

An Organ Story

A young lady living not far from Charlottetown, decided to purchase an organ.

She got prices from several dealers, including ourselves, but considered them too high.

An ad., offering a good organ at a low figure, caught her eye.

She ordered it, paid her money, paid freight, cartage, etc., etc.

Only to find at the end of six months that the organ was no good.

Got out of order ; couldn't be repaired.

She came to us and bought a new one—with our guarantee—and she has no more trouble.
