Report shows some brutality in Ireland

LONDON (CUPI-LNS) --A report released here Monday (Nov. 8) indicates that prisoners being detained in jails in Northern Ireland have suffered "savage beatings" and torture following the imposition of a government act that allows internment without charge or trial.

Anmesty International, a private organization that acts on the behalf of political prisoners around the world issued the report following investigations it has conducted in Ulster since the passage of the internment bill, Aug. 9.

techniques to break the will."

Much of the material in the report was gathered by Denis Faul who has served as a one-man investigation commission in Northern Ireland since the passage of the law.

Among the experiences of those detained under the law are the following: "...after about two hours I was interrogated by two Special Branch men whom I didn't recognize. They asked me about the

"I was thrown into a lorry and taken to Paulett Avenue. They called me a 'Catholic bastard' They said, 'You'll need more than your medals and the Virgin Mary to save you now.'

"Later I was taken by four military policemen along with four other prisoners. I was forced to run over broken glass and rough stones without shoes to a helicopter. I spent only 15 seconds in the helicopter and then I was pushed out into the hands of military police-

"I was forced to crawl between these policemen back to the building. They kicked me on the hands, legs, ribs and kidney area. All the time they kept saying things like, 'You are good Catholic dogs and we are your masters . . ."

A few days later a SUB employee was fired without due notice being given, adding considerable fuel to the union fire. The dispute then raged on until September 14 when Mc-Kenzie surprised all those present at a student council meeting by announcing that he was reversing his stand. Council supported his recommendation that the appeal be withdrawn.
