Very touching reference was made on Sunday evening last, by the Rev. T. C. Mellor in St. James' Church, Kentville, to the death of Clifton Hiltz, "killed in action" somewhere in France. He spoke of the sterling character of "Cliff," as a boy, as a young man, and in business, of his bit for the Empire, of his willingness to lay down his life for Home and Liberty, that we may enjoy them. He has made the supreme sacrifice. "All men must die, it is given to few to die for their country."
