Our Toy Display

There is one feature of the holiday season that we enjoy more than any other, and that is entertaining the little folks. What an interesting entertainment our Toy display is for them! No matter when or how often they come there's always something new and novel to attract attention. Santa Claus with his loaded pack, the performing Pianist, the braying Donkey, the Railway Train and Tracks, the Mechanical Acrobat, Hot Air Engines, Dolls of every description, etc., etc. But why run over the list when these and many more may be seen so easily? That's why we want parents to bring the children. Come with them now. Before noon is the best time. The pleasure they derive will more than repay you for the time spent.

ONE CENT MORNING PAPER.

THE STANDARD OIL COMPANY IN CANADA.

There is no doubt that the Standard Oil Co. has extended its operations to this country and that Canada is now within the grasp of the great monopoly. For two or three years back special agents of the Standard Oil people have exploited the oil fields of Western Ontario. After doing up the situation and bargaining with the various concerns, they secured practical possession of the whole district for their clients, the Standard Oil magnates. Having got possession of the oil fields within the country, the monopoly is now perfecting a scheme for getting complete control of the refined oil coming into this country from the United States. The methods adopted by the Standard Oil Co. in doing up rival concerns are not new. They are putting into force in Canada the same tactics that have been instrumental in making them the greatest monopoly in the U. S. Their action in regard to the oil trade in Hamilton is illustrative of their methods generally.

We learn from a correspondent that in the spring of this year there were three wholesale oil companies in that city, viz., the Star Oil Works, the Imperial Oil Works and the Hamilton Oil Co. The first two were branches of a Toronto concern, which is virtually the Standard Oil Co. During the summer the Toronto company secured control of the Hamilton Oil Co., thereby monopolizing the oil trade of Hamilton and the Niagara Peninsula. The price of oil immediately advanced 1-2 cent per gallon and later on 1 cent, while the three establishments were merged into two. This stifling of competition had the effect of bringing a new concern into existence, the Sun Oil Refining Co., which began operations a short time ago. The monopoly is now endeavoring to drive this rival out of the field, and as a first attempt in that direction it reduced the price of oil to cost. The next move was to secure a big advance in freight rates. We are informed that the first increase in these rates was from 10-12 cents per cwt. to 16 cents. The Hamilton Herald states that the freight rates on oil from Toledo and Buffalo to Canadian centres have lately been increased from fifty to sixty per cent. For example, it is mentioned that the rate from Toledo to Hamilton has been changed from 17 to 23 1-2 cents, while the rate from Buffalo to Montreal has been increased from 17 1-2 to 35 cents. While the railway rates have thus increased on imported oil, no change has been made in the rates on the oil shipped from Sarnia and Petrolia, which territory is controlled by the company. It is well known that the Standard Oil Co., on account of its immense business, has been able to make deals with the railway companies in the United States, whereby it obtains rebates which are not granted to its rivals. It looks as if similar pressure was being applied to the Canadian railway companies, and that the latter are being used to further the designs of the monopoly and to assist in placing Canada under the control of this great modern octopus.

ANTI-SALPING LAW ULTRA VIRES
The anti-salping law of New York has been declared ultra vires of the State Legislature by the Court of Appeals. The act, which went into effect in Sept. 1897, made it a criminal offence to issue, sell or offer to sell any passage ticket on any vessel or railway train, unless the seller be an authorized agent of the owners of the vessel or of the company running such train. The court took the ground that railway tickets are simple property, the same as a horse or watch, and are therefore negotiable. It upheld the right of a citizen to buy and sell them. The decision, it is claimed, will put a serious damper on the movement to secure a Federal law prohibiting the brokerage of tickets. The situation has been accepted as far as the State of New York is concerned, and, according to Mr. Dewey, the railways will probably give up the fight in that state. We take it that the common law of the United States is the same as that of Great Britain and Canada, and if a railway ticket is declared by the judges of that country to be common property, it would not be surprising if the judges of this country were to render a similar judgment, if the question were submitted to them. It is certainly straining the law to make the sale of a ticket by an ordinary passenger a criminal offence. If a case were submitted to the courts it would probably be found that the act now in force is ultra vires of the Canadian Parliament.

MASSEY HALL.
The continued existence and success of Massey Hall surely does not depend upon the exemption of the building from municipal taxes. These amount to only about $1000 a year. The fact that the receipts of the Hall are one thousand dollars a year less than the expenses is no justification for the threat of the trustees to close it up. The shortage is a comparatively small item, so small indeed that we would not like to see a good principle violated in order to make up this petty deficiency. If Massey Hall cannot succeed without having its taxes remitted it cannot succeed at all. There is surely a way to finance the institution so as to make both ends meet. If Massey Hall has come so near paying expenses during the past four years, when times have been so bad, the prospect of its making a surplus in the immediate future should be encouraging. The receipts of the hall would, we think, be increased if the public were taken

LE ROI SHARES IN LONDON.

London and Globe and B.A.C. Inviting Subscriptions.

200,000 FIVE POUND SHARES

Purchase Price is $250,000, Payable in Cash, or Its Equivalent—Marquis of Dufferin and Other Noblemen on the Directorate—Anglo-Canadian Trade Booming—Ridiculous Reports About Anticosti.

Montreal, Dec. 6.—(Star Cable).—The long looked-for Le Roi mine is at last before London investors. The London and Globe Corporation and British America Corporation today invite subscriptions of 200,000 shares, at each, in the Le Roi Company, Limited. The purchase price is $250,000, payable in cash, or fully-paid shares, leaving $50,000 for working capital. The directors are the Marquis of Dufferin, Lord Loch, Whitaker, Wright and Andrews of Sheffield, the first three named being directors of the British America Corporation. Great things are hoped for in the way of a British Columbia mining boom here, if the Le Roi is well placed on this market.

Anglo-Canadian Trade.
Anglo-Canadian trade is showing notable signs of activity, presumably partly as a result of the new tariff. The High Commissioner's office has received this week eleven different enquiries from firms in Doncaster, Leicester, Dundee, Glasgow, Manchester, Liverpool, Christiana and Antwerp, anxious to buy or sell in Canada elastic fabrics, boots, spruce boards and timber generally, wheat, grain, oakum, wool, sheep dip, glue, woodware, antimony and butter.

Ridiculous Newspaper Report.
Much amusement and some indignation has been caused in Canadian circles here today by a New York message in The Morning Post, alleging that well-informed circles in Quebec believe that Mr. Chamberlain's enquiry respecting Anticosti is a shadow of the intention of the British Government to seize the island in the event of war with France. A prominent official here, when shown the telegram to-day, declared that no one, knowing the A. B. C. of the question, or desiring friendly Anglo-French relations, would entertain such a ridiculous and mischievous nonsense. Not a hundred Members could lessen Great Britain's absolute and irrevocable sovereignty over Anticosti.

MR. FITZPATRICK'S MISSION.
The Solicitor-General went to Washington to see about Warships on the Lakes.

New York, Dec. 6.—The Sun has the following special from Washington: Mr. C. Fitzpatrick, Solicitor-General of Canada, accompanied by his wife, Miss Davis and Dr. Gmy, has arrived in Washington, and will remain a week or so to confer with the Canadian members of the Anglo-American Joint High Commission. It is understood that he comes particularly to consult with his associates concerning the question of the modification of the terms of the treaty of 1818, which forbids either Government from constructing or maintaining warships on the great lakes.

Mr. Fitzpatrick is taken to indicate the fact that progress is being made towards settlement of the question referred to, and that the Solicitor-General's views and advice are desired in the preparation of the form of the agreement to be embodied in the treaty.

It is probable that with the opening of Congress, and the consequent demands upon the time of Senators, Mr. Fitzpatrick will be recalled to his duties. He will be accompanied by the Canadian members of the Joint High Commission. The presence of Mr. Fitzpatrick is taken to indicate the fact that progress is being made towards settlement of the question referred to, and that the Solicitor-General's views and advice are desired in the preparation of the form of the agreement to be embodied in the treaty.

MRS. CODY ON TRIAL.
It would appear that lawyers have got her into trouble.

Albany, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Margaret E. Cody, who Miss Helen Miller Gould and George J. Gould are prosecuting on a charge of conspiracy to obtain a portion of the $800,000 estate, left by the late J. Gould, and who produced evidence to prove that Miss Gould's father had married a Sarah Ann Gould, will be one of the witnesses examined, and an expert of hand-writing will be called to prove that the signature of the alleged child of J. Gould and Sarah Ann Gould is a forgery.

JUST $300,000 SHORT.
The Presbyterian Foreign Mission Collections Not Up to the Mark.

At the meeting of the Presbyterian Foreign Mission Committee Executive yesterday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Moore of Ottawa presided. Secretary Rev. Dr. Warden reported a shortage of $300,000 in the collection of the year, and the committee was urged to do all in their power to make up the deficit. Rev. Dr. McKay reported successful work in the distant fields.

Court Harmony.
A merry crowd of members attended the meeting of Court Harmony, A.O.F., held last night at the Hotel Windsor. It was decided to grant $5 to the funds of the Hospital for Sick Children and the Toronto Children's Hospital. The committee was urged to do all in their power to make up the deficit.

Victoria Banjo Club.
The Victoria Banjo Club and Guitar Club held their last night and their concert at Association Hall was one of the best musical evenings of the season. The artists were nearly all of them prime favorites, and their parts suited the occasion. The program was of high quality, which the public will readily recognize. The Misses Mac Dickson, Belle Brown, Lola Roman and Dora Murray, and Messrs. J. E. LeBarge, H. C. Cox and J. A. Newson, Mr. G. E. Peble made an able musical and other visitors. Badger as good an accompanist as the hall has seen for many a day. Nearly all the college officials were present, but this did not by any means spoil the party.

"Up the Rhine."
Two hours were spent pleasantly last evening in Holy Trinity schoolroom, when Rev. Prof. Cody gave a lecture on "Up the Rhine," which was illustrated with stereoscopic views by Mr. F. B. Whittemore. The lecture was held under the auspices of the Young People's Guild. Mr. W. G. Kinman, president of the Guild, introduced the lecturer, and the lecture tended him a vote of thanks, which was moved by Mr. B. C. H. Andrews and seconded by Mr. C. J. Agar.

PERSONAL.

CORDELLA VIAU'S SECOND TRIAL

On the Charge of Having Murdered Her Husband—New Witnesses for the Defence.

St. Scholastique, Que., Dec. 6.—The Police murder trial was resumed this morning. The history of the case is this: On Nov. 22, 1897, Isidore Potier, son of St. Canute, was found lying in his bed with his throat cut by a butcher knife. The common talk in St. Canute was that Potier had been murdered by Cordella Viau, his wife, and Samuel Parslow, a young bachelor, the reported lover of Mrs. Potier. The coroner's investigation was held two days after, and Detective McKeenill arrested on Dec. 3 both Cordella Viau and Samuel Parslow as being the perpetrators of that horrible tragedy.

The Crown has 43 witnesses to examine. They are the same as appeared at the first trial. It is rumored that the defence will have two new and very important witnesses.

The first witnesses called were J. E. Carmel, civil engineer, who made the plans of Isidore Potier's house, and J. E. Paré, notary, who made his last will. Then the coroner, Mignault, was put in the box and produced the exhibits of the Crown, among them the butcher knife and the revolver found at Sam Parslow's, and the letters of Cordella Viau to the Standard Life Company and to her husband. The court then adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Ludger G. Grevier of the Secret Service, who made investigations on the scene of the murder, produced several exhibits this afternoon, including part of the blood-stained flooring. Everything which will be brought up again during the trial. High Constable Bruneau and Jail-keeper Gm-ton produced a receipt for a revolver, which the two others which were on the left side of the face, were sufficient to cause death.

There were two other small wounds, one on the left arm and the other on the right hand. Dr. Larmarache confirmed this report and then the court adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, on request of Mr. Le-duc, who stated that his client, Cordella Viau, was too ill to remain longer to-day.

A PHILIPPINE PRIVATE

A Former Toronto Boy Writes to His Parents of the Sights and Incidents Abroad.

George Hunter, Jr., son of George Hunter, 82 Queen-street, is a private in the American regiment stationed in Cavite, Philippine Islands. Writing of his life in the tropics, he says he gets $18 a month, and has great difficulty in spending it all. The best cigars cost 4c apiece, and gin sells for 75c a glass. The trip of his company across the Pacific is described as having been most comfortable on the ocean, and had 1800 passengers aboard. The daily menu was steak with potatoes and butter, and port and beef soup.

As for the inhabitants of the islands, they are degraded. Everywhere there is a common sight to see youngsters two and three years old go around with cigars in their mouths. The natives are cowed by the soldiers.

WILL GIVE HIM A BENEFIT

Money Being Raised in Toronto to Pay Potier's Trial Expenses.

—Facts From the Jury.
Napoleon, Dec. 6.—(Special).—Billy Ponton came down from Belleville to-day. He was enthusiastically received. A subscription list has been started, with E. A. Douglas of the Paisley House at the head. Already more than $200 has been subscribed. The object of the fund is to pay a honest cost, and expect to net a cool $100.

E. Gus Porter, seen by The World, said that he was aggrieved at the fact that the jury did not add to his charge to the jury the traditional phraseology concerning the benefit of the doubt. When the jury returned their inability to agree, Mr. Porter requested the judge to state that the benefit of a doubt should be tendered to the accused. His Lordship, said Mr. Porter, replied, "I will not."

The jury really stood eleven for acquittal and one for conviction in the case of Ponton. James McKeenill would have given in if Kayser did not stand up and say that the only man who stood out against Ponton.

A strange fact has come to light. On Friday a week before the verdict was given out, a prominent citizen of Napoleon stated that he would be the juror who would give the "Hell" vote over, but that he would convict Billy Ponton. Another fact is that before the jury returned their verdict on Saturday morning, it was noted among the lawyers that the vote was 10 to 2 for acquittal. Who brought the news?

Men as Guns.
Rev. Mr. Weeks of Walmer-road Baptist Church, gave a lecture on "Men as Guns" under the title of "Guns and Gunning," in the Memorial Baptist Church last night.

The two Ottawa election cases, kicking guns, half-cocked guns, guns that hang fire, handbushes, repeaters and good guns, were the subject of the lecture. The lecturer was a humorist, and kept the audience laughing from start to finish. Rev. J. B. Kennedy, president of the church, presided, and Miss VanNorman and Mr. and Mrs. McCoy, by their singing, added much to the evening's enjoyment.
