AMUSEMENTS

BIG NEW SHOW AT NICKEL.

Today's change of programme at the Nickel will introduce another of the Selig Company's fine features, entitled "The Christian Martyrs," something along new lines in motion pictures. As a foil to a serious film like this the Italian comedy "Too Beautiful" will be shown. It is worthy of note in this connection that the chief comedian hit yesterday afternoon and evening in her rendition of two Indian lyrics, dressed in a genuine costume of a Chipewyan squaw. Carson has a new illustrated number that is taking well with the crowd. On Monday the favorites, Holmes and Buchanan, will commence a short engagement in the Nickel with a sparkling dual number, "Hello! People!" the sensational hit from the musical comedy "Havanna," now being toured in the United States to tremendous business. In addition to this Mr. Buchanan will be heard in the sentimental hit, "I Love the Last One Best of All," from the musical comedy "Marrying Mary."

DON'T MISS THE POLICEMEN'S SPORTS AT THE VIC TONIGHT.

Everything is in readiness for the great big night of sports at the Victoria tonight, when the policemen entertain their friends in the unique and successful manner which has distinguished them for many years past. To accommodate the large crowds the doors will be open before seven o'clock. One hundred and eighty-five entries should be sufficient to make both excitement and fun, and there is a question as to which will predominate. The prize list is by all means the most elaborate that has yet been offered, and includes over one hundred prizes, some and extremely useful presents. Don't fail to be early this evening, as the first in line will secure the choice positions.

THE GREAT OUTBURST AT THE ORPHEUM.

Again the Orpheum was crowded last evening to see the remarkable "Outburst on the little wheel." This performer's comedy and acrobatic work is alike of interest and seldom if ever has a better act been seen in the city. He is alone worth many times the price of admission, but supported by Dorothy Hall, singer, male impersonator and dancer the show is indeed a very strong one.

QUEEN'S RINK.

The tickets for the children's carnival are now on sale. As the issue has been limited to the capacity of the building, it will be for intending patrons to secure their tickets immediately. Orders by phone will be attended to.

The Monday Night Club will act as judges in the competition and ten dollars in gold will be awarded as prizes. This will be the only children's carnival the present season, but it will be a very beautiful affair.

The price of admission will be the same to all.

Wednesday afternoon next, 9th inst., at the Queen's Rink.

THE GEM.

Tonight those who visit the Gem will witness one of the greatest productions ever played on Broadway in many seasons. "The Rehearsal"—in condensed form. This feature contains over a thousand feet of film, and the original cast, which toured the States.

"The Pointe Revere," a hand colored fairy tale from scenes in the latest Parisian magazine and the most recent theatrical effects and modern photography, full of beautiful transformations.

"How To Grow Up," a comedy, rich in laughs and comical situations, funny in the extreme. A burlesque on puritanical ideas.

Lous Manufacture, an instructive and amusing feature, the manufacture of articles rare and costly.

Mr. Percy Harvey sings "That's the Way to the Heart of a Soldier," a grand song in orchestral selections. A programme of song and dance.

GUIDE'S LIFE SAVED BY ALPINE SMUGGLERS.

Dangled in Mid Air From Tourist's Body For Two Long Hours.

GENEVA. Feb. 3.—Hermann Biner, one of the most popular Alpine guides at Zermatt, had a terrifying experience on Thursday while making an ascent of the Breithorn, and was only saved from death by the heroism of the tourist who accompanied him.

Biner was engaged by Dr. Shivel, a Munich physician, to guide him to the summit of the Breithorn, which is 15,000 feet high. After the doctor crossed a snow-covered crevasse above the Theodule Pass, Biner attempted to follow, but the snow bridge collapsed.

The guide dropped thirty feet over a precipice and remained suspended by the rope which bound him to Dr. Shivel. The latter, notwithstanding the terrible strain, managed to hold the guide in mid-air for two hours, meanwhile shouting for help.

When the doctor was nearly exhausted and Biner had shouted to him to cut the rope and save himself, two Italian smugglers, heavily laden, came over the Theodule Pass.

Hearing the shouts they rescued the guide and assisted Dr. Shivel to convey him nearly to Zermatt. Then the smugglers disappeared, having refused to accept any reward for their services.

Vibrant Nerve Force Supplied to Man

(From "Man's Maladies.")

Without stamina, man is a failure. What is stamina? It is constitutional vigor-health. It is keen, responsive, vibrant nerve force, that gives wonderful initiative, strength of will, sustains a sound body, supports a wise mentality, makes money and keeps friends. Keen, strong, sensitive nerves makes stamina and with it man can excel in business, sport, pleasure and social favor. Without it he is apt to be weak voiced, weak memorized, feeble in motion, with cold hands, cold feet, nervousness, timidity, fear without cause, trembling, melancholy, pain in the back of head, neurasthenia and a general lack of grit, courage and nerve.

so that it is impossible to act naturally under all circumstances. It is the nerve force that makes a man a man, and it is the nerve force that makes a man a man.

It should be the aim of every man to correct the condition responsible for failure and unhappiness, for it can be done by the simple fulfillment of man's laws that nerves receive their nourishment through the blood, which enables the nerve to function properly and to recover the daily waste which is constantly taking place.

The nerve fluids and body fluids undergo constant changes, and unless the supply is equal to the demand the stream of health ebbs low, and misery prevails.

Astonishing strength, nerve force and pulse is quickly reformed by the following valuable formula, which anyone can prepare in the privacy of home:

First, obtain three ounces of syrup sarsaparilla compound in a six ounce bottle; add one ounce of compound fluid balmwort, shake well, and let stand two hours. Then add one ounce tincture codonopsis compound (not cardamom) and one ounce compound essence cardiol. Mix.

Shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring.

The above ingredients, except the syrup are rare concentrations of purest drugs without opiates or other drugs used for various prescriptions.

Willie—Please, m'am, a dromedary is a two-masted camel.

Alexander Ure, the Lord Advocate of Scotland, is a keen golfer and he has a good store of golfing tales. These he is always ready to relate even if they tell against himself.

Playing on a certain course in Scotland he remarked incidentally to his caddy:

"By the way, I played a round with Todd McGregor the last time I was here. Grand player, McGregor?"

"Ay," said the caddy, "but ye could beat McGregor the noo."

"Do you think so?" exclaimed the gratified Lord Advocate, being well aware of McGregor's prowess.

"Ay," drawled the caddy. "McGregor's dead."
