HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

Pleasant Evening Reveries dedicated to tired Mothers as they Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

Would you have the world better and brighter?
Then light up the way as you go;
Make some little part of it lighter
With beams from your life's steady glow;
Make the world you live in your debtor
As through it you journey along
Be good, and the earth will grow better;
Do right, and the right will grow strong;
Trim the lamp that is left to your keeping,
And fan it with breezes of hope,
Lest shadows your life o'er creeping
Leave others in darkness to grope.

Let us say to benedictors, young and old,
if you did but show an ordinary civility toward those common articles of housekeeping—your wives—if you would give them a hundred and sixteenth part of the compliments you almost choked them with before you were married, fewer women would seek for other sources of affection. Praise your wife, then, for all the good qualities she has and you may rest assured that her deficiencies are counter balanced by your own.

The family is the oldest and most valuable institution on earth. It begins properly with the first offspring. In reality there is no family until the husband and wife can say to each other, "Two times one are two and one to carry makes three." And the little third party often brings the husband and wife closer together than anything else could possibly do.

NO GLOOM AT HOME.

Above all things there should be no gloom in the home. The shadows of dark discontent and fretfulness should never cross the threshold, throwing their large, black shapes, like funeral pall, over the happy young spirits gathered there. If you will, you shall sit on a throne and be the presiding household deity. Oh! faithful wife, what privileges, what treasures greater or purer than thine.

And let the husband strive to forget his cares as he winds around the long narrow street, and behold the soft light illuminating his little parlor, spreading its precious beams on the red pavement before it. He has been harassed, perplexed, persecuted. He has born with many a cruel tone, many a cold word, and nerved himself up to an angry so desperate that his frame and spirits are weakened and depressed. And now his limbs ache with pain—heat caused by too constant application. He scarcely knows how to meet his wife with a pleasant smile, or sit down cheerfully to their little meal, which she has provided with so much care.

But the door is opened—the overcoat thrown hastily off. A sweet singing voice falls upon his ear, and the tones are so soft and glad that hope, like a winged angel, flies right into his bosom and nestles against his heart.

A home where gloom is banished—presided over by one who has learned to rule her household. Oh! he is thrice consoled for all his trials. It is impossible he can be unhappy.

That sweetest, best, dearest solace is his—a cheerful home. Do you wonder that the man is strengthened anew for to-morrow's care?

YEAR OF CARNAGE.

The past year has been one of bloodshed and carnage. Men and innocent children have been murdered by the tens of thousands, but yet Christianity is advancing, is rolling on and it is going to warm the hearts of all nations and all nations will bask in its light. Men may shut the window blinds so they cannot see it, or they may smoke the pipe of speculation until they are shadowed under their own vaporing; but the white light of the gospel made up of all the beautiful colors of earth and heaven, violet plucked from amid the spring grass, the indigo of the southern jungles, the blue of the skies, the green of the foliage and the yellow of the autumn woods, the orange of the southern groves and the red of the sunsets, all the beauties of earth and heaven are combined to keep the ball of Christianity rolling. Great Britain is going to lead all Europe to the foot of the cross; the United States is going to bring all America to God; these two great countries will combine and take Asia for God and then the three with their combined strength will bring Africa into the fold and the world will be redeemed. The good homes of our land are the little yeast cakes that keep the moral influences working. Infidelity and atheism are receiving their death blow from clubs in the hands of the good mothers of our land.

THE MOTHERS OF THE WORLD.

The first mother of whom we have any knowledge was the mother of Cain and Abel, the much abused Eve, who has been held responsible for so much of the trouble that exists in the world. It is written that Eve was created after Adam, so woman has always occupied a second place in the management of the world's affairs. Yet Eve must have possessed superior mental qualities or she could never have led Adam into such evil ways, and the circumstances attending Eve's unhappy interview with Adam all point to the fact that Eve was mentally Adam's superior.

Notwithstanding the fact that in the beginning woman was second in the race, it has been demonstrated beyond cavil that mother love is the holiest purest passion of the human heart. The mother instinct is almost supernatural. Even the brute mother will fight for her offspring and when the light dies out of the mother's eye, no other eye, save the eye of Omnipotence will ever follow the child in all his wanderings as she has done.

Hotelman Fined.

John Connolly, Liquor License Inspector for Renfrew county, has just secured in Renfrew Police Court his first conviction of illegal liquor selling by a standard hotel. A Northern Ontario man who recently purchased a Cobden hotel began to sell liquor to all comers in defiance of the Ontario temperance act. The inspector heard of it, and summoned the offender before Police Magistrate Devine. The evidence for the prosecutor clearly established the hotelman's guilt, and a fine of $200 with costs was imposed.

D. A. Nesbitt, B.A., School Inspector for Lennox and Addington, died at his home in Nanawau of hardening of the arteries.

The Woodstock Young Women's Christian Association has purchased the new Dufferin Hotel and a barn adjoining for $3,500.

To Keep up the Butter Supply.

No. 1.—C. P. R. Demonstration Farm.
No. 2.—Milkmaid Dairy Cows.
No. 3.—Scientific Buttermaking.

GIVE us this day our daily butter. With the price of this commodity soaring to points that may almost be described as famine figures, every housekeeper or provider now feels a personal interest in the source of butter supply, and in what is being done to meet the world shortage which exists.

The Western Provinces of Canada, with their immense free grazing areas, naturally afford a natural field for the dairy industry, but here an unforeseen problem has arisen. The high price of wheat and other grains is rapidly making the farmers independent, and when a man can get $50 to $60 an acre for his wheat crop he is not disposed to milk cows, no matter how loudly city folk may clamour for milk and butter. The same applies to farm labor; general prosperity and high wages have enabled the laborer to select the work he prefers, and there is a dearth of dairy help as a consequence.

Offsetting these conditions, to some extent at least, are the state-manlike provisions made by the various governments for the encouragement of dairying. This is being done by assisting with the financing of creameries and cheese factories, by government supervision and grading, which has greatly improved the quality of the butter produced, and by a government system of marketing, which secures for the small producer the same advantages as are enjoyed by his competitor who manufactures on a large scale.

As far back as 1914 the Saskatchewan dairy branch adopted the system of grading each churning of butter made at the co-operative creameries, and this practice has since been closely followed. During the past season four grading depots have been operated in different parts of the province, where cold storage facilities were available and every creamery in the province was given the privilege of having its butter graded. Almost all of them took advantage of the opportunity.

The Canadian Pacific and other railroads as well operate a cool car on each of their lines once every week, and after being churned the butter is held in the refrigerator at the creamery until it is then shipped to the grading depot, where one or more samples from each churning is carefully examined by one of the expert graders employed by the dairy branch. This expert makes out three score cards, one of which is sent to the creamery where the butter was made; another is sent to the provincial dairy commissioner, and the third is kept at the grading depot.

All butter scoring 39 points in flavor, out of a possible 45, and having a total score of 92 or over, is classed as No. 1. Butter scoring less than 39 for flavor and with a total score between 87 and 92 is classed as No. 2, and that scoring less than 87 is classed No. 3. Space is reserved on the score cards for remarks and the grader uses this to point out defects and also to make suggestions for improvement. This constant check has the effect of making the buttermakers more careful as to details and results in better work being done than if the creameries were visited occasionally by an inspector. It also tends to the butter more uniform in grade, a feature which is worth much when the marketing is considered.

During the past season sixteen co-operative creameries have been operated by the Saskatchewan dairy branch, and in addition the branch offered to grade and market butter for any private creamery. The offer was taken advantage of by practically all the creameries in the province. In this way there was a uniform price as well as a uniform grade maintained in all parts of the province.

Ever since the grading system has been established the utmost care has been exercised by the graders as well as the dairy branch to maintain the high standards that were first set, with the result that buyers on the Pacific coast, where most of the butter was marketed, now demand a grade certificate and willingly pay more for butter thus accompanied. Altogether the system has been a big factor toward improving the quality of the butter, for which also a much higher price has been obtained. Notwithstanding the fact that butter-making is very profitable, the supply continues to be less than the demand. While wealth is being quickly made by the grain farmers, the governments are alive to the fact that all permanent agriculture must include livestock and dairying, and as far as the departments of agriculture are able to influence production, farmers are being encouraged to increase their output of butter. The whole situation, however, points to continued high prices for butter.

The Sort of "Homes" Some Men Are Defending.

From one congested quarter in London, 3,300 men have gone to the war. A writer quoted in Public Opinion, of London, gives a pen picture of the sort of "homes" from which these men went. Here is a typical home: The tenant pays £26 a year for five rooms; he keeps the two ground-floor rooms for himself, and lets the other two upstairs one of the two that he has for himself is at the back, is very small, and is so dark that artificial light is necessary there all day. His family consists of wife and eight children, and his wife's brother, a boy of about seventeen years. These eleven people sleep in these two small rooms. The houses generally in the court are rat-ridden, the rooms are dark, and the whole place is dirty, and it seems to me impossible that they can be made fit to live in. Yet some fifteen soldiers—three in the Rifles, three in the Fusiliers, one in the Engineers, one in the Gordons, one in the Devonshires, one in the Middlesex, one in the 17th London, and one in the City of London Regiment—are compelled by their circumstances to call this place their home!

Since the war began a total of 53,122 British officers have been lost.

How the World is Divided.

The area in square miles of territory under the flags of the Allies is over 29,000,000. The territory under the flags of Germany and the countries allied with her covers only 2,960,000 square miles. The territory under Allied flags exceeds that under the flags of all other countries, belligerent and neutral combined.

Germany may aim at "world power," but the way thereto appears to be longer than that to Tipperary.

NOTED MUSICIAN OF MONTREAL

Advices The Use Of "FRUIT-A-TIVES",
The Famous Fruit Medicine.

MR. ROSENBERG
589 Casgrain St., Montreal.
April 20th, 1915.

"In my opinion, no other medicine in the world is so curative for Constipation and Indigestion as 'Fruit-a-tives'. I was a sufferer from these complaints for five years, and my sedentary occupation, Music, brought about a kind of Intestinal Paralysis—with nasty Headaches, belching gas, drowsiness after eating, and Pain in the Back. I tried pills and medicines of physicians, but nothing helped me. Then I was induced to try 'Fruit-a-tives', and now for six months I have been entirely well.

I advise any one who suffers from that horrible trouble—Chronic Constipation with the resultant indigestion, to try 'Fruit-a-tives', and you will be agreeably surprised at the great benefit you will receive". A. ROSENBERG.

CARE WITH ELECTRICITY.

Extreme Caution Should Be Used in Handling All Fixtures.

"Electricians think nothing of touching with their fingers a 110 volt or 220 volt A. C. or D. C. switch to ascertain whether it is alive or not," says the Electrical Experimenter. "On the other hand it is claimed in a number of authentic cases on record that 110 volts, such as is used for ordinary lighting circuits, has sufficed to produce fatal results to a human being. Therefore it behooves every one to take the utmost care in handling electrical apparatus of any nature, no matter whether it is a small toaster or an innocent looking electric light switch or the push button variety.

"A good point to keep in mind would be to exercise extreme caution in manipulating all lamps, switches, etc., during or directly after a severe storm, which may have blown down high voltage wires so as to cause them to drop across low tension wires supplying house circuits.

"Those having electric lights in their homes should always exercise the greatest care in manipulating any of the devices connected to such service. In the bathroom especially they should never touch the socket or wall switch while standing in the bathtub or with wet feet on a floor where there is any water, as these accidents happen at the most unexpected moment. They are practically immune from danger if they would just take the trouble to see that they always stand on a dry floor."
