Concert Aided The Navy Drive

A novel concert was given in King Square last evening from the deck of the good ship "Navy League." Colonel Sturges, president of the league, delivered an eloquent address, dealing with the aims of the league and narrating what the British Navy has and is doing for the empire. A. O. Skinner acted as chairman and introduced those taking part in the programme. Those taking part in the programme were Mrs. M. Marcus, Lawrence Isaacs, F. Punter, Mrs. Kuhlring, Miss Climo, Miss Alice Fairweather, Miss Galloway and P. A. Dykeman. Rule Britannia and God Save the King were sung in unison.

The ward committees in charge of the work today are as follows:

Mrs. M. B. Edwards, chairman.
Victoria ward—DeMonts Chapter, I. O. D. E.
Lorne ward—Loyalist Chapter, I. O. D. E.
Lansdowne ward—Daughters of Israel, Wellington ward—Canadian Club, Dukes and Sydney wards—Royal Standard Chapter, Dufferin ward—King's Daughters' Guild.

How You Can Remove Every Trace of Hair

(Toilet Talk.)
A stiff paste made with some powdered delatone and water and spread on a hairy surface about 2 minutes will, when removed, take every trace of hair with it. The skin should then be washed to free it from the remaining delatone. No harm can result from this treatment, but be sure it is delatone you get and you will not be disappointed.

Kindergartens Win Prestige in States

Five States Pass Laws in Accordance With Plea of Educationists

New York, Sept. 5.—The advance in kindergarten education throughout the country for the year 1917-1918 is noted in a bulletin issued by the bureau of education of the department of the interior. During the school year 1917-1918 five states have developed their kindergarten laws in accordance with the suggestion of the United States bureau of education, while the organization of mothers and children devoted to the education of children has received remarkable impetus in every part of the country.

In Maine and Texas the new laws authorize the school boards to open kindergartens wherever parents petition for them. This makes it possible for a community to determine for itself without the slightest degree of difficulty whether it desires the advantages of a kindergarten training for its children. In Maine, a feature of the legislative campaign was the presence of ten of the kindergarten children of Bangor before the education committee of the house on the hearing of the kindergarten bill.

In Texas the congress of mothers and women's clubs were effective in arousing sentiment for kindergartens all over the state. The education officials of the state supported the measure from the start, and the result was not only successful legislation but a widespread public sentiment for the best type of kindergarten training.

The amendment to the Washington law, although it does not expressly state that parents may petition for a kindergarten, is practically the same in effect, since it provides that a kindergarten shall constitute a part of the regular school system and shall be supported in the same way that primary and grammar courses are supported. The result is that when fathers and mothers make known their wishes for a kindergarten as part of the public school system of their community a class will be started.

The following arguments presented by a representative of the Congress of Mothers in Washington were effective in obtaining legislation:
(1) The early years are the most impressionable and in a wise educational system these years should not be left unprovided for.
(2) Little children receive a good start not only in school but in life through the excellent training which the kindergarten gives.
(3) The majority of parents who want kindergarten training for their children cannot afford to pay tuition at private kindergartens.
(4) The kindergarten is democratic in that it brings additional educational advantages to all children before any must leave school to go to work.
(5) One dollar spent in right formation is better than a hundred spent for reformation later.

GERMANY NOW BARS ALL ALLIED PAPERS TO HELP CHECK PEOPLE'S PESSIMISM

London, Sept. 5.—The sale of newspapers published in allied countries has been prohibited in Germany for some time. Previously English, French and American newspapers could easily be bought at shops and bookstalls and were allowed to circulate freely, but now they are obtainable only by special permits, which are issued to privileged persons, such as members of the Reichstag.

The prohibition apparently is intended to counteract the growing pessimism of the German people, and is attributed to fear on the part of the German military authorities lest the truth about the American effort should become known.

THE SAILOR'S WEEK

(Toronto Star)

Perhaps it is as well to bear in mind that the appeal made by the Navy League is not for the mercantile navy, but for the men of the mercantile navy. It is the men and their families who have claims upon our gratitude and sympathy. These men, though ordinarily engaged in a peaceful occupation, are called upon to do duty as fighters and defenders of life and commerce, and nobly they rise to the occasion. Their work has been rendered exceedingly perilous by the submarines lurking in the sea over which trade is carried. They carried it on as cheerfully as if there had been no perils but those of wind and wave.

With full knowledge and experience of danger and of loss of life, men have shipped again and again. Their services have been of inestimable value. It is because of the skill and heroism of British sailors that men and supplies have been carried across the ocean with comparatively small loss, that the lines of communication between America and Europe have been kept unbroken.

Thousands of sailors who have lost their lives in this perilous work have left families who, unless assisted, must endure the hardships of poverty. We now have the opportunity to relieve and comfort them, and to recognize as far as we can the valuable service which sailors have done for the common cause.

The Wichita Beacon says Lord Lansdowne should remember William Allen White's proverb that a public man is entitled to make a fool of himself only once in his career.—Kansas City Star.

SUEZ BRIDGED FOR RAILROAD

Desert 200 Miles Wide is Spanned for Transportation of Troops—Great War Need Met

Cairo, Sept. 5.—The suspension bridge across the Suez Canal is now complete and part of the railroad system. Direct trains are running between here and Jerusalem. The building of this bridge is one of the most important events in the history of the Orient.

A long time before the war engineers planned this span, which was to connect Egypt and Palestine. When war broke out nothing had been accomplished. A desert 200 miles wide lay between the Suez and the end station of the Jaffa-Jerusalem railway.

To connect with Egypt it was necessary to use a ferry. This caused delay and annoyance. Besides, it cost time and money. Actual military necessity accomplished what had been too much of a task for the engineers before the war. A splendid suspension bridge was built, which now furnishes direct connection between the land of Moses and the land of Pharaoh. This new line is important not only from a military point of view, but promises also the greatest economic possibilities for the development of the Orient.
