A Quaint Little Sermon.

Mr. Harvey was riding slowly along the dusty road, looking in all directions for a stream, or even a house, where he might refresh his tired, thirsty horse with a good stream, or even a house, where he might refresh his tired, thirsty hores with a good Spanght of water. While he was thinking and wouldering, he turned an abroph bend in she road, and saw before him a comfort-able farmhouse; and, at the same time, a boy ten or twelve years old came out into the road with a small pail, and stood di-reeity before him. "What do you wish, my boy ?" said Mr. Harvey, stopping his horse. "Would your horse like a drink, sir ?" said the boy, respectfully. "Hodeed he would, and I was woodering where I could obtain it." Mr. Harvey thought little of it, suppos-ing of ourse, the boy sarred a few pennies in this manner; and therefore, he offered him a bit of silver, and was astonished to see him refuse it.
