

forgot the law and double Providence, for it seemed so terrible that this man, in the full tide of his career of eminence and usefulness, should fall murdered without warning or notice.

No verdict of years can recall him. He "sleeps the sleep that knows no waking" on the peaceful bank of Lake Erie, whose waters wash the boundaries of his native State, overlooking the city he loved well, and beneath the soil of that State whose people had crowned him with the highest honors.

You have each been asked whether you were governed by religious convictions. Upon your oaths you have answered affirmatively. Eighteen hundred years ago it was written, by the pen of inspiration, as the law of that merciful God whom you revere—"Voe unto that man by whom the offence of millions were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depths of the sea."

The examination of witnesses was next proceeded with, Secretary Blaine's evidence being the first, followed by that of Mr. Osmach, at the end of which the Court adjourned.

This morning, on Mr. Scoville's applying to the court to take steps to prevent Guitau from making public unauthorised statements, the latter excitedly demanded that Scoville should retire from the case altogether. He said Scoville was a criminal lawyer and had no sense; that he said one thing to him in private and another in public.

The Court stated to the prisoner, in decided terms, that he would order his removal and proceed in his absence. To this Guitau shouted excitedly: "I don't care if you do; the Court can hang me reverse you, and I will get a new trial. You have 'got no right to remove me'."

The Judge replied: "Very well, I shall do so if you persist in any more disturbance and are precedents in this court for such ruling." A whispered consultation between Guitau and Scoville followed, and the former, apparently convinced, submitted in absolute quiet and devoted himself to his papers.

District Attorney Corkhill then offered in evidence certain letters which yesterday were sent to Mr. Blaine and identified by him.

Patrick Kearney, the policeman who arrested Guitau, described minutely the arrival of the President's carriage and corroborated Secretary Blaine's testimony as to the murder by the prisoner. The witness admitted that Guitau did not attempt to run away. Guitau nodded his head from time to time during Kearney's testimony as though he approved of what was said, especially the evidence of his quiet behavior and want of resistance after the shooting. Other witnesses testified to seeing Guitau before the shooting, and that nothing was noticed which would indicate his insanity.

The work of taking evidence to-day with no incident of unusual interest. This afternoon, however, as Guitau was being conveyed from the court room to jail in a covered van, a person on horseback rode up to the side, and after peering through the grating to satisfy himself as to Guitau's position, suddenly fired two shots from the side of the vehicle. He then put up his horse and rode away at a furious pace. One shot was harmless. The other, however, slightly wounded in Guitau's hand. The prisoner was nearly overcome with fear, but was hurried to prison. During the evening a man named William Jones, a farmer, living in the outskirts of the city, was arrested as the person who fired the shot.

He is an eccentric individual who is well known to the police. To-day one of the guards who was accompanying the van, and who fired at the assassin, positively failed to identify Jones and stated that he is not the man. Various rumors are in circulation in the eastern part of the city regarding attempts which will be made to shoot Guitau. Many persons believe that concerted action with that result in view has been taken by the police.

No apprehension is felt by the officers of the jail that any further attempts will be made to take the life of the prisoner.

Since the above particulars of the trial came to hand there has been no development of special interest, excepting that Mr. Robinson has withdrawn from the case, and the defence has been taken over by Mr. A. Davidson, Esq., M. P.

Perhaps no human being since Judas has had concentrated upon his soul the just indignation of civilized man to such an extent as the miserable wretch Guitau. His character is without a redeeming trait; without honesty, mercy, charity, humanity or forbearance; without the slightest regard for any law, human or divine; absorbed in his malignant, devouring egotism, and living alone for vanity and crime. We may look through the range of history and through the still wider range of fiction for one who is more like Guitau. Nothing that the man has written or said—his letters to the President and Secretary of State when seeking office; the manifestations in the court of justice—shows the slightest quality that appeals to our sympathy. He stands pre-eminent among the monsters of our modern civilization.

A World of Good.
One of the most popular medicines now before the American public, is Hop Bitters. You see it everywhere. People take it with good effect. It builds them up. It is not as pleasant to the taste as some other Bitters, as it is not a whiskey drink. It is more like the old fashioned tonic, set out that has done a world of good. If you don't feel just right try Hop Bitters.—Nunda News.

A Word of Wisdom!
There is only one sure and certain way of keeping your life stock—whether fowls or animals—in a perfectly healthy and paying condition, and that is by mixing HARVEY'S CONDITION POWDERS with their feed. Try these good specifics and satisfy yourself.

The Freemans office waits until some other paper appropriates our items before it copies them but as it credits the above statement to the Advance and we certainly, if never made it, we must ask it to explain.

VENON writes under date of last Monday, as follows:—I see indications of extremely cold and stormy weather with snow across the neighbourhood of the 24th and 25th of the present month and up the Lakes and Northwestward to Winnipeg. This snow, however, will disappear in a subsequent mild spell. England and Scotland will probably likewise share this wintry wave; also New York city.

A RUN-AWAY DENTIST.

Among the hundreds who have left the Miramichi of late is Mr. M. C. Clark, Dentist, who had been a resident of Chatham for several years past and was, up to a fortnight ago, a member of the firm of Mackenzie & Co., Druggists. It was the custom of Mr. Clark to make periodical professional visits to Newcastle, Bathurst, and other towns and he left on one of these visits to Bathurst some five or six weeks ago. About a fortnight since, his business partner received a letter from him, purporting to be written on the Intercolonial Railway, in which he announced that he was off for Manitoba, where he had secured a splendid business engagement in which there was a fortune, etc. Only this and nothing more. Mr. Mackenzie was, naturally, surprised at Mr. Clark's course and subsequent discoveries led him to at once advertise a dissolution of his partnership with the said Clark.

Clark left a good many creditors behind him. He seemed to have planned his run-away some time beforehand and realized all the cash he could, besides obtaining clothing on credit from parties here a quarter of the price. He left his wife and children in Chatham, and his going away will not, we are glad to learn, seriously affect his late partner, for he had little or nothing in the business. He is a person of very good address, though somewhat deficient in educational attainments for a professional man and we sincerely hope he will not be able to treat other people as he has those who confided in his integrity here. He is believed to be at or in the vicinity of Winnipeg just now.

There are far too many young men of all classes who leave records behind them of a more or less questionable character when they join the exodus and we believe their exposure to be a public duty. While young men can get into debt or incur other obligations and run away with impunity, leaving them undischarged, that species of dishonesty will not be lessened. We shall, therefore, publish any such character and the facts concerning them when the same are properly authenticated.

THE EXHIBIT BUSINESS of the Bank of Montreal for the half year ended 31st October, 1881, must be a very satisfactory one to shareholders, and the condition of the institution, as exhibited by the general statement of its affairs at the same date, should be no less pleasing to the people of Canada, who have long felt a pride in this favorite Bank, as one of the largest and soundest monetary concerns of the world. The statement of the result of the business of the Bank for the last six months is as follows:

and speeches from Messrs. Walter and T. C. Miller were elicited. Other toasts followed, the legal profession was represented by R. Hutchinson, Esq., of Richibucto, and Mr. John Maltby, of New Brunswick. The toast of the "Advance" was proposed by Mr. D. G. Smith, Esq. of P. I. B. George Brown, and Mr. Fleming of Newcastle, Mr. Maurice Lafont, of England, Councillor Buckerfield of Harcourt, Deputy Surveyor Stevenson and others, the last toast being honored at about half-past ten, when music and song were the order of the evening in the Hotel parlor, where Miss Black, of Richibucto, kindly accompanied the singers and added her own voice to crown the attractions of the occasion.

The guests of the occasion were somewhat surprised on learning of the progress being made by the settlement about Walford Station. New dwellings and stores are appearing rapidly and although the visitors arrived at and left the place when it was dark, the number of lights in view and the well stocked stores so inviting to customers denoted a thriving community.

Mortimer, proper, is about a mile and a quarter from the Station. Here the new Hemlock Extract works are being erected under the superintendence of Messrs. Walter and T. C. Miller, and the foreman of Mr. George Brown, of Newcastle. Mr. Brown informed our representative that the foundations are now laid for the works. They are on the sloping ground on the south side of and overlooking the Richibucto River. They are excavated into the bank about 300 yards from the line of the Intercolonial Railway, and a siding has already been graded into them, so that the cars will run directly into the bank mill. The works are 130 ft. long and 76 ft. wide, and will comprise Bark Mill, Leach House, Engine Room and Furnace House—each in the order named, the latter being adjacent to the river. The foundations are of sandstone quarried on the spot, and the main building will be of wood. Mr. Brown was at Miramichi, engaging carpenters this week. Already, quantities of bark are in the yard, and a good deal is cut in the woods awaiting transportation when suitable weather comes. The works will be in operation in a few days.
