HUGE ICICLES BAR
TRAIN IN TUNNEL

Temperature Therein Always a Mystery to Those Who Made Observations.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 13—Huge icicles stopped a transcontinental train in a Cascade Mountain tunnel for several hours one day, until the obstacles were cut away.

Water dripping from some mysterious source poured into the tunnel through the roof and formed into icicles three feet in diameter, blocking the tracks.

The train, moving at a small pace, was brought to a stop within a few feet of the blockade, and delayed for some time, while the ice columns were sawed off. During this operation the wheels of the engine froze to the rails and jets of steam had to be used to free them.

The temperature in this one tunnel has always been a mystery. The interior of most tunnels is usually warmer than the temperature at the portals, but in the single instance here frost sometimes forms on the steel rails several inches thick.

British Hounds Hunt in Germany.
(Correspondence of the Associated Press)
Coblenz, December 29—Hounds from England are to be used this winter by the Allied army officers to hunt deer and boar in the wilks of the Rhineland in occupied Germany. Hunts are to be held twice weekly under auspices of the Coblenz Hunt Club, organized recently with Major Gen. Henry T. Allen, commander of the American forces in Germany, as president. Wild boar and deer are said by hunters to be particularly plentiful this season on the German preserves.

WE wish to announce, beginning SATURDAY, JANUARY 14, our first January drive for more business. Please understand that we are not unloading odds and ends and out-of-date footwear, but that ours is a NEW store with a NEW stock bought since the decline in Manufacturers' prices. To stimulate business and to get acquainted with many new customers we are simply offering our entire stock at the most remarkable savings in boot and shoe values offered in St. John for years. To see our shoes and prices and to compare them with others is to be convinced.

Come in Early Tomorrow. We Are at Your Service.
