

March 30th 1931

Dear Mr. Meighen - When you were good enough to take some interest in my case last June, I never could have thought my place would have remained in my hands so long as April 1st.

That seems the extreme limit now. As you may suppose I have thought and acted on every possible line.

A Credit of $10,000 in the Bank of Montreal would clean up all arrears and enable me to carry on the farm ^{properly} ~~with~~ credit for the next two years. In that time I feel sure an honorable bargain can be arrived at for the half of my place.
