

The Newest Dreadnought Londoners are very proud of the new battleship because it is being built on the Thames instead of the Clyde or at Belfast. The First Lord of the Admiralty says that H.M.S. "Thunderer" will be second to none afloat. This is a view from the Admiral's bridge, showing the forward guns.

New Type of Gun These are the new type guns amidships on board the new Thames Dreadnought, "Thunderer," which are technically designated as 13.5.
—Topical, photo.