

You Always Pay Too Much When You Pay Too Little.

Paradoxical but true.
Particularly true when buying Groceries.
Nearly every article of eatables can be adulterated.

Many of them often are.
Constant vigilance is required to keep undesirable goods from creeping into a grocery stock.

One of the most persistent sinners is Canned Goods. Thousands and thousands of dozens of them are put up every year.

Seconds.

Somebody sells them.
Somebody buys them.
Somebody eats them.

This grade of canned goods is pretty common, but this store never sold a can of it to a customer in its life, and it never will.

THE CORNER HARDWARE.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS TORONTO.

With a run of cattle approximating 3500 head or to be absolutely correct, 3446 all told, trading at the Union Stock Yards Exchange yesterday was 20c per cwt. off on all classes of cattle from last week. There was a fair percentage of good cattle, but the full trade was slow and from 25c to 50c lower. Butcher cows were about steady with a good inquiry for stockers and feeders for grazing purposes, with a good inquiry also for thin young cows.

While the quality of the cattle generally speaking was not so good as that of last Monday there were about as good lots as a man would want to see and for these good prices were realized, tho as stated, the market was off to the extent quoted. There were some who were strong in the opinion that the decline was more marked than that stated by the world, but on the whole we do not think that his was borne out by the facts. Some good loads of butcher steers and heifers showed little decline by comparison with last week and held over cattle went out yesterday at prices finally, on a par with the close of the week.

Trading in the early hours of the market was slow, very slow, and at no time thru the day could it be called active, but for all that there was a good cleanup considering the run. Along about noon the cattle began to go out more freely, and from that time on things moved along pretty well. A glance over the list of representative sales, together with the prices paid by the representatives of the big packing houses, will give an absolutely correct idea of what kind of a market we had on the Union Stock Exchange yesterday. Opinions may differ as they always will, but the figures quoted speak for themselves, the outlook for the balance of the week is for steady prices.

The market for sheep, lambs and calves was steady to strong, but calves were weaker, a large proportion of the offerings being of very inferior quality, and for these the market was away off. Anything good sold steady, but the run was very light.

The run of hogs was not a heavy one, 1879 head altogether, and the price held steady at $20.75 fed and watered, with one deck at $21, fed and watered.

Your Untapped Trees.

"If you had fifty cows and they all gave good marketable money-saving milk," said Mr. H. J. Gihm, addressing the Pure Maple Sugar Association, "you surely would not be content to milk only twenty-five of them and let the others go to waste, would you? And yet your untapped sugar maple trees are just like those imaginary unmilked cows. There is money in them only waiting to be brought out and put in the bank. Maple sugar is the quickest money making harvest in all your business of farming. It is all harvest, and what is more the harvest is quickly turned into real money."

An exchange says that one trouble with this world is that there are too many people who will not cast their bread upon the waters unless they are assured that it will come back to them in a few days a full-grown sandwich all trimmed with ham, butter and mustard.

Quebec Province has some strong advocates of compulsory education, who are giving the public an analysis of the condition that prevail in that province. It is said that of 160,000 children in Montreal, only 83,703 attended school, and only 22,378 know anything of long division, Canadian history and geography. The children went to work too early, and criminal returns for juveniles showed the majority of delinquents were not attending school.

Premier Lloyd George gives assurance that reinforcements in men and guns are either in France or on their way. Probably men and guns are being rushed up from all quarters. Being committed to the great stroke, Hindenburg will not give up easily. At Verdun the Germans kept on attacking for four months, with enormous losses, and quit only when the British offensive on the Somme began. This time it is neck or nothing with Hindenburg, and the Allies have to guard against even more tremendous follow-up blows.

We have been enjoying some delightful spring weather of late; and still old Groucher won't let people bask contentedly in it. He shakes his head dismally and croaks: "Oh, we'll pay for this yet, all right; March come in like a lam' I never seen it fail; them thunder and lightning storms means a late spring, and there was three circles 'round the moon last month." And so the exasperating old kill-joy wheezes along until listeners commence to shiver and cuddle up to the stove.

Kinardine had a visit from G. T. R. railway officials a few days ago. The Reporter says that in conversation with Supt. Fish he pointed out that the present service was by order of the railway board. He did not know how long it would last. He realized the inconvenience the branches affected were having to put up with. He trusted that this would be overcome shortly and the old service restored.
