Terms Show Completeness Of Turkey's Surrender

Allies Laid Down Drastic Conditions and Enemy Forced to Accept Them; No Secret Understandings

London, Nov. 1.—The armistice accepted by Turkey amounts to "complete and unconditional surrender."

This statement was made by Lord Robert Cecil, assistant secretary of state for foreign affairs, to the Associated Press tonight.

Lord Robert emphasized the statement of the foreign office to the Associated Press by saying that "no secret understandings or engagements have been made with Turkey as far as the British government is concerned."

He added that the armistice had been signed by Great Britain on behalf of all the Allies.

Discussing conditions in Germany, Lord Robert said the indications of the last day or two were that the Pan-Germans were losing their hold.

He declared that no Bolshevism had been reported in Germany, but that it was spreading in a part of Austria.

With reference to rumors circulating here to the effect that the armistice with Turkey included clauses by which Turkey would retain sovereignty over Armenia and other provinces, the Foreign office authorized the statement that there is no truth in the suggestion that any secret political agreement is annexed to the armistice with Turkey.

CONDITIONS OF TURKISH SURRENDER.

The terms of the armistice granted by the Allied Powers to Turkey follow: "First—The opening of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus and access to the Black Sea. Allied occupation of the Bosphorus forts.

"Second—The positions of all mine fields, torpedo tubes and other obstructions in Turkish waters are to be indicated, and assistance given to sweep or remove them, as may be required.

"Third—All available information concerning mines in the Black Sea is to be communicated.

"Fourth—All Allied prisoners of war and Armenian interned persons and prisoners are to be collected in Constantinople and handed over unconditionally to the Allies.

"Fifth—Immediate demobilization of the Turkish army, except such troops as are required for surveillance on the frontiers and for the maintenance of internal order. The number of effectives and their disposition to be determined later by the Allies after consultation with the Turkish government.

"Sixth—The surrender of all war vessels in Turkish waters or waters occupied by Turkey. These ships will be interned in such Turkish port or ports as may be directed except such small vessels as are required for police and similar purposes in Turkish territorial waters.

"Seventh—The Allies to have the right to occupy any strategic points in the event of any situation arising which threatens the security of the Allies.

"Eighth—Free use by Allied ships of all ports and anchorages now in Turkish occupation and denial of their use by the enemy. Similar conditions are to apply to Turkish mercantile shipping in Turkish waters for the purpose of trade and the demobilization of the army.

"Ninth—Allied occupation of the Taurus tunnel system.

"Tenth—Immediate withdrawal of Turkish troops from northern Persia to behind the pre-war frontier already has been ordered and will be carried out.

"Eleventh—A part of the Caucasus already has been ordered to be evacuated by the Allies after they have studied the situation.

"Twelfth—Wireless, telegraph and cable stations to be controlled by the Allies. Turkish government messages to be accepted.

"Thirteenth—Prohibition against the destruction of any naval, military or commercial material.

"Fourteenth—Facilities are to be given for the purchase of coal, oil, fuel, and naval material from Turkish sources, after the requirements of the country have been met. None of the above materials are to be exported.

"Fifteenth—The surrender of all Turkish officers in Tripolitania and Cyrenaica to the nearest Italian garrison. Turkey agrees to stop supplies and communications with these officers if they do not obey the order to surrender.

"Sixteenth—The surrender of all garrisons in Hadram, Assir, Yemen, Syria and Mesopotamia, to the nearest Allied commander, and withdrawal of Turkish troops from Cilicia, except those necessary to maintain order, as will be determined under clause six.

"Seventeenth—The use of all ships and repair facilities at all Turkish ports and arsenals.

"Eighteenth—The surrender of all ports occupied in Tripolitania and Cyrenaica, including Misurata, to the nearest Allied garrison.

"Nineteenth—All Germans and Austrians, naval, military or civilian, to be deported within one month from Turkish dominions and those in remote districts as soon after that time as may be possible.

"Twentieth—Compliance with such orders as may be conveyed for the disposal of that portion of the Turkish army which is demobilized under clause five.

"Twenty-first—An Allied representative to be attached to the Turkish ministry of supplies in order to safeguard Allied interests. This representative to be furnished with all aid necessary for this purpose.

"Twenty-second—Turkish prisoners are to be kept at the disposal of the Allied powers. The release of Turkish civilian prisoners and prisoners over military age is to be considered.

"Twenty-third—An obligation on the part of Turkey to cease all relations with the Central Powers.

"Twenty-fourth—In case of disorder in the six Armenian vilayets the Allies reserve to themselves the right to occupy any part of them.

"Twenty-fifth—Hostilities between the Allies and Turkey shall cease from noon, local time, Thursday, October 31, 1918."

Eloquent Pleas For Success Of Victory Loan Last Night

With three communities above their quota—and people in New Brunswick all keen to see the province reach its quota, the Victory Loan campaign has lost none of its impetus during the past forty-eight hours. The only shortage experience in the city yesterday was a shortage of salesmen at the big open air meeting in front of the Imperial, there was no shortage of coin for no less than $5,650 worth of bonds was sold and nearly all these of $50 denomination.

Loggieville, Northumberland county, stands at the head of her class with respect to her subscriptions, for she has not only won the honor flag but has won a crown in addition, which means that this community has raised twenty-five per cent. in excess of its allotment. Kars, Kings county, was the second community to reach its quota and claim a flag, while Rogersville was the first to score the honor.

CITY FIGURES.

The following figures of the city subscriptions at present made up were given out last night at the central office:

Ward.	Applicants.	Total
Guy's	83	$ 27,750
Brooks	92	22,350
Sydney	96	28,850
Dukes	106	72,450
Queens	178	144,300
Kings	133	84,750
Wellington	150	42,750
Prince	169	55,500
Victoria	145	52,500
Dufferin	111	27,200
Lorne	148	57,400
Stanley	126	21,600
Landdowne	126	76,450
Beaconsfield	87	25,150
Fairville	54	4,250
County of St. John	84	17,300
Total to last night reported for city.		$1,766,450
Total to last night reported for province		$1,498,650
Grand total for city and province.		$3,265,100

Last Night's Meeting.

The open air meeting in King square was favored by ideal weather and there were literally thousands of enthusiastic citizens to hear the stirring addresses delivered by F. A. Dykeman, R. W. Wigmore and Mr. Loose, of Walkinshaw (Wis.), to see the impressive pictures thrown upon the screen in front of the Imperial Theatre and be thrilled by the martial music of the Depot Battalion Band. Steve Masters was in excellent form as he sang the praises of his particular line of goods, bonds bought with silver bullets that would bring the boys home. Trade was brisk and $5,650, mostly in $50 bonds was taken in and the first purchaser, Mrs. Cameron, a soldier's wife, was waiting for the salesmen to arrive. There were not enough salesmen on hand to cope with the trade and the objective $10,000 was only missed on this account. Today they will be on hand in front of the Imperial all day and in the evening also. Amongst the other purchasers of bonds was a boy of fourteen and a woman who has her husband and four sons overseas.

F. A. Dykeman opened the meeting by announcing that St. John had already reached the $2,000,000 mark in its contributions to the Victory Loan and said that St. John had been envious of the rapidity with which Halifax was subscribing its allotment but that St. John was now having visions of its own grand success. He explained the methods of purchasing bonds and emphasized the certainty of the security, bringing an earnest and able speech to a close by an appeal to his audience to be not negatively in their sacrifices and to remember the sacrifices made by the boys at the front.

R. W. Wigmore.

R. W. Wigmore is a very forceful speaker and he used his eloquence to some purpose, striking a deeply patriotic note. He told of the glorious achievements of the motherland and said that proud we are of what Canada has done she yet has not given in money or men what Great Britain is able to claim. He told of soldiers' relatives who he knew were investing their assigned pay and earning their own livelihood in the hardest manual labor in order to do so. He had been told that in the city during the day $40,000 had been drawn from the banks to put into the Victory Loan.

The loan was, he said, the best system of saving and could be used by small investors and even by those who had no money at all, who could borrow money from the banks in order to invest it in bonds. That the dominion needed the money to care for her soldier sons, that the dominion had promised the mother and her last dollar if need be were true beyond a doubt and the boys at the front were watching to see that those at home did their part. St. John must not stop at the $5,000,000 apportioned to it but must shoulder some of the apportionment of the province because the epidemic made it impossible to hold meetings in some parts. In conclusion he said if any one had gained through the war it was surely the duty of such a man to deny himself even to going with out a meal each day in order to answer that call for support from France and Flanders and to help those men when the war should be over.

A Yankee Speaks.

Mr. Loose, who pointed his arguments with many very amusing anecdotes told how in his home town in the United States they had not asked people to contribute to the Liberty Loan but had commanded and demanded, then to do so and on the first day had raised 93 per cent. of their quota. That government bonds were good security he showed by saying he had just sold a United States bond for the war of 1860-1865 for $1,200 that had a face value of $1,000. He compared the teaching of Germany and that of Britain and said that any one who did not buy a bond to stamp out what he called for support from France and Flanders and to help those men when the war should be over.
