

Notwithstanding The Rain . . .

The drizzle and heavy mist of the first three days of the exhibition, which caused such a sinking of heart among all concerned, on Thursday Old Sol smiled on Halifax and immediately converted Nova Scotia's great show, from what was feared would be a financial failure, into A COMPARATIVE SUCCESS—a success in the appreciation and enthusiasm of the tens of thousands of visitors—as it was already a success in the variety, extent and quality of the exhibits. Now

Nothing Succeeds Like Success . . .

And the provincial exhibition at Halifax may hereafter be regarded as an established institution. It will grow in popular favor, continue to attract increasing thousands of visitors, and mark the development of all our industries. Every year the commissioners and exhibitors will go to great trouble and many thousands of dollars of expense to get up a show to interest people for a few days only. One week of an ordinary exhibition is as much as the average man or woman can stand. But the Halifax Herald is a great success every day. It is not affected by the weather—it is always more in demand on wet days. The Herald is of which you never tire, an exhibition of advertisements, and all the news of Nova Scotia, of all Canada, and of all the world in which our people are interested; and is the greatest newspaper success in eastern Canada. Over 50,000 people attend the Halifax exhibition; but 50,000 people read the Herald and Mail EVERY DAY, 312 days a year. Indeed, their interest in the paper grows day by day, and they can no more do without it than they can do without their meals. An intelligent man or woman feels lost without a live daily paper.

An Exhibition 312 Days a Year

News Summary

Negotiations have been opened for the establishment of a telephone system from Paris to Rome and from Paris to Milan.

Admiral Dewey has announced that he would gladly accept the gift of a home in Washington from the American people.

Sermons were preached in the Guysboro churches Sunday last, bearing on the revelations of crime there. More informations are expected to be laid to-morrow.

A. P. Low of the geological survey, denies the story published in the United States alleging the discovery of rich mineral deposits in Hudson Bay district and Labrador.

The Montreal Star publishes telegrams from three hundred Canadian mayors and wardens and regimental commanders, urging the sending of a Canadian contingent to the Transvaal.

Justin McCarthy, the historian and novelist, has just undergone the last of a series of operations for the relief of his eyes, and it is now expected that his sight will be completely restored.

The French navy is installing wireless telegraphy between the lighthouses along the French coast. Judging from the result of the preliminary experiments, the installation will prove of great value to shipping.

The failure of the crops in Finland has reduced the peasantry to the extremity of eating bread made from ground bark, mixed with frost-bitten potatoes. There is little flour to be had in the districts around Alavo, where usually the harvest is abundant.

La Patrie, Hon. Mr. Tarte's paper, violently attacks Mr. Hutton, on the supposition that he inspired the Military Gazette's article re the Transvaal contingent. A Toronto despatch authoritatively denies that Gen. Hutton authorized the Gazette's article.

Montreal Le Patrie makes a violent attack upon General Hutton upon the supposition that he inspired the recent article in the Military Gazette in the Transvaal contingent. It claims that the general, although appointed by the imperial government, is a servant to Canada, and that if he chooses to disobey the orders of the Canadian government he must bear the consequences.

S. C. Phillips, a leading publisher of London, makes the following statement, which is of interest to Canadians: "Many of the paper manufacturers who have used the pulp on a large scale, state most emphatically that it is longer and stronger in fibre than the Scandinavian product, and fitted more for making reel newspaper for fast running work than any other, and more than one of these gentlemen have stated that they would rather give $2.50 per ton more for the Canadian than any other."

Mr. John Hays Hammond, the American civil engineer connected with leading South African mining companies, speaking of the Transvaal difficulty says:

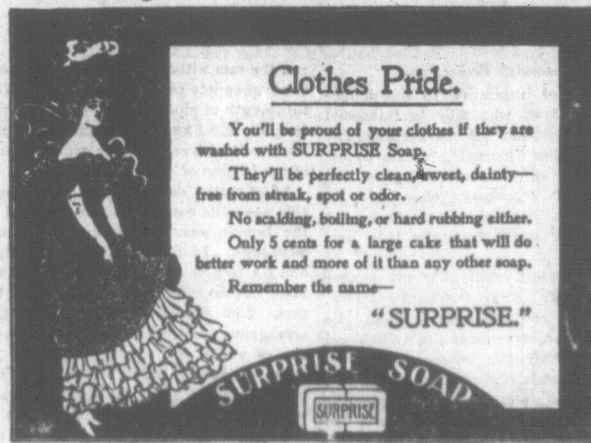

"Quasi friends of the Boers, deluded them into the belief that Great Britain would not resort to war in any event, and unfortunately thereby provoked a spirit of opposition to the British demands, resulting in the present diplomatic impasse, which I fear makes war inevitable. Encouraged by the present weakness of the British garrisons, the Boers evidently hope to occupy strategic positions, and by rapidly assuming the defensive deal telling blows before the arrival of the bulk of the British Army. I am not considering the merits of the case, but I can say this: That ninety per cent of the Americans occupying positions of any importance in the Transvaal side with the British on the board ground of the justice of the latter insisting upon political equality.

Personal

Rev. H. P. Whidden, of Galt, Ont., has been called to the pastorate of the Brussels St. church as the successor of the late Dr. Carey. We extend our cordial congratulations to Mr. Whidden and the church. Mr. Whidden will find a warm hearted people to greet him should he see his way to accept the call so unanimously extended to him, and the church will have a man every way worthy to fill so important a charge.

Rev. J. W. Clark, the pastor of the Waterloo Street Free Baptist Church, preached his farewell sermon last Sunday week. He has accepted a call to the Free Baptist church at Woodstock. Mr. Clark was highly esteemed by his people whom he served faithfully and well. He was also greatly beloved by his fellow pastors in the city. We wish for Bro. Clark great success in his new field of labor.

Literary Notes.

Speaking of the Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones' Book Jess, which the author also calls Bits of Wayside Gospel, "The Outlook" for September 23rd, says in its review "that it is a book which will refresh and inspire any reader," and they "earnestly and heartily recommend everyone who loves nature, but especially everyone who loves the upland's of the spirit to read the book. Amidst the rush and turmoil of this end of the century it is a pity that time has not been found, by the few who can do such work, for the writing of more volumes of this character." "Jess" is a saddle horse, and out of that horse's service its master extracts the kind of sermons and genial philosophy in which an exquisite sympathy between the horse and its rider, the charm of the landscape, and a broadening of the religious spirit of man are blended.

The Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones is the editor of the Chicago Unity, and his book is published by The Macmillan Unity.

With a wealth of beautiful illustrations and with all the experts have to say concerning the great International Yacht

Race, Outing for October is as fresh and wholesome as is the ocean breeze, which presently shall drive the white-winged fliers in their race for the America's storied cup. Long and vainly has Great Britain striven to regain possession of the trophy which signifies the yachting supremacy of the seas, and this time, if ever is the opportunity of Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock. Designer Fife, sail-maker Ratsey, and all concerned have done their best, and the two swiftest yachts the world has ever seen will race upon their merits to a finish. Outing for October tells all about the Shamrock and Columbia, their designers, owners and crews, for this is a yachting number of popular magazine of sport, travel and recreation. Other sports however are not neglected; Outing never fails in this respect. General athletics, football, golf, tennis, the horse, gun and rod, kennel and every department of sport in which a lady or gentlemen can be interested receives the careful attention of writers who have become famous authorities in their chosen fields. In text and illustrations the number is one of the best that ever left the press.
