A CLIMSY TRAP.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.
Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, publican leader, in a statement to headed Germany's latest nota as climby trap, awkwardly set to induce us in diplomatic discussions, said it is an answer to all it could be with demands only for notional surrender. "It seems to unbelievable," said Senator Lodge, that anyone should be taken in by last German note. Of course all say about changing their Gov-ment is pure camouflage; there has no election in Germany. It is same forces and interests. They merely frightened and trying to sue the American people, trying sue by negotiations what they have in the field."

GUESSING AT REPLY.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.
Informal opinion as to the probable of the President covered a range, though it did not differ on great point that immediate peace not at hand, and that however since the German overture may be no negotiation will be agreed to, except unconditions of surrender that will deny for ever the power of the to use machine for harm. There was convinced that the enemy is bargaining now are merely a prelude to complete surrender in the future if the Allies hold firm to decisions to accept nothing less, guided by confidential diplomatic sources purporting to show that there has been a real political revolution in Germany and that the people involved are ready to throw out the ruler and all his war lords to get on.

WANT THE KAISER'S HEAD.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 22.

German provincial and socialist pan continue their campaign against the chief culprit responsible for the the Frankfurt Tages Post, of Nuremberg, the first paper in Germany to openly demand the abdication of the Emperor, declares that the action of the Crown Prince is entir-out of the question. The German people are searching for the gull's the Volks Zeitung, the organ of the Nuremberg socialists. The pan-German and junkers are silent to-day we do not forget they are the not we incite in Germany, that they remain the support of social and political reaction and that they are responsible for the future healthy development of the German empire. The German policy has gone bankrupt, it unfortunately it has led the German people to disaster. To the galvanism with the guilty whoever they be. The Socialist Arbeiter Zeitung, of Vienna, urges the German Government to punish the chief culprits of the war, adding that the German soldiers return home from the front after four years of unparal-led suffering there will be a reckoning for the people who have led them to this catastrophe. The German people will sweep away the junkers and take its own destiny into its own hands.

On Iron, Not Paper.

(From the Worcester Telegram) There is but one proper place to place peace terms—Berlin. The terms would be handed to the Germans by General Foch, accompanied by the remark:—Here is what you agree to and you will keep this agreement forever.

NOTICE.—Corres-are requested to accomcontributions with their NAMES, not necessarily publication, but as a of good faith. The edit-

On With the War.

Sir John Geddes, First Lord of the British Admiralty, who is now in Washington, went straight to the heart of all the talk of peace negotiations when he said in an interview:—

To get us all talking of peace and the time when arms will be grounded, is just what Germany wants. Imagine this kind of propaganda permeating a munitions factory. The men working there, who have always been kept up to the highest pitch of enthusiasm, suddenly weaken. They are told that peace is coming.
They look at a great gun and say: —This will not be finished for three months, and the war will be over in a few weeks, so what's the use of going ahead at such a pace? The soldier at the front who gets the notion that peace is coming soon and that Germany is about to collapse, loses his enthusiasm for war, he loses the will to win, which in a great cause like ours makes suffering and danger as nothing. When people lose their enthusiasm to win the war, they have lost the power to win.

We must not allow ourselves to be deceived by the German manoeuvres.
This is no time for letting up. It is the time to strike with renewed vigor.
The harder we strike the feeling but still formidable foe, the sooner will there be peace that will be right and durable. To strike to win now is the supreme duty. Victory is the way to real peace.—Halifax Chronicle.

Mother! If Child's Tongue Is Coated

If cross, feverish, constipated, bilious, stomach sour, give "California Syrup of Figs."

A laxative to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child, again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups.
Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle.
Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

Home-Coming of the Children.

(From the Boston Transcript.)

By troops from England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee, the gates of Cambrai were pushed open and the Allies' victorious road toward Valenciennes and the Belgian frontier is now being opened. Gallant and tireless fighting accomplished this, and the victory was won, as this examination of the constituent elements of the assailant force proves, by children of the old island stock scattered to the uttermost parts of the earth, but now reunited on the soil of France for a purpose wholly in harmony with the immortal will and sentiment of the mother races. The line of support of the Anglo-Saxon fighting in France is a pretty long one. It reaches from the shivery Shetlands through all the British Isles clear across the ocean to America; it spreads out to take in Canada and Texas, Alaska and Florida; it is led by men from New England and from Virginia and Carolina, with whom are joined the mingled recenter blood currents of the West; over across a-other ocean the far-flung lines goes then, taking in Hawaii and the Philippines on its way (we have many men from both island realms in the service to-day) and sweep down to the Antipodes to take in the lean hundreds of thousands from arid Australia and the comfortable progressive den-dens of New Zealand—a wonderful world-wide assembly, all imbued with the same idea, which is that of government by the people of the people and for the people.

'Kamerad.'

"Kamerad," we've heard you call us when your cartridges were gone.
Nearly gone—and when we answered then we died.
Running toward us over. No Man's Land with truce flags in the dawn.
Your grenades have torn us, then we know you led.

"Kamerad," you called to Russia, weary, weary, mute and blind, Peace? Peace-Litovsk you promised; pledged hard.
Till her armies were disbanded, for the trust of all mankind—Now your agents give her women to the Guard.

"For the safety of the many," you have crucified and burned.
"Filled with pity, scores of wounded Belgian men—
"For the safety of the many" German safety! We have learned, "Kamerad," to know you well; you taught us then.

Now an armistice and parley "that this cruel war may cease." While your bloody fingers play another card?
Full in range of all our rifles you shall have our terms, of peace, "Unconditional surrender," Kamerad!
—Thorvald S. Rosa, in the Boston Transcript.

WEARY WILLIE.

It is the royal Teuton, and wearily he speaks. "I started all this shootin'; hence tears upon my cheeks; oh, visions great and splendid I dreaming I attended; I thought I would be ended, with triumph, in six weeks. I thought my mighty legions would have a walk-away, and conquer all the regions that in their pathway lay; I thought 'twould be an outing, a time of glee and shouting, and I could do some spouting to big crowds every day. I saw myself in glory, upon a milk-white steed, while monarchs, whipped and gory, knelt in the dust to plead; four years I have been fighting, four years of war a fright-ing, and I find, at this writing, my dreams all gone to seed. The truth comes to me slowly—I have no chance to win, the truth is most unhol—your Wilhelm is all in; and all around this planet, wherever I may scan it, men's hearts are hard as granite, from hating me like sin. I have to take a whipping, the truth I plainly see; my hands are red and dripping, and none will pity me; oh, none will sigh in sorrow, if I am licked tomorrow, but some will want to borrow a long rope and a tree. Was ever monarch hated as I am hated now?
The crown is leaden rests upon my brow; the throne that once I treasured, the robes in which I pleased, now bring me grief unmeasured—I'd trade them for a cow.
For I am lone and friendless, a king without a chimney; loneliness is endless, for never friend will come; for all the world will hate me, detest me and berate me, until morticians crate me, when I am dead and dumb."

The Verdict Still Stands.

(From the New York Herald.)
After the sinking of the Lusitania a coroner's jury in the city of Queens, Ireland, brought in a verdict of murder against the Kaiser.
That preliminary finding is still valid in law, for the statute of limitations does not run in the case of a felony.
Of course this particular port, being the nearest centre to the scene of the crime, was the proper place for action. The captain of the submarine is reported to be dead. Admiral Von Tirpitz is discredited and out of office. But William II., whose agents acted the assassin, is still the director of the German Empire.
