

ore and can be elf, yet, publish y conscience ich has
, comttained

CONTENTS.

CHAPTER I.

INTRODUCTORY CHAPTER.

| | PAGE |
|--|------|
| Importance of the Subject—Difficulty of the Subject—Inactivity of the Savage Intellect—Condition of the Lowest Races of Men—Curious Customs with reference to Mothers-in-Law—La Couvade—Reasons for La Couvade—Savage Ideas on the Influence of Food—Curious Ideas with reference to Portraits—Use of Prayers as Medicine—Savage Ideas of Disease—Medical Treatment among Savages—Fancies about Twins—Life attributed to Inanimate Objects—Salutations | 1 |

CHAPTER II.

ART AND ORNAMENTS.

| | |
|---|----|
| Art as an Ethnological Character—Ancient Art—Art in Africa—Esquimaux Drawings—The Quippu—Picture-writing—Indian Census Roll—Indian Tombstones—Picture-writing in North America—Indian Biography—Indian Petition—Rock Sculptures—Savage Ornaments—Cheek Studs—Labrets—Ornamentation of the Skin—Tribe Marks—Tattooing—Artificial Alteration of Form—Hairdressing—Feejee Head-dresses | 41 |
|---|----|

CHAPTER III.

MARRIAGE AND RELATIONSHIP.

| |
|---|
| The Position of Women among Savages—Absence of Affection in Marriage—Absence of Marriage—Relationship among Savages—Different Kinds of Marriage—Polyandry—Separation of Husband and Wife—Absence of Marriage Ceremony—Marriage Ceremonies—Relationships Independent of Marriage—South Sea System of Relationship—Toda System of Relationship—Prevalence of Adoption—The Milk-tie—Original or Communal Marriage—Origin of Mar- |
|---|