Canadian Products And Sales

Reference has been made a year ago to the fact that Canadian exports now consist chiefly of manufactured goods, instead of agricultural produce as used to be the case.

It is shown that at the end of the fiscal year 1919 Canada's foreign trade had reached the position where manufactured articles represented 45 per cent. of the total exports, and agricultural products only 22 per cent.

Of course, the figures of exports to, or, in other words, of Canadian sales to other countries, represent only a part of the case.

What is the consumption at home? In other words, although we sell abroad more of manufactured goods than we do of farm produce, is it not possible that we use in Canada more of our own farm products than we do of the goods which we manufacture?

The development of both agriculture and manufacture in Canada during the past ten years has been astounding.

In the year 1910, the total output of Canadian manufactures was $1,165,975,000. Last year the output was $3,451,000,000.

The agricultural production of Canada last year was $1,975,000,000, as against only $663,000,000 in 1910.

This is something which the people of this country may well feel a great pride in; and the people may proportionately hesitate to disturb the tariff conditions under which this tremendous development has taken place.

In Canadian manufacturing industries there are employed about a third more people than were so employed before the war, and not less than 2,000,000 people or nearly a fourth of the total population of the country, are directly or indirectly dependent upon manufacturing industries for their living.

In the opinion of the New York Bankers Trust Company the rate of acceleration in Canadian manufactures is abnormal, having been greatly stimulated by the need of munitions and military supplies during the war years.

But it is convinced that industrial expansion in Canada must continue because natural conditions are favorable to it.

"The manufacturing industries of Canada," says the bulletin, "are firmly established upon the secure basis of ample supplies of the principal raw materials, of cheap water power, and of a high degree of mechanical and managing skill. The impetus given by the war necessities to manufacturing will not be lost but will prove to be one of the most important developments of the period."

Will it? Not if our fiscal and business conditions are upset by interference with the national protective policy.

Not if, instead of paying two or three thousand million dollars annually to our own manufacturers for goods made in this country, and to manufacturers who will spend the money in this country, we send the money to American manufacturers to be spent in the United States.

Uncle Sam's Navy

By getting prominent statesmen and world leaders to declare that they favor a truce in armament building, the New York World is engaged in praiseworthy attack upon the gigantic naval plans of its country.

It is noteworthy, however, that the statesmen and leaders whose names the World has thus far published, are all outside the United States.

It is important, of course, to get men like Lord Buckmaster in England to denounce further shipbuilding, but seeing that the United States is, so to speak, the aggressor, it would be much more vital to enlist the support of leading Americans like, for example, Mr. Joseph Daniels.

The truth is—there is no use in blinking facts—that the World's campaign has not a ghost of a chance to succeed. It is put forward by a newspaper which in the United States is the foremost champion of the League of Nations at a time when the league lies buried there under an avalanche of votes.

The curious thing is that this combative gesture originated with a party that has boasted of its anti-imperialism, whose traditional policy has been peace, retrenchment, and reform, and whose most distinguished figure today is Woodrow Wilson, a professed antagonist of war.

Theodore Roosevelt sent the American fleet around the world and was denounced as an apostle of war. Yet Roosevelt, although he never shunned a fight, never approached the size of the war-like proposals of Woodrow Wilson. It is a curious as well as illuminating sidelight upon the inconsistency of human nature.

Fat Years Versus Lean Ones

The following news despatch came by the Associated Press, Dec. 21:—

"Newburn, N. C., Dec. 31.—Salaries of the office force at the Newburn Iron Works and Supply Company were immediately reduced 10 per cent. yesterday when the plant was turned over to the wage-earning employees for operation on a profit-sharing basis.

The plant is one of the largest of its kind in this section of the state.

"Recently a 10 per cent. wage reduction was followed by a walk-out. The men returned, however, but when a second reduction of 10 per cent. was announced they conferred with the management and suggested that they be permitted to operate the plant and receive all profits above actual operating expenses. The plan was agreed to by the management."

The next chapter in the story came later by hardly more than a week. Despite the reduction in office expenses so promptly effected by the Labor management, the result on Dec. 28 is told by the Associated Press, thus:—

Newburn, N.C., Dec. 28.—"Employees of the Newburn Iron Works and Supply Company voted today to disregard the profit-sharing agreement recently entered into with the company and to go on strike. Pay received by the workers last week, the first under the new plan, which was based on profits of the concern above operating expenses, amounted to a reduction of 10 per cent. from the amount received the previous week."

The wage-earning force, put in control of the works, discovered what they did not previously believe, that the works are at present running at a loss. All industries do at times. Prosperous years must provide for unprosperous years. This illustrates why such a thing as a severe excess profits-tax is a mistake. It deprives business of the protection which a good year gives against a bad one.

Address And Presentation

A representative meeting of the Parishioners of St. Joseph's, Morell Rear, assembled at the Presbytery on December 17th for the purpose of expressing, in the most agreeable and tangible manner, a welcome to and an appreciation of their recently installed new pastor, Rev. Joseph Rooney. He was presented with a friendly address and a purse of $200.00. The Reverend Gentleman was taken quite unawares, but thanked most sincerely his friends and parishioners for their great kindness and consideration. The address was as follows:—

ADDRESS. Rev. Joseph Rooney, pastor St. Joseph's Church, Morell.

Rev. Dear Father:—Although only a comparative stranger in our midst we cannot allow the Christmas season to pass without offering you some small token of appreciation and remembrance. During the few months of your pastorate of St. Joseph's your zeal and unselfish devotion to duty; your generous hospitality to all whose pleasure it has been to become acquainted with you, and, in a general way your piety and untiring devotedness to every phase of your sacerdotal functions has endeared you to our hearts.

We therefore beg of you to accept this purse. Its contents will not enrich you, but the humble offering will serve in some measure as a tangible evidence of our love and good will.

In conclusion we beg to express our best wishes for a very Happy Christmas and to entertain the hope that health and happiness may be yours as pastor of St. Joseph's for many years to come.

The reverend recipient, as already stated, was taken altogether by surprise, but with very deep feeling expressed his heartfelt thanks to the parishioners of St. Joseph's for their kindness and generosity. He, of course, as a priest of the Diocese, was, as he had been in the army, subject to the orders of his superior officers. His duty is to obey the Bishop, so far as his field of labor is concerned. He goes where he is sent. At the same time it would be to him, he said, the greatest possible pleasure if it were the will of his ecclesiastical superiors to remain pastor of St. Joseph's for many, many years. After a friendly interchange of greetings the visitors departed highly delighted with what had taken place.

Forty bundles of rags, shipped by a New York bag company to a Chicago iron and metal concern, yielded forty cases of whiskey the other day when prohibition agents searched several railroad shipments. Prohibition agents at Chicago have been ordered to inspect all large bundles at every freight house.

Gold valued at $1,560,000, consigned to Kuhl, Loah & Company, arrived at New York on December 30th, on the steamship Kronland. This shipment has brought the firm's gold impores for 1920 up to approximately $50,000,000. The metal originally came from South Africa and was purchased in the London open market.

Canada led all other countries supplying the colony of Trinidad with foodstuffs in 1919, complete trade statistics for year which have been published show importation of foodstuffs from Canada of over three quarters of a million dollars greater value than in the previous year amounting to $4,205,000 as against $3,405,400. The bulk of this consisted of flour, salt and fish.

FEAST OF THE CIRCUMCISION.—On New Year's Day Solemn High Mass was celebrated in St. Dunstan's Cathedral. Rev. R. St. John was celebrant; Rev. James Rooney, deacon and Rev. W. V. McDonald sub-deacon. The preacher was his Lordship Bishop O'Leary. In the course of his discourse his Lordship reviewed matters ecclesiastical in the diocese for the year 1920. In conclusion he exhorted the faithful to renewed and increased zeal in the discharge of their religious obligations and extended to all best wishes for a happy New Year.

Now the Prices you've been waiting for are here

FOR OUR January Carnival of Economy

The old year took away, forever, we hope, the old burden of war prices. For months conditions have been working toward the great climax that brought the remarkable merchandise that is here assembled for this our greatest January Carnival of Economy.

The results came in two ways: 1st. The drastic lowering of prices on our own stocks, down to the new low basis, and often far below it—to double your interest in January buying in our store.

2nd. We have combed the markets—taking utmost advantage of the opportunities created by far sighted manufacturers who were ready to co-operate with us in presenting to you now the lowest prices that will be possible, for the next six months, at least.

We can just see the delight of our Customers when they see the splendid assortment of goods, in every department of our store, and then realize that prices are away down to the bottom, where it is a pleasure to buy things.

Many Manufacturers have ACCEPTED LARGE LOSSES. We shall forgo a large part of our profits on the new goods and accept large losses on our own mark-downs—to inaugurate this first New Year under the New Management and

THE MOST STIRRING JANUARY PRICE-UPSET THAT THIS COMMUNITY HAS EVER KNOWN.

No matter what you need or desire, now is the best time for months to come to buy it. Some of the reasons are told on this page; but scores of others are here that can get no mention today, even in this broad space.
