Philadelphia, July 20.—The war of the rival tongs in Chinatown broke out afresh yesterday, and resulted in the murder of one Chinese and the murder of one Chinese and the mot only his old friends of the South out of the South injury of two white men who were passing at the time. The dead men was Lee Chit, proprietor of a restaurant at No. 917 Race street, one of the ant at No. 917 Race street, one of the most prominent Chinese in the colony. The injured men were Max Soble, of No. 305 Grange avenue, Olney, shot in the right thigh, and Abram Dunnam, of No. 265 North Twelfth street, who had a bullet wound in the hand. The dying and injured men were rushed to the Hahnemann Hospital, where Chit died without being able to make a statement.

A young Americanized Chinese, giving his name as George Lee, 24 years old, was locked up after the shooting by Sixth district policeman, charged with the murder. Twelve witnesses rounded up by the police declared to Lieutenant Barry, of the Sixth district, that they had seen Lee fire the shots which killed Chit and wounded the two white men. They said they saw him run across They said they saw him run across the street and into a house at No. 922 Race street, into which Policemen Hugh Reilly, Casey and Bond broke and arrested him a few minutes later, In broken English Lee asserted his innecesse and when taken to the stannocence, and when taken to the station house told the lieutenant that his home was at No. 323 South Clark street, where he claims to be a mission worker. Rev. Frederic Poole and other mission-workers deny that Lee is known to them as connected with any religlous work or institution and declare that they would probably be aware of the fact were Lee interested in that line of work. Although Dr. Poole said that the shooting in his opinion had its origin in a personal grudge between the two principals, he also said the house in which Lee was Lee was caught was known as the headquarters of the On Leong Tongs. Lieutenant Barry also expressed the belief that the murder was the outcome of a private quarrel, but admitted the on Chit by members of one

Chinatown was in an unusually quiet state yesterday, shortly after 2 o'clock, when a good-looking Chinese, attired in clothes of the latest American cut, and wearing a brown felt hat, was seen to run hastily out of the store at 923 Race street and rush toward Lee Chr, who was pacing the pavement in front of his restaurant, at 917 Race street. When he was within ten feet of Chit the assailant Without turning to face the man, Chit staggered forward and walked to to the restaurant. As he fell into a chair he faced about and Lee who was at his heels, again fired. He missed, and the bullet struck Max Soble in the right thigh. As the latter fell Lee fired rapidly at Chit. One bullet struck the Chinese in the abdomen, while another, striking the fleshy part of the body, passed through and struck was passing at the time. in the right hand. A fifth bullet went wild and struce a window in Flanagan's pawnshop, at the southeast corner of Ninth and Race streets.

The shooting having scared off all spectators, Lee, unopposed by anyone, dashed across Race street and through the side doorway of 992. New York, July 20 .- A ball of light ning dropped into the middle of a crowded pavilion at Highland Park, East New Yord, at the height of the storm yesterday afternoon, painfully injured eight persons and scared nearly 400 others, Florence Koenig, of 28 Ashford street, Williamsburg, was so severely shocked that she is now in Bushwick Hospital, partially paralyzed and in danger of

The parishioners of Zion German Evangelical Church, which is at Liberty avenue and Bradford street, Wildhand burg, had gone on a picnic to Highland Park early in the day. There were between four and five hundred of them. When the storm popped up they took refuge on the floor of a pavilion about 400 feet square which is in the picnic grounds.

The thunder grew nearer and many became terrified at the repeated flashes of lightning and edged away from the open sides of the flimsy house in which they were collected. Suddenly there was a particularly bright flash and those near the east side of the building saw a glowing hall of fire slided over saw a glowing ball of fire slide down the branches of a tree. It struck a tele-phone wire leading from the tree to the pavilion and like a conjurer's ball on a string the electric globe slipped down the wire, through the side of the build ing and out through the side of the building and out through the mouth-piece of a telephone instrument.

It dropped onto the pavilion floor almost in the midst of the huddled persons and apparently rolled along the sons and apparently rolled along the floor for about ten feet, leaving a trai of smoke. Then while the picnickers fell to right and left to avoid it the ball of blue flame exploded with a heavy report.

Two dozen persons were thrown from their feet by the explosion. When they scrambled up again eight persons were lying where the electric ball had exploded. Policeman Mechan, of the Liberty avenue station, who ran to Florence Koenig, said afterward that as he picked her up from the floor he felt a shock through his whole body and he saw that the unconscious girl's hair was standing straight out from her head.

All of the others who were unable to rise were conscious and suffering nothing more serious than slight pin prick burns and temporary paralysis of their muscles. A surgeon from the Bushwick Hospital hurried the Koenig girl away in the ambulance. To others injured he gave temporary relief on the spot and they were able to go to their homes. At the hospital it was found that Miss Koenig was suffering from complete paralysis of the legs and back and that she had lost the power of speech.

Several persons who were standing near Miss Koenig at the time the fire ball burst had narrow escapes. Mrs. George Schmid, the wife of the rector of the church, who was holding her baby, George Schmid, jun., was thrown to the floor and slightly shocked, although her baby did not seem to have fall the current. Witnesses said the globe of lightning was "as big as a small football."

NAVAL SCIENCE REACHES HIGH STATE OF PERFECTION.

Greatest Armada the World Has Ever Seen Assembles for British Naval Manoeuvres-Defence Controlled by Wireless Telegraphy.

London, July 20.-Th e British naval manoeuvres which began in the North Sea to-day mark the supreme achievement of naval science. The 315 warships participating comprise the greatest armada the world has ever seen. Theoretical war was declared to-day. The general scheme is that the Chan-nel Fleet, under Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, shall attack Great Britain, while the Home Fleet and of the Atlantic Fleet, und Admiral Sir Francis Bridgeman, seeks to repel the enemy.

A new era is introduced in naval warfare by the fact that the general direc-tion of the defence will be entirely con-trolled by the Admiralty Board in London by means of wireless telegraphy. Recent experiments have brought the Government's wireless facilities for this purpose to a marvelous degree of perfec-tion. The scene of operations is 300 or 400 miles from London, but comor 400 miles from London, but communication is rapid and accurate with all the ships of the fleet.

Woman Went Beyond the Veil and Came Back Again.

"Do Not Fear to Die." Says Weman Who Was "Dead."

Was In Beautiful Place-Spoke to Her Dead Mother.

New Britain, Conn., July 20 .- To all appearance Mrs. William McNulty was dead for one hour. This is admitted even by her physician, Dr. Thomas Mulligan, a hard-headed, unemotional person who seeks only scientific facts. He says hers was a remarkable case of suspended animation; the more remarkable because while her body seemed to have become but a shell of clay, her mind was active.

"Oh, I have been far away," she sighed, when speech was restored to her. "Do not be afraid to die: I have never experienced such a blessed sensation."

Psychologists, spiritualists, those who seek to raise the veil from what has been the unknowable, can study these facts:

Mrs. McNulty, about 60 years old, is her family and her home, her friends and neighbors esteem her highly. She has been ill. While seated in a chair she bcame unconscious; her family, intensely alarmed, hurried a messenger for Dr.

Mulligan, who has been treating her.
On examination the physician found that she had ceased to breathe. He detected a faint pulse at her wrist, but quickly that disappeared; her heart had stopped beating; seemingly she was dead. Her mourning family began to arrange for the funeral.

But Dr. Mulligan was not perfectly convinced that he had lost his patient. that he had lost his patient. He sent for his electric battery and applied a very strong current to the apparently lifeless woman.

Seventy minutes had passed since she had lost consciousness, when the muscles of her neck twitched slightly. Dr. Mulligan continued to apply the cur-rent; in five minutes more Mrs. McNulty made a deep inhalation, then breathed faintly, but regularly; then she regained nsciousness. Mrs. McNulty was asked where she had been and whom she had seen. She answered quite rationally that she had seen many people, some old, some young, among them her mother and a relative who had been dead 30 years.
