

ST. JOHN STAR, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1906

The Exhibit That is Being Most Talked About

A prominent lady speaking of the various attractions at the exhibition, remarked that nothing seems to please everybody like the exhibit of the Dunlop, Cooke Co. Ltd. Such a grand display of fine furs cannot help attracting the attention of every person of good taste.

The company have been amply repaid for their pains and expense, in connection with this exhibit. Through daily seek admission to the splendidly arranged booth, and the rich furs so dear to the hearts of the ladies keep the admiring throngs constantly present.

Among the orders yesterday were two very valuable sealskin and Russian sable trimmed garments, amounting to many hundreds of dollars.

MOTORISTS STONED BY ANGRY PEASANTS.

Swiss Police Enraged by the Fines to Which Visitors are Subjected.

GENEVA, Sept. 4.—The crusade against motorists in Switzerland continues, despite the warning of the Swiss Automobile Club and many hotel proprietors that the tourist season is seriously affected thereby.

It is becoming positively dangerous to motor on certain roads. Outside the large towns motorists are frequently stoned, and large boulders are placed on the roadway with the intention of wrecking their cars.

While traveling from Lucerne to Interlaken a party of English and American motorists were stoned by a gang of young hooligans, all the glass and lamps in the car being smashed.

H. Evans, of New York, who crossed the Brünig Pass at the rate of six miles an hour—two friends in the car timed him—was fined 10 on his arrival at Sarnen for excessive speed.

One young American, who has been unjustly fined a number of times, is now dashing about the country in a fifty-horsepower car at the rate of forty miles an hour, trusting to luck and to the cloud of dust which envelops him to prevent the number of the car being taken.

"I may as well have my money's worth," he explained yesterday.

DAZZLING STORY OF GOLD FIND ON PEACE RIVER

EDMONTON, Alta., Sept. 5.—The Macdonnell Dominion government survey party, which arrived in the city yesterday, brings a story of a gold discovery in the Peace River country which, if it amounts to surface indications, will put the Rand to shame and make the celebrated Homestead or Treadwell lode poor and cheap.

SOME STATISTICS ABOUT LONDON

Population of Greater London Exceeds 7,000,000—Enormous Traffic—2,158 Miles of Streets.

Everything that can be told in statistics is contained in the fascinating record of Life in London compiled by a statistical officer of the London County Council.

London embraces an area of 75,42 acres; it has a population of more than 7,000,000; Greater London has a population of 7,112,562.

The following is the yearly return of marriages, births and deaths:

Marriages, 28,886; rate per 1,000, 17. Births, 123,838; rate per 1,000, 27.9. Deaths, 74,990; rate per 1,000, 16.9.

As regards the passenger traffic in Greater London, the figures are stupendous. For 1904 the following are the figures:

Mode of conveyance. Passengers carried.

Railways, 288,538,750. Omnibuses, 43,731,880. Total, 332,270,630.

There are in all fifty-seven premises in the administrative county where the public performance of stage plays takes place regularly. The approximate seating accommodation of the theatres is 71,045, and the value of the theatres is £2,181,281. Under the head of concert halls, dancing rooms, etc., there are 245 premises, including places so widely divergent as Earl's Court Exhibition and a mission hall. Altogether the premises licensed in London for public entertainment have seating accommodation for at least 312,000.

There are 7,382 licensed premises, with a rateable value of £2,184,031.

London's yearly post-bag is thus described in figures:

Letters (delivered), 727,200,000. Post-cards (delivered), 164,600,000. Book-packets (delivered), 162,200,000. Newspapers (delivered), 23,700,000. Parcels (delivered), 17,381,000. Letters registered, 6,472,637. Parcels registered, 291,125. Express delivery services, 916,744. Telegrams handed in, 28,364,000.

The widest street in London is Finsbury.

11,341 motor-cars were registered in 1904.

More than 53,000 articles were left in public carriages by forgetful passengers.

There are 2,158 miles of streets in the county, and they are maintained at a net cost of £2,109,240.

The net annual cost of the London police is £1,535,558. The total cost for England and Wales is £4,211,132.

The council spends £1,688,292 every year in maintaining its parks and open spaces, which are 4,945 acres in extent.

YOUTH ACCIDENTALLY KILLS COMPANION WHILE HUNTING

OTTAWA, Sept. 5.—A sad accident occurred at Maniwaki, when Arthur Fontaine, sixteen years old, son of Dr. Fontaine, corner of that place, was fatally shot by a rifle in the hands of a young companion. He was out squirrel hunting with Charles Logue, aged fifteen years, son of the late Charles Logue, when something went wrong with his rifle, a twenty-two calibre. They called a man named Charbon to fix it, and just as he had done so, young Logue placed a cartridge in it. The weapon was in some way discharged and the older lad, who was standing directly in front, received the bullet in the abdomen.

The victim was a bright youth, and his sudden death has caused deep regret among his numerous young friends. He is a nephew of Dr. Fontaine, of Hull.

PLAYGROUNDS FOR CHILDREN.

(Montreal Star.)

"It might be of interest for you to know that in St. Louis we have tried the plan of public playgrounds for children, and that they have proved a great success," said Almont T. Small, of St. Louis, Mo., at the Windsor last night.

"They are patronized by no less than 100,000 youngsters," he continued, "and they have been a veritable godsend during the unusually warm summer we have had. There are six of these playgrounds and they are supported at the public expense, about $12,000 a year being appropriated for the purpose. They are under the control of the park commissioner, who has appointed a superintendent and a staff of twenty-four instructors to look after them.

"How are these playgrounds laid out?"

"The parks are used for playground purposes, but small tents are erected, where the children are taught to make pretty baskets, which are their own at the end of the summer term, and also sewing, carving, paper work, raffia, and other things of the kind. In some of the parks they have swimming pools and men instructors take the boys swimming at night, while lady instructors give the girls swimming lessons on Thursday mornings. In one of the parks a young lady tells stories to the children, and grown up people as well as the youngsters attend to hear them. In another they have tea parties, where the children serve crackers and canapés, which is made of milk and water, in the most approved fashion, and just as if they were adults at a society function. Everywhere the playgrounds have proved a great source of entertainment to the youngsters and you can imagine the boon they have been in keeping the children off the streets."

HEADQUARTERS FOR FURNITURE.

Visitors to this city should not fail to call and select their new furniture at the Messrs. Amland Bros., Ltd., Waterloo street. They have a very large assortment of the latest styles bedroom and parlor suits, sideboards, china closets, buffets, music cabinets, iron bedsteads, etc. This reliable dry goods store is well known throughout the lower provinces, and a visit to their warehouse will amply repay those who do their shopping at the above store.

JOSEPH MURPHY'S FAMOUS PLAY "KERRY GUY" COMING HERE.

A number of years ago it was "Fritz" Emmett who sang his tender love ballads to his little frau, and it was Scanlan who made love to his pretty colleen by sweet words set to music. They were the two representative German and Irish singing comedians of their days. The memory of those two great artists will never die. It was they who originated and created the demand for the sweet singer in plays of the Fatherland or Old Ireland which today is more popular than ever. A pure and simple story interspersed with song characteristic of its surroundings touches a sympathetic chord in the hearts of all and bids fair to outlive all other classes of plays. All the society or romantic plays ever written, or the cleverly conceived melodrama with its thickening plot—not even the opera or so-called musical comedy can offer so substantial and satisfying an entertainment.—Adv.

DUE TO NATURAL CAUSES.

"I beg of you not to judge me harshly," said the new acquaintance, "although my disposition may seem to you to be sour. You may not believe it, but I was once much better off."

"Of course I understand what you mean," replied Henneke. "I'm married myself."

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 5.—Nearly all the two thousand union carpenters in Los Angeles went on strike today to enforce an increase in wages. "Closed shops" and Saturday half holiday. DURHAM RUBBER WORKS GUTTED BY FIRE.

BOWMANVILLE, Ont., Sept. 5.—About 5 o'clock this morning it was discovered that the Durham Rubber Company works in King street, were on fire. The fire had made good headway before the brigade reached the works, and as every part of the woodwork was as dry as tinder, and materials around inflammable. It did not take long to envelope the building.

Since the company opened its new works in Queen street, about a month ago, they have used the old works to store left-over goods—rubber, duck and other materials used in manufacturing of boots, belting, etc., amounting to $15,000 worth. In the engine and machine shops were two boilers, two presses, a washer, hangers, piping, etc., valued at $4000 to $5000. The total loss is about $35,000.

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—For the second time in his life, 7-year-old Fred Darcy of Chelsea had a remarkable escape from death by falling from a house to the sidewalk tonight. While flying a kite from the roof of his home he walked off the roof and fell a distance of 30 feet. Excepting for a severe shaking up and a slight scalp wound he was unharmed.

About two years ago Darcy while playing on the roof of the old Academy of Music in Chelsea, slipped and fell a distance of 30 feet to another roof. He escaped without injury at that time.
