

"WHY I AM A METHODIST."

shall not conclude with anything so painfully like a 'farewell' or 'funeral address' as those affecting and touchingly pathetic sentences at the conclusion of friend Layman's last letter. Nor shall I take time or space to recapitulate, but hope, if spared, and necessity should arise, to again find time to write, and that you, Mr. Editor, will afford space to print my letters in the columns of your excellent journal.

Meantime I remain,

Yours sincerely,

JAMES LAWSON.

Methodist Parsonage, Cobden, Ont.

ERRATA.

In letter No. 2, page 4, fifth line from bottom of first column, for eight read eighth.

Page 4, second column, line 21 from bottom, for ordinarily read evidently 'ordinarily,' and for refer read refers.

Page 5, first column, line 21 from top, for attend read attends.

In letter No. 3, page 2, first column, line 4 from bottom, for difference read different.

Page 3, second column, line 18 from top, for works read words.

Before the word 'works' add 'as they are'.

Before the word 'works' add 'as they are'.