HAMILTON, Nov. 28. — (Special.)—
The dity council to-night decided to ask the hydro-electric commission to extend the time at which the city can enter into a full co-operative contract with the commission from Dec. 21 next to the same date next year. At present the city has contracted for only 1000 horsepower, and it has until the end of next month to enter into the general scheme.

It was also decided to ask the government for legislation, chabling the city to hold the municipal elections on New Year's Day, and the nominations on the Wednesday before Christmas. Legislation wil lalso be sought permit. Iting the election of controller for two-year ferms, which would mean the election of two each year. The resignation of James McFarlane as chief engineer at the Beach pumping station was accepted, and a resolution of appreciation of his nifty years in the service of the city adopted. The appoint ment of James Bain as his successor, at a salary of $1500 a year, and of Robert Hunter as his assistant, at a salary of $1500 a year, and of Robert Hunter as his assistant, at a salary of $1500 a year, was confirmed. The eighty-seventh anniversary of the First Methodist Church was celebrated to-night by a church tea. The speakers included Rev. R. J. Treleaven of Carlton-street Methodist Church and William Butler of this city.

A sacred concert was given by the choir of Machab-street Presbyterian Church to-night, under the direction of Mrs. Harold Hamilton. Mrs. Campbel of Toronto was the soloist.

Quoting derisively from Mr. Borden's amendment to that offered by Mr. Monk: "We beg to assure his excel-

That currency has so de-preciated, that no responsible shipbuild er would take a cartload of it to build a warship." If Mr. Borden's amend-ment carried, nothing would be done in the matter of defence for two

"What?" cried the minister of customs in stentorian tones, "will the imperialist friends of the opposition thank of them now?" It was the belief of Mr. Monk that Canada was doing chough, and should not be expected to build a navy. Mr. Borden was evidently of the same opinion now. If there was any canger to British naval supremacy last year, that danger was worse this year, and, if consistent, the of position should suggest a gift of two Dreadnoughts, instead of one.
Richard Blain (Conservative, Peel), referred to a rumored merger of the International Harvester Company and Massey-Harris Company with several large United States concerns, to nullify the action of the tariff, and criticized the minister of customs for not preventing it. He thought the Liberal party was open to a charge of disloy-alty, founded on its connection with the Durham letter of 1891, written by

.Edward Blake. Mr. Blain pointed out that duries Miller (S. Grey) had used these words: Miller would repeat his assertions. ments of an express messenger who "I said that, judged by their ac- lived in the vicinity."

Better Off Without the Lands.

D. B. Neeley (Liberal, Sask.), declared that the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan were better off without having the administration of their public lands than they would be if they were given the lands, as Mr. Borden suggested. At the present time the provinces were getting a subsidy, but, if they got the lands, there would be no income from the free homesteaded lands.

He criticized Mr. Borden for his demand that the government had been dilatory regarding the question of the grain elevators. On the other hand, he said, under the legislation of the present government, the condition of the grain trade was a hundred per cent. better than it was twelve years ago.

Dr. Sproule (East Grey) declared there was an absolute need for a plebiscite or reference to the people on the naval question, and described the governments attitude as "arbitrary, autocratic, tyrannical, and out of harmony with the principles of constitutional government, as known and carried out by the imperial parliament and the colonial dependencies of the empire."

The Hudson Bay Railway.

The Hudson Bay Railway.

He condemned the government for its apathetic policy towards the Hudson Bay Railway. The construction of a bridge across the Saskatchewan River at the Pas Mission was poor management, because it was not known whether a bridge dt that point would serve the railway when located.

Furthermore, if the government make no better progress with that bridge than it had done with the Quebec bridge, he was inclined to sympathize with the people of the west.

Discussing the fiscal situation, Dr. Sproule charged the government with being without a fixed policy of any kind. The feeling of the country, he asserted, was totally against reciprocopened a week's engagement at the Grand last evening, and was well received. Few plays of recent times have shown as much of heart interest. It is a wholesome drama, and one that must find an appeal wherever a nature exists that acknowledges sentiment.

Dr. Schaffner, one of the Conservative members from Manitoba, has given notice of the following resolution:

The scenes are laid in the wilderness of Michigan about 100 years ago. Antoine Campeau of Montreal, his wife and their two little daughters, Leah and Octavia, were among the earlier of the hardy settlers who blazed their way thru the forests that are now Detroit and its flourishing adjacent territory. Leah is dark, indicating her French ancestry on the father's side, while Octavia has the golden hair and blue eyes of her English mother. Campeau goes on a hunt one day, allowing Leah to accompany him. He is slain Prince Cassin was well filled by Geo.
Leon Moore, who sang with much acceptance. Harry MacDonough was seen to advantage in the part of Maboul, Robert G. Pitken was successful in the role of Noah Vale and H. David Todd deserved the appreciation he received in his presentation of Bashker, the marriage broker.

The chorus is exceptionally good, the staging superb and the presentation was received with marked approval, It will be repeated during the week, with Saturday matinee only.

A Great Vaudeville Bill. There is far and away the strongest bill at Shea's this week that has been provided since the opening of the new house. Edwards Davis' clever playlet of Oscar Wilde's epigrammatic sem. "The Picture of Dorian Gray" is the most pretentiously dressed sample of one act drama which has been seen here. An altogether optimistic love story has been evolved without losing the caustic witticisms which are the chief charm of the text. The title role is ably handled by Miss Adele Blood, a woman of rare beauty. The cynical role, which has always proved too sombre for the success of other dramatizations of the piece, has been saved by making it an actor's part, played only for effect, so that if some or the only for effect, so that if some or the lines are daring, the sting is washed away when you find that they were only used as a means for the greater teaching of optimism. Altogether it is an artistic effort not often seen in vaudeville.

Howard and North are back with their delightful bit of human appeal, more humanous, more human and more senuine all the way thru. Then there is Jack Wilson with his wife, Ada Lane, and Franklyn Batte with the golden voice. Jack is as funny as ever, and his clothes are funner yet. Belle Adair, a dainty newcomer, has a pleasing assortment of songs which she sings with real witchery. Jack Connelly and Margaret Webb, have a piano act with a novel hurricane finish. There is some good comedy as well as a deal of good catchy music in the Four Musical Hodges' offering, and The Kratons are surely wizards with the hoops which they make perform wondrous antics. Rice, Sully and Scott have a good comedy tumbling act and the motion pictures are new and good.

At the Gayety.

A bright, bubbling, breezy entertainment is that which the well-known burlesque organization, Rose Sydell's London Belles, offer at the Gayety. "The Girl from Sherry's," an extravanganza with an elaborate setting, it a highly diverting concoction of comedy and music, introducing a chorus which in looks, coetume and singing qualities leaves little to be desired. Many of the Gayety's steady patrons gave the verdict last night that this is the best show of the season to date.

Rose Sydell as the "Girl" is charming as usual, and her songs, which are well rendered, have a pleasing lift. John Weber shows up in excellent style as a Dutch comedian. The other principals, including Monta Parker, are all good.

After a decision to lead a Christian life, the recruit was not an efficient soldier of Jesus Christ until, like the soldier in a British regiment, he had become so by preparation.
