

REMARKS ON POWEL'S TREATMENT
HOW TO GOVERN HORSES OF ANY KIND.

These instructions are very good, but not quite sufficient for horses of all kinds, and for haltering and leading the colt; but I have inserted it here because it gives some of the true philosophy of approaching the horse. He speaks only of the kind that fear man.

To those who understand the philosophy of horsemanship, these are the easiest trained, for when we have a horse that is wild and lively, we can train him to our will in a very short time; for they are generally quick to learn, always ready to obey. But there is another kind that are of a stubborn or vicious disposition, and although they are not wild, and do not require taming, in the sense it is generally understood, they are just as ignorant as a wild horse, if not more so, and need to be learned just as much; and in order to have them obey you quickly, it is very necessary that
