to with great interest." This energetic young Auxiliary has done a wise thing in deciding to have a library of missionary books and papers.

"THE CITY OF INGERSOLL."

BY E. PAYSON HAMMOND.

A few years ago Chaplain McCabe and I were appointed to take charge of the meetings for ten days at Round Lake, where summer after summer from three to five thousand have assembled at the annual gatherings in a lovely spot, a few miles south of Saratoga. One day as my wife and I were leaving Cleveland, we were glad to meet our friend, the chaplain, and to talk about the meetings to commence in a few months at Round Lake. While we were chatting he laid his hand on my shoulder and said: "Sit closer and hear my dream. Perhaps you can make some suggestion that will improve it." He then told me his ideas about it, and with occasional suggestions he repeated to me substantially the following. I was so struck with the way it opened that I said: "This ought to be printed." We called my wife, who was near by, to write down the dream as it was repeated. This she did while the cars were in motion. After it was finished he said: "You can make any use of it you please." The next day, Sunday, I began a series of meetings in Dr. J. B. Shaw's church, in Rochester, N. Y., and as this remarkable dream was still vividly impressed upon my mind, I repeated it to a large audience. Dr. Shaw was greatly pleased and said that it was better calculated to undermine infidelity in the
