His Lordship quashed the conviction because the statute confering jurisdiction on a magistrate limits his ju diction to men who have signed articles as required by the Canadian statute. On the point that the proceedings be fore the magistrate could not be reviewed by certiorari Mr. Justice Irving decided that the objection failed as a question of jurisdiction raised in a case in a question collateral to the merits of the case. In support of this he cited a judgment in 'exchequer chambers in Bunbury vs. Fuller quoted with approval by Blackburn, J., in Pease vs. Chavtor (1863) which was as follows:

"It is a general rule that no court of limited jurisdiction can give itself jurisdiction by a wrong decision on a point collateral to the merits of the case upon which the limit to its jurisdiction depends; and however its demaking up together that subject matter which if true is within its jurisdicrapidly under the outdoor life.
