

RHEUMATISM ARRESTED

Many people suffer the tortures of lame muscles and stiffened joints because of impurities in the blood, and each succeeding attack seems more acute until rheumatism has invaded the whole system.

To arrest rheumatism it is quite as important to improve your general health as to purify your blood, and the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is nature's great blood-maker, while its medicinal nourishment strengthens the organs to expel the impurities and rebuild your strength.

Scott's Emulsion is helping thousands everywhere who could not find other relief. Refuse the alcoholic substitutes.

DR. E. A. SMITH FOR WESTMORLAND

In the election for the local house in Westmorland Co., caused by the retirement of Hon. John Morrissey the electors yesterday chose Dr. E. A. Smith as their representative as against P. J. Mahoney, the Conservative candidate. The fight was a bitter one, both sides bringing their heavy guns to bear on the contest. Dr. Smith's majority was 83.

There was speech-making last evening in part of the Brunswick Hotel in Moncton despite a heavy down pour of rain. Dr. Smith thanked the electors for their hearty endorsement, and several other speakers reviewed the events of the campaign and rejoiced in the verdict of the people.

Military Enquiry Concluded

The Board of Enquiry investigating the recent disturbance at Perth, where soldiers of the 140th Battalion did considerable damage at an hotel owned by B. R. Green, concluded its session at Fredericton on Thursday. Lieut. Col. G. W. Fowler was the president of the Board, the other members being Lieut. Col. P. A. Guthrie and Capt. J. H. Evans, and their decision will not be announced until it is submitted to headquarters.

CARVELL AND SMITH MEET

Carvell had hardly got started again when Titus Carter broke in with a question: "What about the Kitchen contract?" Titus Carter was just as unfortunate as "Bill" Humphrey. Carvell turned, and called out: "Here comes Titus Carter. He asks about the Kitchen contract. I made one man retract and apologize for saying in his newspaper that I was interested in the Kitchen contract, and if you, Titus Carter, or any other man, will make a statement similar to that published in the Woodstock Press at that time, I'll have you arrested just as I had the editor of that paper arrested."

Titus Carter subsided, and the crowd howled with delight.

Then it was that Mr. Carvell dealt with Smith's denial of tremendous profit in the purchase and sorting of the patriotic potatoes. Smith got excited, so did Dr. Price, and their friend, Rev. C. S. Bulloch. But Mr. Carvell with the auditor's reports for 1914 and 1915 in his hand, charged Smith and A. C. Smith with handling $104,000 of the patriotic potato fund and there was not a line or item in the auditor's report to show that B. Frank Smith had paid back one cent, as he claimed he had.

"There's the report of the auditor-general," shouted Carvell amid the wild cheering of the crowd. "Look for yourself," and he held the book close to Smith, and then turned the pages to the vast crowd. "Any one of you can see for yourself. Don't take my word for it."

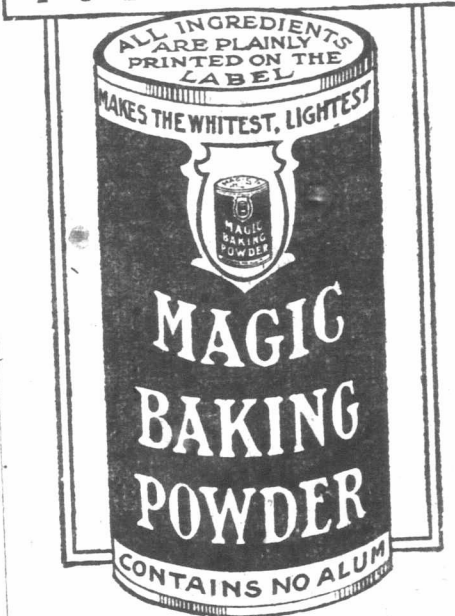

The scene that followed reminded one much of the famous rink meeting at Sussex, when Carvell met George W. Fowler in 1908 and with the evidence of the Foresters Insurance Commission in his hand demanded that Fowler read a portion of the testimony concerning his connection with the transaction. Fowler refused, and the meeting broke up.

The meeting yesterday did not last long after this incident. The chairman kept every speaker to his time and the agreement, and B. Frank's plea for "ten minutes" was not entertained. Hon. Speaker Melanson shouted many angry interruptions as Carvell was making his reply, and in doing so, or being present at all, paraded his high office and himself in a way to cause much unfavorable comment.

Another incident that caused much surprise was the presence of Rev. Captain C. S. Balloch on this political platform. It will be remembered that this is the Yankee who was in the American Legion at Toronto and who took occasion to try and connect F. B. Carvell with improperly employing a man named Rogers to get information from private documents for the fuse investigation. The story was false from first to last.

It was Carvell's meeting from the moment he began to speak. He attempted no flowery presentation of his case, but was relentless in his presentation of his case to the listening electors. With the documentary proofs in his hand he drove every argument home. The political crimes of the government, the wholesale graft in the Valley railway, the pilfering overcharges in connection with New Brunswick patriotic and loyal gift to the Motherland, were all dealt with in pitiless fashion. Carvell forthrightly answered to everything—the sins of the government put out of power by the people in 1908—and gave his answer in advance, that the people were not trying the old government but the present administration, that no man or men in private or public life could excuse his crimes against his fellowman or the state by pleading that some one had done a similar wrong years ago.

If ever there was a time for an expression of opinion from the electorate, said Mr. Carvell, it was today. He referred to the charges made two years ago by Mr. Dugal against Hon. Mr. Fleming. He was not going into the details. When these investigations were started Mr. Carvell was painted as the natural born enemy of honest men, yet he had proved that $75,000 of your money was taken for a campaign fund. He, Carvell, received commendation as well as condemnation in connection with the inquiry. He believed that Carleton Conservatives, while they nominated Fleming would not run him. He said he was justified in saying they took $75,000 from this province which they had no right to take and in so doing violated a public trust.

Mr. Carvell next discussed the St. John Valley railway and reviewed the agreement between the dominion and provincial governments. The provincial government he said has broken faith with the people. They have no intention of building that road beyond Centreville. Mr. Sumner, of Moncton, told me that they did not intend to build the road beyond Centreville. If he is in this audience, let him speak up and deny that. (Pause and no response). Mr. Carvell said the people of Westmorland are as much interested in the Valley railway as they are in Carleton. After this year the people will have to pay a quarter of a million dollars interest on the Valley railway bonds.

Mr. Carvell next referred to the affidavit by H. M. Blair, printed in the St. John Telegraph. Mr. Blair, he said, had been one of them, the bone and sinew of the Conservative organization in York.

He then spoke of the purchase of patriotic potatoes by Mr. Smith, who, he said got about $4,500 as a profit for handling the potatoes. Mr. Dugal had asked question after question and got no information. After a long while information regarding the transaction was obtained. Mr. Smith got ten cents a barrel on the potatoes. Mr. Daggett says Mr. Smith paid back $2,400. According to the ethics of the government, so long as a man pays it back when he is caught he is all right before the world. (Laughter and applause). It does not seem to make much difference what these gentlemen do so long as they pay it back. He wanted the electors of Westmorland to draw their own conclusions.

When the opposition comes into power, which would be after the next election (applause and cheers)—things will be different, said Mr. Carvell.

Smith's speech was a repetition of that made at Dorchester a few nights ago. He took up much time defending the potato transaction, but he labors more every time he does so, for there is much unbelief in the faces of his audience. The profit on the people's gift to the empire is a sore subject with many Conservatives, and the Liberals condemn it in unmeasured terms. Referring to the Fleming charges, Smith said, amid much laughter, that he would not say Fleming did what was right: "A few of you may laugh. I am not here to preach he did right." Mr. Smith went on to say that Mr. Fleming, however, had done more for the province of New Brunswick in one year than Mr. Carvell had done during all the years of his life, and contended that the province now had the best administration since the days of Confederation.

During his speech Mr. Carvell paid a warm and earnest tribute to the work done by Messrs. Dugal and Pelletier, the two opposition members and Messrs. E. S. Carter and P. J. Veniot. They were entitled to great praise from the people, who should be grateful for the services they had rendered.

In his reply to Smith, Mr. Carvell dealt quickly with Smith's weak "old government" arguments, and advised the audience that he had told them what Smith would say. He then dealt with the patriotic potatoes, and W. F. Humphrey and Titus Carter, as noted above.

Mr. Dugal made an impressive speech in his native tongue. He was attentively listened to and the French-speaking people were delighted with his eloquence.

Gin Pills FOR THE KIDNEYS

What They Have Done

"I suffered a great many years with kidney trouble; tried several remedies, and also doctors' medicine, with no result. Two years ago I read an ad. in a newspaper of 'GIN PILLS FOR THE KIDNEYS,' and sent for two boxes. They did me more good than all the medicine I had ever taken. After I used the first two I sent for two more boxes, and I am satisfied, and also know, that Gin Pills are the best kidney remedy made. I used to have to rise three or four times in the night; now I can sleep and don't have to get up at all, thanks to GIN PILLS. Am seventy-two years old."

Royal Purple Chick Feed

In introducing the Chick Feed we might state that nearly all young chicks that die do so from indigestion caused by improper feeding. A young chick should not have anything but the purest kind of grain to eat. Musty or culled grain does not agree with them. We make our Chick Feed from the best and purest grains we can buy. For instance the corn we use is over a year old. It is necessary for us to use this, as new corn will heat. In preparing the wheat, Kaffir corn and ordinary corn, we run it through a machine which cracks these seeds and we blow off the bran and dust, which leaves only the pure crystal particle for the chicks to eat. We know there are cheaper Chick Feeds on the market, but we also know that it is impossible for any person to sell the high quality Chick Feed we put up at less price than we do if they use the proper grains and prepare them properly. In using our Chick Feed you will have no difficulty in raising your chicks or turkeys, and the loss of a few birds will make up the difference in cost of feed many times over. Our Chick Feed is made "up to standard" the same as all other Royal Purple preparations.

We put up this Chick Feed in 6-lb. packages for 25c.
