Work, Say City Missionaries.

> City Mission Board was held in the board room of the Upper Canada Tract Society yesterday afternoon. Vice-President C. McD. Hay presided. There was a good aftendance and the eports were full of interest.

The three missionaries have been kept busy since the new year in systematic house to house visiting in the worst parts of the city, and have met worst parts of the city, and have met with a number of very sad cases. Their first work is to tell of Christ, and to show the care and love of Christions toward the suffering and unfortunate. Nearly 700 families were visited and 60 applications for aid were investigated and 45 received the necessary assistance in food, fuel and clothing, according to their needs, six of those receiving one-quarter or one-half ton of coal; the remainder were supplied with provisions from the mission store room. The total amount expended during January from the relief fund during January from the relief fund was $103.25. Several cases of fraud were also exposed. Assistance was also given the Smith family on Ashdale avenue since the father was killed on the railway a week ago. Drink is doing its terrible work, and wife deertion is far too common.

The jail continues to be as crowded as ever. The jall farm has given no relief. Fourteen services were held there during the month. Rev. Robert Hall has been instructed to be on the outlook for another missionary to assist him in the growing work.

Mr. H. L. Stark, treasurer, presented his report and showed $220 due the

GOTHAM REVELS IN PLETHORA OF EGGS

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(Can. Press.)
—Eggs, always a favorite article of food during Lent, promise to be unusually plentiful and cheap during the Lenten season now beginning, according to a statement by the New York Mercantile Exchange today.

"Because of our unprecedentedly mild weather the production of new eggs is above the usual volume for this early season," says the statement, "and prime fresh eggs are quoted today in the wholesale market at 26 to 26 1-2 cents per dozen, as compared with 38 to 29 cents on the same day last year, showing a saving to the consumer of 12 1-2 cents a lozen in this important commodity.

"Meanwhile considerable supplies of prefrigerators of the consumer of the considerable supplies of the consumer that the consumer is the consumer that the consumer is the consumer to the consumer that the consumer is the consumer to t efrigerator eggs remain in storage, ufficient, probably, to supply the heaper distributive channels for a month at very moderate prices. If the child's mouth is not given onstant and patient care and sometimes, even in spite of care, if the child is not in good health or the teeth in good structure-it is not long before the little one is in distress. He cannot tell you exactly what the trouble is, but cold water or anything sweet makes his teeth hurt him. You know what that first toothache means, know what that first toothache means, and if you are wise you both take a trip to the dentist immediately. If proper care is not given these first teeth a long train of evil results may follow: Sleepless nights. unmasticated food, nervousness, indigestion, loss of the tooth. And if the tooth should be lost two or three years before nature intended it to go, the jaw contracts at this point instead of growing, and when the permanent teeth arrives it finds the place closed up by the moving together of the adjoining teeth, and the new tooth is forced out of e, and has often to be removed en-

At about the time of the sixth birthday, the four first permanent molars, one on each side in each jaw, are working their way into position just back of the primary set. At about the same time, the permanent incisors are replacing the temporary incisors. At about the 12th year four more large molars appear behind the first molars, and much later the four third molars, or "wisdom teeth," take their place back of the second molars.

I cannot impress too strongly that from the time the teeth make their appearance they should be given the most diligent care. A good dentifying most diligent care. A good dentifrice should be employed at least twice a day—morning and night—and a brush and water after each meal. It is no more trouble to brush the teeth five
