HENNESSEY'S LEASE STORE AT 117 YONGE AT $10,000 AND TAXES

A Montreal Shoe Company
Takes Lease for Ten Years of 163 Yonge at $5280 a Year and Taxes.

Hennessey Drug Stores, Limited, have taken a ten year lease of the store now occupied by C. C. Cummings at 117 Yonge street, on which the present lease runs out next February. J. P. Hennessey's lease of his store at 107 Yonge street, just below Adelaide, does not expire for a year and a half, and the intervening time he will use to install his fixtures and fittings and remodel the building. A. G. Spalding and Son, who are the present tenants of the store, have agreed to pay the Cummings place $10,000 a year, which at present are about $1400 a year. The property is owned by the Cummings and J. P. Hennessey.

There is a chance that Mr. Hennessey will be able to make new arrangements with his present lessors, the Cummings estate, to continue at his stand, in which case he will sell the lease of No. 117. There should be no difficulty doing this, as Yonge street leases below Queen are in great demand. One prominent real estate agent has on his waiting list a half dozen firms who want Yonge street stores.

A Cosgrove Building Lease.

The shoe company that has taken over C. C. Cummings' business closed a lease yesterday for 163 Yonge street, one of the stores in L. J. Cosgrove's building. They will pay $5280 a year and the land taxes for fifteen feet frontage. The lease was secured from A. G. Spalding and Son and for a ten year term. Sydney B. Roberts negotiated the transaction.

The store the leasees will open will be their second in Toronto and one of a string of shoe stores to be established in the city, with headquarters in Montreal.
