

Provided however that, notwithstanding the foregoing provisions for termination of the present Agreement, Article V hereof shall remain in force for as long as any material, nuclear material, equipment and facilities supplied pursuant to this Agreement and any special nuclear material produced therefrom or thereby shall remain in existence and shall not have been returned by the receiving or producing Contracting Party to the supplying Contracting Party.