MAVITY MEN
FORM EIGHT TEAM
BOWLING LEAGUE

Will Compete for Silver Trophy Donated by G. Clifford Mc-Avity — Many Experienced Bowlers Available

At a meeting of the employees of T.
McAvity & Sons, Ltd., it was decided to start a bowling league composed of members of the various departments. Eight teams already have entered and the league will be formally opened on the "vile" alleys on Monday night. Games will be played every Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights during the next three months. All the teams will be composed of players well known in bowling circles, who, with the other members with less experience, should make a creditable showing. Judging by the interest shown in previous matches conducted by these players, there will be no lack of interest and some rousing games are anticipated.

G. Clifford McAvity, who is a great advocate of this popular game, has generously donated a silver trophy which will become the property of the team winning this series. The winners will be called upon to defend it next season.
Any team winning this trophy for three successive seasons, become the permanent owners of it.

It was through Mr. McAvity's influence, and at his instigation, that this league was formed, and it is doubtful if there is a more ardent follower of the game, in connection with this league, than he is.

The committee who will have charge of the games composed of Messrs.
Legge, Treat, Meyers, Tucke and Ramsay.

The following is the league schedule:
The teams entered are as follows—Water St. Office, Water St. Finishing, Water St. Foundry, Vulcan Foundry, King St. Store, King St. Office, 45 Shell Plant, 83 Shell Plant.

that those most needing it would be able

MANY INVOLVED IN CASE ARISING FROM WOOL SALES

Mysterious "John McLean of Gagetown" Arranged Sales Over Telephone and Teamster Collected the Money—Two Have Left Town

Now implicated in the charge of theft of wool against Harry Hayes, senior and junior, of the Marsh road, are several other persons; a man named Johnston, John H. Kain, a Mr. Parlee and "John McLean of Gagetown," whom nobody apparently has seen, with the exception of James W. Willis, but who has carried on telephone conversations with John Kimble & Son, and in this way conducted the sales of wool.

The first witness called in the case at the police court this morning was F.
Deering, manager of the Colonial Hide Company, according to whose testimony $197 pounds of wool has disappeared from the warehouses of his company and no one knows where it has gone. The wool is valued at from $2.25 to $2.80.

William M. Ryan appeared in the interests of the Colonial Hide Company.
George A. Kimble, of John Kimble & Son, the next witness, informed the court that he was acquainted with Parlee and Hayes, senior. In November, he said, Parlee brought him some wool about which he knew nothing, apparently. "I had received a telephone message before this from a person who introduced himself as John McLean of Gagetown," and asking as to the price of wool. He told me he would send me down some and I could put the money for it in cash into a sealed envelope and hand it to the driver. The envelope was addressed to John McLean. This occurred again in December. One day there was no one of that name there. On the next occasion when "Mr. McLean" telephoned me, on Jan. 11 about some wool stock, I told him that I had written to his address and the letter had been returned, but he excused himself with the words, "Oh, I have been away and have not been home for a month."

I have never seen John McLean. During the last few months, a load was brought by a man called Johnson and the others by Parlee and one by a boy who said his name was Parlee. I always gave the driver the sealed envelope containing the money for the wool.

The magistrate here remarked that the sale of wool under a false name appeared to be the only possible charge against Parlee at present, and that he would not feel justified in keeping him in jail unless some connection with the crime was shown. Mr. Ryan then told the court that detectives would lay information against Parlee and on this the magistrate consented to hold him. Heber Keith appeared for Mr. Parlee.

The next witness called was Harry W. Stubbs, manager of the Canadian Hide and Skin Company of 111 to 115 Marsh road. He said that he knew both the Hayes and had on Jan. 12 purchased wool from Hayes, senior. "Mr. Hayes asked me if I wanted any wool and I said 'Yes.' I didn't say where he got it and I didn't ask him, but at the time he referred to a trade he had made in Hampshire and said that the wool had figured in that. There was some washed and some unwashed. I gave him a check for $150 for the wool. That was only the first time I ever bought wool from Hayes. I think there is some of the wool left."

The court here instructed Mr. Kimble and Mr. Stubbs to hold whatever part of the wool that was left until it could be ascertained whether or not it had been stolen.

Mr. Ryan then asked Mr. Kimble whether at any time he had ever bought any wool from John H. Kain. "He is another man about whom we have suspicion, Your Honor," he said. The answer to this was withheld until information should be laid against Mr. Kain.

James W. Willis was then called again, and, after his evidence was re-read, he was asked to hold any wool he had. In his evidence he testified that both Johnson and the mysterious "John McLean" were present and sold wool to him and a recognizance was taken from him so that he would be on hand to identify these gentlemen and particularly Mc-Lean, should the wool be stolen.

Mr. Ryan said that both Johnson and McLean had left the city rather hurriedly, but that the police were hot on their trail and hoped soon to lay them by the heels. The court was adjourned until Monday morning at eleven o'clock. J.
A. Barry was present this morning in the interests of the two Hayes.

sion. A vocal duet was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Arthur Long and Miss Fern
